DECREASE IN CONSUMPTION.

The per capita consumption of spir-Ituous, vinous and malt liquors during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, was, according to the final government report, 19.40 gallons. This is the smallest figure since 1902. While the "withdrawal for consumption" of distilled liquors was greater in 1916 than in 1915, it was less than in any year between 1902 and 1915. The slight increase was chiefly due, says the commissioner of internal revenue to "the effective enforcement of the internal revenue tax on distilled spirits." It should be remembered that the "withdrawal for consumption" does not mean that the liquor all went down the throats of American citizens, Much of it is forced out of the government warehouses by the expiration of the bonded period. When liquor is taken out of bond the tax is paid and it is officially recorded as "consumed." As a matter of fact a large part of it is merely transferred to private warehouses to await market demands. The humanized, the purpose of which is fact that large quantities remain in fruit bearing. Discipline is in order bond until forced out by the time limit is sufficient proof that actual consumption of spirituous liquors is decreasing.

IN WINE-DRINKING ITALY.

Prof. Leonardo Bianchi, an authority on alcoholism in Italy, agrees with seemeth to be joyous but grievous: Lambroso and Ferri concerning the degeneration caused by the winedrinking customs of his country. He says:

"I know from my experience that deep melancholy, persecutional mania, jeniousy leading to the assassination of the suspected individual can, in many cases, be directly traced to overindulgence in the gift of Bacchus, Most of our great criminals were hard drinkers before starting on their career of crime, or are sons of hard drinkers. The headquarters of the Mano Nera and other associations of malefactors is the wineshop. We can easily become master of cholera and diphtheria, of typhoid fever and makeep clean is by "abiding," which is laria. The grave problem before us is the prevention of the insidious alcoholspirit after his decense and ascent te ization of the nation. The degrading poverty of the lower classes in certain sections of the country, our lazzaroni, the passion for gambling, the terrible infant mortality-for all this, and more yet, the special form of our althink of ourselves, and not of Christ, coholism is mainly responsible."
