FARM LABOR IN DEMAND IN WESTERN CANADA

Extraordinary Inducements Being Offered.

Previous articles have dealt with the necessity of producing extra quantitles of foods to feed the world during this stress of high consumption and paucity of production. Instead of the condition improving it is growing worse, and unless drastic and immediate action is taken, prices will continue to climb higher. It is hoped by the Canadian government that by offering extra inducements to secure a home stead of 160 acres of excellent land in the homesteading areas of Western Canada, with the combined effort of the farmer in extraordinary preparation of tillage and bigger wages than ever, that Western Canada, with the assistance of a Divine Providence, may produce a greater number of million acres of wheat than ever in the past. The farm laborer can now secure a homestead on easier conditions than ever before. All the time that he works for a Western Canadian farmer during 1917, after he makes his entry or filing will count as residence on his homestead for that year, leaving him but two additional years' residence, before getting title to a piece of land that should then be easily worth $1,600. The response to this offer has been wonderful, and hundreds have already taken advantage of It.

The climate of Western Canada is one that breeds energy, instils afe and buoyancy, and with the soil that the country possesses, no greater asset could be desired. The country is past the pioneering stage; its ability to grow all the smaller grains better than any other portion of the continent has been proven so often that it seems a waste of time to speak of it. The high name that has been given the country in the splendid class of live stock that it raises, has placed it in the high column with the best states of the Union. And then social conditions, something that every housewife asks about, are as nearly perfect as could be wished for. Thousands of miles of telephone line connect the remotest hamlet with the principal citles of the country and continent, miles of excellent graded roads, as well as the perfect natural roads of the prairie, make driving and hauling easy. Gridironed as these provinces are with railway lines bring the farm near to Atlantic or Pacific, or United States markets, rural mail delivery brings the settler still closer to the homes abroad. Rural do they do when a baby's born ?" and consolidated schools everywhere are easy adjuncts to the colleges and universities, which are said to be popped up and said, "They weigh it." among the best on the continent.

Taxation is light, and only applied on the farm land, cattle, implements, etc., on the farm being exempt. Many farmers, having realized sufficient from one crop of wheat to pay for their entire farm holdings, have installed their own electric light and heating plants, have their automobiles and many luxuries they would not have possessed on their old home abroad. Life is comfortable and existence enjoyable in Western Canada. In no country is there a greater per

Remember the "dose" mother insisted on-castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomor-

PRESIDENT'S WAR PROCLAMATION

Notification That War is on Flashed By Wireless to all Naval Vessels and Stations.

Washington .- Good Friday, of the year 1917, will be memorable in the history of this country, for at 18 minutes past 1 o'clock, President Wilson signed the joint resolution by which this country declares war with Germany. The instant Mr. Wilson's pen left the paper a messenger rushed from his office and gave the signal to the Navy Department. The next moment a telegram over the signature of the Secretary of the Navy was sent to every naval station and fleet commander in every part of the world where there is an American ship, announcing the declaration of war. This means, of course, that every American ship now has her decks cleared for action for the possibilities of meeting a German submarine or a German raider. The warships of the German Navy are assembled at Kiel. Defense against the enemy without and within was organized at once. The President and his Cabinet, at their first war meeting, went over war plans of a magnitude such as the United States, in all its history, has never known.

"Life insurance companies for some years past have paid very close attention to liquor as an insurance hazard. They have compiled figures, using hundreds of thousands of persons as a basis for computations. These prove that a man who does not drink will on the average live much longer than the man who drinks even moderately.

"Taking 2,000,000 policyholders as a test, insurance companies discovered that men who only occasionally 'got tight' suffered a death rate just onehalf greater than strictly temperance men. Among men who drink only two glasses of beer or one glass of whisky in a day the mortality was almost a fifth greater. Other men who drink more than that but still not enough to bar them from insurance companies, showed an appalling mortality of almost double that among men who were never introduced to John Barleycorn,"

DRINK AND MACHINERY.

Things have changed since the day when a man could drink and injure no one but himself and a few others, says the Kansas City Star in an editorial on "Booze and Machinery."

