WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown. To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

October Court.

The October Term of Court opened on Monday at 2 o'clock Hon. Donald P. McPherson, and his associates Hon. Wm. B. Stigers, and Hon. Wm. Mellott, on the bench. The Constables were called and made their respective returns. The grand jury was called, and the members all responded but one, and the Court appointed A. J. Pittman. After the usual charge they retired to consider bills.

The petition of Martha Truax, wife of Wm. Truax, presented a petition for the appointment of two appraisers to set apart property to her as widow under exemption law. Court appointed Anderson Mellott and William Funk appraisers.

In case of Ella M. Kuhn, vs. J. D. Kuhn, proceedings in divorce, the Court appointed J. R. Jackson, master.

George N. Cline vs. Martha Cline, petition presented for subpoena in divorce. Court awarded subpoena returnable January term.

In case of Luther K. Lynch, vs. Anna M. Lynch, proceedings in divorce, the court awarded a subpoena returnable January term.

The petition of Sarah Evans, mother of H. W. Evans a minor, was presented asking an order to be made for guardian, Farmers and Merchants Trust Co., to pay $300, for education and maintenance of ward. Court made the order.

The petit jury was called and all the members answered but one and the court excused John Wright and C. J. Barton on their request.

The accounts were then taken up for confirmation. First and final account of Alice Wishart, Administratrix of S. Catharine Wishart, late of Wells township, deceased, was confirmed.

First and final account of B. G. Horton, Administrator of Celia Horton, late of Wells township deceased was confirmed.

First and final account of Chas. A. Chamberlain, executor of the will of Geo. M. Chamberlain, late of Wells township deceased, was confirmed and F. McN. Johnson, Esq., was appointed auditor to make distribution of balance in hands of executor.

Case of the Commonwealth vs Harry Bishop, charged with having stolen green corn from the field of John Bowers. The defendant having been in the jail for twenty days and appearing and pleading guilty, the court suspended sentence after charging the defendant, that unless he conducted himself honestly among his fellows he would have him brought back and give him the most severe sentence the law would permit.

In the case of Minnie Denisar vs. D. S. Denisar, proceedings in divorce, the court referred the report to the Master.

Court adjourned at 4 p. m. until Tuesday morning at 9 a. m.

Among some of the prominent out of town citizens who witnessed the court proceedings on Monday, were Hon. S. L. Buckley, of Fort Littleton, Jas. Lamberson and C. J. Barton, of Hustontown John P. Fisher, and Edward Palmer, of Warfordsburg.

TUESDAY.

Court called at 9 o'clock and the Grand Jury having failed to find a true bill in a Commonwealth case up to that time the court was without business for some time. About 9:30, a true bill was returned in case of Commonwealth vs. Walter Spade, charge assault and battery and aggravated assault and battery. A jury was called and the case consumed the balance of the day the jury going out at 5:15.

This case grew out of a fight at Emmaville last March, or just after a public sale, and there were many witnesses. The prosecutor C. A. Bard alleged that Walter Spade struck him a severe blow with his fist knocking him to the earth and that Spade followed this with several blows after Bard was down. The defendant alleged that he had interviewed Bard about some things Bard should have said about Spade's sister, when Bard drew a glass jar from a tub that he was taking home from the sale and attempted to throw it at him, or about to do so when Spade hit him in self defense; that Bard then ran in and clinched and some blows were struck; and that Bard held to Spade until they were parted.

During the day the Grand Jury reported the following bills and were discharged at 4 o'clock. Com. vs J. Minick Mellott, Charge assault and battery. True bill. Com. vs Luther Bishop, charge F. & B. true bill. Com. vs Admiral Smith, charge assault and battery. not a true bill and the county pay the costs.

Frank P. Plessinger of Brush Creek was an interested spectator in the court room on Tuesday.

There was an unusually large attendance of ladies at court this week.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

The jury on the Bard-Spade case stayed out all night. When court called Wednesday morning they returned a verdict of not guilty, but prosecutor pay one-fifth of the cost and the defendant four-fifths.

A jury was called and the case of P. W. Mellott vs Irvin Bradnic, was then taken up. This was to settle a land dispute. After proceeding with the case, the plff., asked leave to amend his statement. The defense pleaded surprise. That ended the chapter for this court.

In the case of Bradnick vs Mellott, a nonsuit was ordered. After attending to a few odds and ends that had been dropped in the course of the sessions, court adjourned.

Four Hundred Poultry Farms.

The Bureau of Statistics of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture assisted by W. Theo. Wittman, Farm Adviser of the same Department, has been making a census of poultry plants and of farms of Pennsylvania carrying 500, or more, laying hens.

At the end of the third week they have tabulated three hundred and sixty-four such farms and the list is sure to go over the four hundred and may reach the five hundred mark.

Montgomery county leads with eighty-four. Lancaster county lists to date, thirty-four, and York county thirty three.

Four, of the three hundred and sixty-four, report as poultry meat production plants. Four report as fancy poultry plants. The balance report as egg production plants.

Mr. Wittman is confident that when the data is all classified the results will show that the greater per cent of the egg farms have all been established within the last five years. Due to the unequal ratio of egg prices and grain prices of the last few months, a few have quit, some have reduced stock but most of them are going to stick it out at least this winter.

There has been a great deal of conjecture why New York Produce is quoting eggs the last year or two under the caption "Pennsylvania and nearby white fancy." The results of this census is probably the answer, or that Pennsylvania is producing more fancy white eggs today than any other state, with, with the number of farms listed, will be genuine news to many.

In a warm county local option fight, Dallas, Texas, a city of over 100,000, was voted into the dry column by the combined city and county vote. The city has hitherto supported about 220 saloons. This is considered the hardest blow yet administered to the liquor interests of Texas.
