Tuesday's Election.

The fine weather coupled with a vigorous fight for the office of Associate Judge, caused an unusually large vote to be polled for an off-year. About three out of every four voters in the county were at the polls and the total number of votes cast was less than a hundred fewer than the vote cast at the Governor's election in 1914.

A glance at the table will give you the vote of each candidate.

Rations for Farm Animals.

At this season of the year farm animals are likely to be neglected because farmers make the mistake of trying to keep them on pasture as long as possible. At the first sign of loss of weight, or if the pasture is poor some feed should be given. Pasture will be worth more in the spring when feed is likely to be higher and livestock can be maintained in better condition and probably cheaper through the winter.

No particular action says F. L. Bentley of the animal husbandry department of the Pennsylvania State College, can be proposed for general use, because of varying conditions, but a few suggestions are offered.

For horses—In general, two pounds of feed per day per 100 pounds liveweight. For a horse doing no work, all the hay it will eat and sufficient grain to keep it in good condition. For a horse doing average work, one to one and one-half pounds grain and one to one and one-fourth pounds hay per day per 100 pounds liveweight. For a colt at weaning, two quarts oats per day and all the hay it will eat.

For beef cattle—In general, two and one-half pounds feed per 100 pounds liveweight. For maintenance, all the roughage they will eat, a portion of which is clover or alfalfa hay. In the absence of clover hay, a small amount of cottonseed meal or linseed meal, one to one and one-fourth pounds per 100 pounds liveweight.

For hogs—In general, three to five pounds concentrates per 100 pounds liveweight, with larger rations for younger and smaller rations for older hogs. For fattening, four to five pounds concentrates daily per 100 pounds liveweight.

For sheep—For fattening lambs on full feed one-pound concentrates and one and one-half pounds roughage per day. For pregnant ewes, all the roughage they will eat up to within a few weeks of lambing, then, one, one-half to the pound concentrates per day.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mason of Thompson township desire in this manner to express their deep gratitude to the friends and neighbors who were so kind and good during the illness and death of their little son.

After the War.

What is going to happen "after the war" will discount all the stories you ever heard of "before the war." No matter which side wins, this country will by no means be the same as it was three years ago. We decline to attempt a picture of what life will be like if the Germans win—it's too frightful.

But we intend to win, and on this supposition we should begin right now to lay our minds open to the reception of facts as they appear out of the great mass of new conditions created by the world-war. We shall speak only of the agriculturist. Years of short sighted policies have left us (as a nation) far in the rear of scientific farming. We are a great food producing country only by reason of our unlimited acreage and rich soil. But measured by scientific standards we fall far short. We are also a nation of prodigals, annually wasting enough to keep a small nation like Belgium in food. We expect the war to change all this. The call for us to feed our allies will eventually cause a pinch at our own tables that will teach a wholesome lesson. The frenzied efforts now being made to make our soils produce more will result in the adoption of new ideas and the stupid among us will "get run over" by the wheels of Progress if we do not now wake up to our opportunities. What do you intend to read this winter to help prepare yourself for the changes that are coming? After all these years of use, can you interpret the printed analysis on a bag of fertilizer? The old-fashioned way of waiting to learn from the other fellow will be no good. Plan at once for a supply of suitable reading matter.

The devil got into some of the would-be "gentlemen" in this section on Wednesday night of last week, and such a lot of devilry and crime was perpetrated as to astonish and terrorize the peaceable inhabitants of the entire community. They plotted and gathered up under cover of darkness to trespass upon the private property of a number of our industrious and peaceful citizens and farms; they pulled down farm and yard fences and gates, entered buildings, built fences across the main public highways thereby obstructing travel and endangering human lives; took State Automobile tires, wagons, and other utensils and cast them into streams, precipitous and hidden places, and even committed the treasonable crime of desecrating the United States flag—especially a fine one that an old peaceable veteran of the Civil War had erected at his residence; they built fires where the fallen leaves lay thick thus endangering private property and forests. These plotters and malicious mischief makers are known and arrests and proper punishment are likely soon to follow. The time has come when law abiding citizens will not stand for such malicious and high handed outlawry.

Wants Road Makers.

The United States wants ten thousand five hundred experienced road builders immediately for service in France. They will be part of the Twenty-third regiment of engineers and will have charge of the construction of roads used by American troops. The regiment will be one of experts. Pick and shovel laborers are not wanted as this will be done by German prisoners.

The men will be enlisted as privates with the promise of promotion. The pay ranges from forty to ninety-six dollars per month.

Milk-Vegetable Soup.

To each 2 cupfuls of milk use 1 tablespoonful of flour, 1 tablespoonful of butter, two-thirds of a cup of a thoroughly cooked vegetable, finely chopped, mashed, or put through a sieve and salt to taste. Thicken the milk with the flour as for milk gravy and add the other ingredients.

Practically any vegetable except tomatoes may be used with the other ingredients as stated. If tomatoes are used, a little soda should be added to them to prevent the milk from curdling.