A drunken man might drive a horse through a street crowded with other horses and not damage himself or anyone else; but a drunken man in s motor car in a street crowded with other hurrying motor cars becomes a veritable death angel. A drunken man where it listeth, whose sound is heard might drive a stage coach filled with but whose origin and course we canpassengers and all arrive safely. years about $1,600, while working for zen. wages he can put in residence duties, and can also look around, and find a good location. Besides the homestending attraction of Western Canada, there remains the other fact that other lands can be purchased at from $15 to $30, while improved farms may be had at reasonable figures. The desire to have a plece of land of one's own is a natural instinct in the heart of every properly developed man and woman. In earlier years, on account of the great areas of land available in the United States, no great difficulty was experienced by any ambitious settler of that country who wished to become his own landholder, but the rapid increase in population, combined with the corresponding rise in the price of land, has completely changed this condition. Land, which a generation ago might be had for the homesteading, now commands prices ranging to $100 an acre and over. At such prices it is quite hopeless for the tenant farmer or the farmer's son in moderate circumstances, or the city man with limited capital, to attempt to buy a farm of his own. To pay for it becomes a life-long task, and the probability is that he will never do more than meet the interest charges. If he is serious In his desire to secure a farm home he must look to countries where there is still abundant fertile land available at moderate cost, and where these hands are to be purchased on terms which make it possible for the settler with small capital to become a farm owner as the result of a few years' labor. He will also want land in a country where the practices of the people are similar to those to which he has been accustomed; a country with the same language, same religion, same general habits of living, with laws, currency, weights and measures, etc., based on the same principles as those with which he is familiar. He wants country where he can buy land from $10.00 to $30.00 an acre, which will produce as big or bigger crops as those he has been accustomed to from lands at $100.00 an acre. He wants this land where social conditions will be attractive to himself and his family, and where he can look forward with confidence to being in a few years independent, and well started on the road to financial success.

All these conditions he will find in Western Canada, and nowhere else. The provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, commonly called "Western Canada," provide the one and only answer to the land-hungry. The land is here; it is the kind of an easy mark to put up the money.

INSANITY AND DRY STATES.

The publicity bureau of the liquor interests is trying to make the public believe that prohibition Kansas has more insane in proportion to the population than have license states. He selects for selection three wet states which are more than 50 per cent dry, rather than three which are mostly wet, as New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. But that is a way the liquorites have.

The Insane rate in Kansas is 172.2 per 100,000; in New York it is 342,2 | Thirdly, "But that which did not a little per 100,000; in New Jersey, 238.1 per 100,000; in Pennsylvania, 229.1 per 100.000.

When it comes to the percentage of what is known as alcoholic insanitythe only fair basis for a test-the rate in Kansas is remarkably low. That state has only 17 per cent of alcoholic insane.

All on account of the encroachments of prohibition!

AVERAGE TAX RATE.

In 1915 the average tax rate in the dry Illinois citles of Mattoon, Decatur, Champaign, Bloomington, Freeport, Elgin, Canton, Galesburg, Rockford, and Jacksonville was 6.01. The average rate in the wet cities of East St. Louis, Springfield, Jollet, Waukegan, Moline, Rock Island, Aurora, Peorla, Danville and Quincy was 6.84.

and that for three reasons. First, "The er, Okla. pligrims were clothed with such kind of raiment as was diverse from the raiment of any that traded at that fair. The people of the fair, therefore, made a great gazing upon them; some said they were fools, some they were bedlams, and some they are outlandish men." (I Cor. 2:7, S.) Secondly, "But as they wondered at their apparel, so they did likewise at their speech; for few could understand what they said; they naturally spoke the language of Canaan, but they that kept the fair were the men of this world; so that, from one end of the fair to the other, they seemed barbarians each to the other." amuse the merchants was that these pligrims set very light by all their wares."

Since newborn men are unaccountable to the men of Vanity Fair, it follows that during this present evil age "the offense of the cross" will not cease. Our friends will marvel at our talk of heavenly things. They cannot understand our enthusiasm over fields of service which seem dreary to them; why a young man should give up a career or a young woman give up social prospects to become a missionary is to them an insoluble mystery. "So is everyone that is born of the Spirit." But to none are the newborn so mysterious as to those who themselves are seeking to enter the kingdom of God. John Bunyan tells how he heard "four poor women sitting at a door in the sun" talking of the new birth they had experienced, and declares "they were to me as if they had found a new world."

The Struggle.

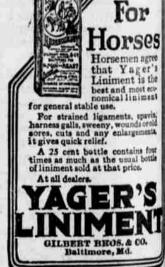

A little later he writes: "The state and happiness of these poor people at Bedford was thus, in a kind of vision, presented to me. I saw as if they were on the sunny side of some high mountain, while I was shivering in the cold, afflicted with frost, snow and dark clouds. Methought also betwixt me and them I saw a wall that did compass about this mountain, and through this wall my soul did greatly desire to pass. About this wall I hought myself to go again and again, still playing as I went, to see if I could find some passage, but none could 1 find for some time. At the last I saw as it were a narrow gap, through which I attempted to pass, but the passage being very straight I made many offers, but all in vain. At last, with great striving, I at first did get in my head, and after that, by a sidelong striving, my shoulders and my whole body. Then was I exceeding glad, and went and sat down in the
