Twice Proven.

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. Its McConnellsburg evidence—doubly proven.

Mrs. D. Keyser, McConnellsburg, says: My back ached constantly and the pains in my loins were so severe that it was almost impossible for me to bend over. I had but little strength and my housework became a burden. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Trout's Drug Store, cured me.

Doan's Made A Cure. Over Two Years Later, Mrs. Keyser said: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me of kidney trouble. I am in good health now."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. D. Keyser has twice publicly recommended. Foster Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HONEST MEN NOT ALL DEAD

Recent Incident Shows There Are Two Left, and They Live in Sacramento, Cal.

There are at least two thoroughly honest people in Sacramento, says the Union of that city, and that is why Miss Maud Williamson got back a five-dollar goldpiece that was in other hands for more than a week. The money was returned to her by a blind peanut vender who has a stand at Twenty-eighth and M streets.

Miss Williamson bought a bag of peanuts from the man and accidentally gave him a five-dollar goldpiece instead of a nickel. She missed the coin not long afterward, but it did not occur to her that she had paid it out accidentally until someone suggested that possibility several days later.

She went back to the vender's stand and asked him if he had accidentally taken in a five-dollar goldpiece instead of a nickel. He put his hand into his coat pocket and took out a scrap of paper in which the missing gold coin was wrapped. He explained to Miss Williamson that one of his customers had been honest enough to return it to him when he gave it out as five cents in change. He had put it away safely, for he expected that sooner or later it would be called for.—Youth's Companion.

AIRPLANES AND ASH TREES.

A timber expert states that the demand for ash has gone up so enormously since we went in for airplane construction on the present big scale that prices are fully three times what they were in pre-war days. Nothing but the very best English ash serves the purpose. "The finest in the world," is his verdict. Experiments with other wood, notably American spruce, have yielded most disappointing results, and it is a curious fact, due to climatic causes, that Irish ash is unsatisfactory too. But an ash tree cannot be grown in a day. The timber is utterly worthless for airplane purposes unless it is at least sixty years old. It is all the better if it is double that age, when some of the trunks can show a clear, straight run of 80 feet or more.—London Tit-Bits.

Peculiar Superstition.

If fake teeth could talk, they would tell strange tales. A farmer's wife attributed her good luck with a certain kind of delicious cooky for which she was famous to the fact that the mold with which she always cut out the cookies was a set of false teeth willed to her by an aunt who, in her time, had been able to cook to beat the band. Success crowned her culinary efforts because she worked with this weird and unwieldy crescent of worn-out teeth. Thus doth superstition lead us captive!

Where Birds Have Advantage.

Birds have no transportation problems. Embargoes, blockades, automatic commands of traffic officers are unknown to them. When it is sufficient for the human traveler to get a good breakfast and start for the world's end forthwith, he can begin challenging the migrating birds, but not before.

CLEAR RIDGE.

Do you realize that many farmers are puzzled over the price-fixing of wheat by the Government?

Mrs. Louisa Kerlin of Burnt Cabins and her daughter who spent the summer at Mont Alto, spent the week end with the former's sister, Mrs. James McElhaney.

Do you know that many people in our county do not seem to realize that we are really engaged in a terrible war?

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stouffer, of Waynesboro, were guests of the latter's homefolks, Mr. and Mrs. James Mort, the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander, of McConnellsburg, spent a day recently with the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Winegardner.

The fact that rag-weeds are unusually tall, and the husks on the corn abnormally thick, indicates that we are to have an early and hard winter.

Miss Maude M. Fields spent the week end with Miss Zanna Ludwig.

Easton Stinson and family of Burnt Cabins spent Sunday with Mrs. Stinson's parents, James Mort and wife.

Everybody felt grateful for the fine rain last Friday evening and Saturday, which was much needed.

Happy school children could be seen Monday morning wending their way to school, anxious to resume their studies for the winter of 1917-18.

Miss Dora E. Baker who is in training at the Dixmont Hospital, Pittsburgh, for nurse, spent her vacation with her parents Calvin Baker and wife. Dora will take the last year of her course at the Bellevue hospital in New York City. She likes the work very much, and we feel that she will make a good nurse.

Searle Grove, a Pennsy employee in Pittsburgh, has spent the past month at his parental home in this place.

Miss Minnie Gladfelter is visiting her home folks, Mr. and Mrs. John Gladfelter.

Miss Ethel Kesselring of Gracey, spent the time from Friday until Sunday evening with her sister Mrs. Lloyd Flemming at this place.

G Mack Kerlin of Gracey spent a few hours the first of the week with his brother A G Kerlin. He was accompanied home by Miss Grace Kerlin, who will spend some time with her uncle and aunt.

Mrs. A J Fraker is suffering from a healing on one of her feet. John A Henry, son Merrill and daughter Lillian, and Miss Inez Winegardner, were rustating among County Seat friends Monday.

Miss Althea Bloom of Tyrone, returned home after ten days visiting her grandparents here. William L. Fields and Glenn Miller, employed at Broadtop City, were home over Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Henry, her son Charles and his wife and daughters, and Smith Henry—all spent the past week with Mrs. Henry's brother, Alex Richardson in Cumberland county.

Mrs. Wm. Grove spent last week with her daughter Mrs. Judson Madden at Meadow Gap.

KNOBVILLE.

The weird song of the whip-poor-will is no longer heard in the "old apple tree."

T. A. Bootman and family, who were visiting in the home of Mr. Bootman's sister, Mrs. C E Gobin, returned to their home at Ridgeley, W. Va. on Tuesday. They made the trip in their new Maxwell.

Mrs. Robert Cromer and little daughter Gladys Irene, of Fort Littleton, spent the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Wible.

Preston Wilson and mother are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Harvey Raker spent last Sunday at Clarence Gobin's.

Lillian Stinson, of Burnt Cabins, returned to her home last Saturday, accompanied by her sister Mrs. H. O. Hamil, after having spent a week in Knobville.

Miss Lillie Ritz near Harrisburg, spent a few days recently with her friend Oda Gutshall.

Miss Ruth Wagner and Rosenberry, of Chambersburg, spent the week end with home folks.

Miss Virgie Gress left week for Sylvan, where she expects to teach during the winter.

John Spidle and wife, Fort London, spent Sunday with the latter's brother Jamesbaugh.

Will Soon Be Here.

Sig. Santelle's Big Uncle Cabin Co. will exhibit in McConnellsburg on Saturday and Sunday, September 15th. There is need of going into details the merits of this grand drama, which has been produced in every civilized country on earth. It was first produced at the Troy Museum, Troy, N. Y. in 1852. Harriet Beecher Stowe first wrote Uncle Tom's Cabin a serial story for the New Era, afterward publishing it in book form from which derived both wealth and fame. Remember day and date.
