A few days ago, Mr. and Mrs. Logue returned to McConnellsburg to finish their visit.

Big Cove is rapidly becoming polluted with wild lettuce. The seeds are scattered by the wind. The small yellow blossom turns to down like dandelion when it goes to seed. The stalks grow from two to five feet high and the plant will fight its way against all competition. But it can be controlled by cutting or pulling before the seeds scatter.

Mrs. Della Mellett, her son George Cook and daughter, and Chester Brant and wife and three children, formed an automobile party that visited McConnellsburg last Saturday afternoon and were pleasant callers at the News office. Mrs. Mellett said she had a letter recently from her son Roland who is now in France, in which he said he was well and said France was a beautiful country.

MRS. WILLIAM MATHIAS.

Home Near Burnt Cabins. Died While Visiting Her Sons Joseph and Chalmers in Pittsburgh.

Rachel Anna wife of William Mathias near Burnt Cabins, died in Pittsburgh, Wednesday, August 29, 1917, aged 70 years and 4 months.

On the 23rd of August, she, in company of her husband and granddaughter, Helen Mathias left home to see their sons in Pittsburgh. She seemed to be enjoying her visit immensely until the 26th, when pneumonia developed. At the time she was attacked, she was at the home of her son Joseph, but in the hope of her having the very best of care and treatment, she was removed to a hospital. While everything was done that medical skill could devise, she passed away as above stated. On Friday her remains were taken to her home and the funeral was held on the following Sunday, the services being conducted by her pastor the Rev. Warren Kauffman, of the Presbyterian church of which she was a devoted member. She is survived by her husband and eight sons, namely, Newton A., Bruce, Blaine C., and Roy at home; H. Chalmers, Albert and Joseph W., in Pittsburgh; H. Clinton, Decorum.

Chautauqua Festival.

McConnellsburg's annual Chautauqua Festival will be held in the Auditorium this year on October 3, 4, and 5. The festival will be bigger and better than on previous years. The price for season tickets will be $1.25. Single ticket 35 cents for afternoon admission, and 50 cents for night sessions. Patriotism will be a leading feature. Come and hear "Life in the Trenches" lecture by Captain Leslie Vickers of the Royal Scotch Fusiliers. Also illustrated lectures on the Great War. Poor indeed is that Pennsylvania town that does not now support an annual Chautauqua festival. McConnellsburg is among the most enthusiastic supporters of this refined course of high grade entertainments. After the professional entertainers have been paid, no one makes any money out of the festival—indeed, in some instances, the guarantors have to go down into their pockets for money to pay for what the public enjoyed. The Chautauqua is a twentieth century method of education.

School Interior Refinished.

The work of refinishing and decorating the entire inside of the McConnellsburg public school building was completed in time for the opening of the fall term last Monday.

The cost was $300, and the payment of the entire amount was assumed by the McConnellsburg Dramatic Club. Plays and entertainments will be given in the Auditorium this winter to pay for the work.

The work was done by three artists sent by the Sherwin-Williams Paint Company. The paint was furnished at cost by Geo. W. Reisner and Co. All the interior woodwork was painted and varnished and the walls and ceilings were finished in flat white tone. All parts look neat and clean as a new pin.

The Auditorium was given special attention. The old, cracked ceiling was removed and new plastering done. The stage scenery curtains donated by Mr. L. W. Seylar last winter were retouched and they now present a fine appearance.

Desertion Notice.

Notice is hereby given that my wife Goldie Lake Brant has left my bed and board without just cause, and this is to warn all persons not to trust her on my account as I will pay no bills of her contracting.

831 St. CLEM C. BRANT.

WILL GO TO CAMP LEE.

First Installment of Our Boys Will Leave McConnellsburg Tomorrow Afternoon.

In addition to the eighty-three names published last week in the News, the local board has since, certified five additional men to the District Board, subject to military duty, namely, Lewis Linn, McConnellsburg; Gilbert C. Lake, McConnellsburg; Foster G. Mellett, Needmore; Owen Anderson, Clear Ridge, and Clyde H. Hann, Warfordsburg.

This makes a total of eighty-seven men selected from 298 examined.

As was stated last week, five per cent of our quota would be called about the 5th of September. The names of the men composing this five per cent, are James D. Hoop, Andover; Orien S. Mock, McConnellsburg; Fred Lamberson, Hustontown, and Lewis C. Screiver, Lashley. These men are ordered to report to the local board at McConnellsburg at 3 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon. At 3:15 to 4:00 tomorrow afternoon, they will entrain at Fort Loudon, and at 9:15 Saturday morning they are due to be at Camp Lee, Va., where they will go into training.

The second increment consisting of 40 per cent, will be called to McConnellsburg about the 19th—the date not being definitely fixed.

Of the four men named to leave this week, Mr. James D. Hoop, of Andover, has seen three years' service in the regular army, and will get a good night's sleep the first night he is in Camp.

In contributing the four men this week with those soon to follow, Fulton County is parting from her best specimens of physical manhood, and while we regret that conditions are such that this sacrifice must be made, we are proud of the fact that we have the material.

Give The Roads Attention.

The postoffice department has decided to cut out a large number of rural routes in the next few months to reduce expenses. Inspectors will go through the country in the next few months and examine all roads which the rural carriers travel and whenever the condition of the roads is found bad, routes will be discontinued. Roads which show neglect will be more apt to be condemned than those which have been put in first class condition. One careless road supervisor in a township may be responsible for the loss of a route.
