YOUR NUMBER.

Names of Men Registered in Fulton County, and the Number Assigned to Each for Identification When the Draft is Made.

Owing to the fact that several states have not fully completed the report of the registration made on the fifth of June the draft has been delayed, but it is fully expected that it will take place within a week.

The number registered in this county is 669, all of whom will be drawn when the draft takes place. Fulton County's quota in the first call will be about 75; hence, the first 75 men drawn will be taken, provided, there are no exemptions in that number. If, say 5, are excused from service for cause, then the next numbers succeeding the 75 will be taken until 75 men are found who are acceptable.

One of the causes of exemption is, if the man drafted is the sole support of his family or other dependents, he will be excused. Of course physical disability, will debar any one from entering. There are many other causes.

As soon as the draft takes place, the persons drafted will be notified of the time to appear before the local board.

The names are drawn much like a jury—the numbers are drawn promiscuously, and the first to be drawn in Fulton County is just as likely to be 669 as 1.

After the first quota is made up, the others will hold themselves in readiness to go at the second call beginning at the number when the first quota leaves off. That is, if it takes 150 to get the first 75, the second call will begin at No. 150, and proceed until the second quota is made up.

The man who draws a number stands the best chance of not having to go for a long time—perhaps not at all.

The following list shows the number by which each person will be known:

- 1 John Calvin Bishop, 2 George A. Smith, 3 George Bivens Richards, 4 John Harvey Tritle, 5 John Duffield Sipes, 6 Maynard Crouse, 7 Erven Reed Burk, 8 Rush David Hann, 9 John Henry Rasp, 10 James Ellworth Peck, 11 Riley Clarence Peck, 12 Alton Norman Knable, 13 Clifford Householder, 14 William Silas Wright, 15 Russe George Glazier, 16 Kenneth Sloan Glazier, 17 Ulysses Stanley Humbert, 18 Herbert Fulton Cooper, 19 William Howard Keefer, 20 Oscar C. Educators Urge Exemption For The Vocational Teachers.

State College, Pa., July 17.—Leading educators in the public schools of Pennsylvania, attending a war-time conference here, Thursday passed a resolution urging the government to consider the advisability of exempting from the military draft trained teachers in the vocational schools who cannot be replaced. There was no discussion of the draft's effect on the rank and file of male teachers generally. Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who called the two-day session, told his superintendents and principals they are facing a big problem in Pennsylvania education with the importation of Southern negroes to this State. He referred to one Pennsylvania railroad official who alone brought 400,000 colored men and their families here to solve the labor shortage. Dr. Schaeffer estimated that 2,000,000 negroes have come north within the last few months.
