COMPENED FOR HURRIED READERS

A festival will be held in the Grove at Fairview Saturday evening, June 16th.

Miss Margaretta Feldman, of Chambersburg, is visiting in the Rexroth home on north Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hess spent Sunday in the home of S. W. Cunningham and family, Knoxville.

Miss Edith Bell, of Foltz, was a guest in the Christmas Shimer home on west Walnut street for several days recently.

R. M. Wilkinson, representing the Hess Carriage Company of Hagerstown, was the guest of his brother Amos in this place two days this week.

The foundations for the new Lutheran parsonage, and the I. W. Saylor residence on south second street, are ready for the builders to begin the superstructure.

The recent hail storm damaged the roof on the rear portion of the Goldsmith store, on north second street, to the extent that new covering had to be put on this week.

A beautiful curiosity in the shape of a pansy geranium may be seen in one of Mr. and Mrs. L. Wible's windows on east market street. About one hundred pansies adorn the two-foot plant.

Many of us take comfort in the thought that no disaster is so great as we just thought of how many potato bugs were killed by a damaging hail storm last week.

The District Attorney of Franklin county has been called on to investigate the workings of a "new-fangled" doctor in Waynesburg. Will superstition never disappear in supposed civilized communities?

Rev. A. J. Seigle, of Cottonwood Falls, Kansas, preached able sermons last Sabbath—to each of the two United Presbyterian congregations of Big Spring. Mr. Seigle is a native of this county, Pa.

Edith Kauffman who divides time between Johnstown and home of her brother-in-law, Morton in Belfast township, called at this office yesterday and will appear on the honor roll this month.

Miss Olive Pittman returned last Saturday after having spent several weeks here for several weeks. Miss Pittman is sufficiently to permit of that member at the meeting.

W. Nace, cashier of the National Bank and his wife, Mrs. L. Nace, cashier of the Fulton County Bank motored in the latter's Buick yesterday and attended the convention at the hotel.

Edith Reed, of Chambersburg, died last Friday, aged 72 years, a result of a recent stroke. Mrs. Reed was well known to scores of our readers as the big, polite conductor in the cars of the Cumberland Valley Railroad.

(Rev.) A. M. Malechuk, pastor of the Lutheran church, accompanied Mrs. J. H. Atchison, both of Albia, Iowa, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Kendall, in Ayr township. The former's daughter and the latter's daughter are accompanying them.

Thursday a carload composed of Mrs. John LaMaster and Mrs. John G. Over, and Mrs. Earl LaMaster, the daughter of Mrs. John LaMaster, were pleasant visitors in the home of Daniel E. Fore and Miss Katie, North Second street. Mr. and Mrs. Earl LaMaster were on their honeymoon having been married the day of June. Earl LaMaster is a member of the Pennsylvania company at Broadstreet Philadelphia. He has a commission in the navy and may be called to service at any time. Earl LaMaster is now in Niagara Falls where some time.

Mount Union money purchased the ganister rock in the Narrows at Concord, recently, and Path Valley citizens can almost hear the rumble of the T. V. railroad that will be extended from Blair's Mills to Concord. Fire bricks are made of ganister.

At the recent meeting of Conference in Philadelphia, Rev. Wallace W. Spriggs, for several years pastor of the A. M. E. Mission church near Cito in Ayr township, was transferred to similar work in Shippensburg, Pa. Rev. Spriggs is a splendid man and has done good work in the field he has occupied in this county, and the community is sorry to lose his services and influence.

Steps to secure order at the next public entertainment in the Auditorium were taken last Saturday. Among the suggestions made was one to the effect that a campaign of education be waged by the newspapers of McConnellsburg. In reply the NEWS begs to state that it has tried that plan, and from experience, we concluded that this paper does not go to the persons who create disagreeable conditions at meetings and entertainments.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Brant, their son Clem C. Brant, and Mrs. Margaret Ambrose—all of Dane, motored to Chambersburg last Saturday in Scott's new Ford and spent the day shopping and visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brant's daughter Lillie, Mrs. John H. Wible. Mr. Brant had a stroke of paralysis several months ago and for several weeks was in a very critical condition but his many friends will be glad to learn that he is much improved and able to be out again.

Last week, Herbert, little son of editor and Mrs. H. L. McKibbin, had a narrow escape from serious injury when he fell and a rear wheel of Hayes Harmon's autotruck passed over one of the lad's legs when he tried to get on the machine just as it started. Some black and blue marks are the only souvenirs Herbert carries and the parents are willing that the accident should serve as a warning to other children to avoid trying to get on moving vehicles, as broken backs or necks may result.

Mrs. Jane Gunnells and her daughters Misses Lou and Estelle, of Hagerstown, Md., and her son Dayton O. Gunnells of Detroit, Mich., formed a motoring party that made a trip from Hagerstown to Clear Ridge this county last Saturday morning where they spent the day in the home of Mrs. Gunnells's brother, ex-County Treasurer John A. Henry and returned to Hagerstown in the evening. Dayton was a clerk in Trout's drug store thirty-seven years ago and has many friends here.

Crop Report.

Statistician L. H. Wible's May 1st livestock and crop report shows that one in every five farmers in Fulton county sprayed this spring for insect pests and plant disease. The average for the State is about one in four. Wheat average for the State showed at that time a falling off of thirteen per cent. Loss of livestock during winter was very small.

Protect Your Buildings from Fire.

Use Gould's Fire Resisting Paint in all colors. It preserves, beautifies, and wears as long—or longer—and is cheaper, than other standard paints. On good surface a gallon will cover 300 square feet two coats. Roof paint, too, in all colors. For Sale by

Not much improvement seen in the health of Mesdames Lockard, Early and Edwards.

Model Shopper.

First Shop Assistant—"What a nice customer that woman is." Second Assistant—"Yes; she always knows what she wants, and she won't buy anything else!"

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

Wm. L. Moseby and grandson, of Wells Valley, passed through this section last Sunday on their way home from a business trip to Hagerstown.

Last Friday, an auto ran off the gutter in the western foot of Green Hill and turned a complete revolution, landing on the wheels in an upright position. Occupants were not seriously injured, but the machine had to be towed to a garage. For other accidents near same place last week, see elsewhere in this paper.

The electric light pole lying in the gutter in front of E. R. McClain's residence causes some of the water to flow out into the street with the result that the hill in front of the post office is becoming badly washed.
