A Good Friend.

A good friend stands by you when in need. McConnellsburg people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test...

"I was in poor health for some time and weak kidneys caused the trouble," says Miss Peightel. "I suffered greatly from severe pains in my back which often darted into my head..."

Over Six Years Later, Miss Peightel said: "Whenever I need a kidney medicine now, I use Doan's Kidney Pills. They always relieve me."

CLEAR RIDGE.

We are having a streak of ideal November weather.

Mrs. Anna Appleby is visiting her son J. C. Appleby.

Misses Edith and Carrie Little were week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ramsey.

Mrs. Harvey Stevens of Through Creek Valley spent the week-end with her sister Mrs. Calvin Henry. She was accompanied by her two daughters Vera and Dorothy.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kesselring of Altoona, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Fleming and daughter Cora of Waynesboro, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Appleby and two sons of Bellwood, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fleming and son, and J. L. Fleming of McConnellsburg—were here last Sunday attending the funeral of Elton Fleming.

Cold, frosty morning, these—especially for the corn huskers.

Poultry by Post.

At this time of the year farmers should try to find customers to whom dressed chickens and turkeys can be shipped by parcel post. Many farmers have established a business in marketing various products direct by parcel post or express, by obtaining customers for poultry to be shipped at Thanksgiving time and so pleasing the customers with the poultry furnished that they proceeded to obtain other products of the farm direct from the producer.

Corrugated paper-board cartons or cheap market baskets are suitable containers for shipping dressed poultry. The fowls should be wrapped in parchment paper then in plenty of wrapping paper or newspaper, after which the whole package is placed in the carton or basket. The shipment should be thoroughly chilled before being shipped, and the parcel should be marked "Perishable."

Farmers should bear in mind that only good fowls dressed and packed carefully will be satisfactory to customers. Success in selling direct to consumer often depends on whether the customer is pleased with the first shipment of produce.

LOCAL ORGANIZATION.

Practically every industry connected with the furnishing of war supplies employs large numbers of girls. Thousands of girls are filling in the ranks left vacant by the men. For these, as well as for the girls employed near the camps, the Council has begun to erect houses as an emergency measure and as a demonstration to the employer and to the otherwise unprepared community that girls who are employed may be cared for simply and efficiently, to the welfare of the employed, the employer and the community.

For the task of housing and feeding hundreds of women suddenly summoned to work in great industrial cities that have sprung up over night association has appropriated half a million dollars. When the Government suddenly calls for a score or more of women to go to work at once in a laundry, on uniforms, in a munition factory, it is not always possible to supply them at once with a place to eat and sleep. But since eat and sleep they must immediately the War Work Council is plunging into the business of supplying them with suitable living quarters and with food. This has been a tremendous problem in England. It promises soon to be equally gigantic here.

Then there is the assistance which the Council stands ready to give to foreign women whose husbands and sons have gone to war. Many of these women have lived in America in practical isolation from the American world, depending upon their men folk as intermediaries between them and the strange new country that has remained new, of whose customs they are ignorant, and whose language they have never learned. In this field the Y. W. C. A. has decided to use $100,000.

SOCIAL STANDARDS.

Through a Bureau of Social Morality, qualified women physicians are enlisted to promote throughout the country the highest moral standards, and the promotion of true patriotism. Lectures to mothers, teachers and girls are made accessible; to the latter after they have been drawn together through some club or other bond of worth-while interest.

COLORED COMMUNITIES.

A great number of the Camps and cantonments are situated in that part of the United States where the colored population is densest, and special need for the care of our colored young women presents itself. Five colored workers of the national staff are giving their time to directing work among their own people and securing the leaders essential to promoting practically the same activities among colored girls as are under way among white girls.

EUROPEAN WOMEN.

Even before the War Work Council was appointed, calls had been received from trusted social workers in Russia and France, for American Y. W. C. A. workers to assist the women of those countries in facing their difficult future of reconstruction for women.

Seven women have been assigned to Russia to work with the committee of Russian women.

Twelve women have been sent to France, part of whom have been called for to assist a committee of French women in equipping and directing foyers—canteens for industrial women whose hours of labor are long and on whom the stress of war bears so heavily. Help to provide rest-rooms, recreation and proper food conditions are among the services which suffering France is asking of the American Y. W. C. A.

The remainder of our workers now in France are asked to take charge of social huts for the splendid American nurses now "Somewhere in France." These huts are being constructed at the hospital base units and will do for the women when off duty as far as may be under war conditions what our Club for Nurses does in N. Y. City. Our economic specialist of the national staff has been loaned to service in France for a few months to direct building operations.

ENLARGING THE HOME BASE.

Men who enlist go abroad. Women who enlist come into our communities and add to the responsibility of the Association in the United States. Everywhere the Y. W. C. A. seeks to strengthen the regular activities which alone have made its war work possible and which must be the force that makes for permanence.

It is a program that includes the sister of every man, the daughter of the American as well as of the foreignborn; it is planned for women of all races and creeds. It aims to help the soldier through its service to girls and women. It seeks to create the highest standards of patriotism and the maximum Christ-like service even in times of war.

"We can all do more than we have done And not be a whit the worse; It was never loving that emptied the heart Or giving that emptied the purse."

HONOR ROLL OF WOMEN who will work to win the war. Has He Registered YOUR Name For Service? Image of Uncle Sam.

Women of Pennsylvania, have you seen it?—the shadow that dims the sun. Listen? The air seems vibrant as if stirred by distant thunder.

A tempest is upon us—a storm worse than any America has known, and its danger signals are far-flung.

The storm has crept in from Transatlantic shores. The air, too, was surcharged there—made vibrant by the gun-peals of human hate. Take heed! There is a warning for you in these far-flung signals. If you have not read it, read now.

War—merciless war—has been unleashed to wreak its fury upon you and yours.

The extent to which that fury will ravage America depends very largely upon the part the women of America decide to take in the war.

If you and every other woman capable of giving some useful service will promptly give that service so that America may strike with crushing effect, then the dread of what the war will bring need not be all upon this side of the Atlantic.

Therefore, it remains for you—the women of Pennsylvania and of the nation—to make a momentous decision. Will you stand back now, sullenly claiming exemption from unusual effort upon the plea of sex?

Or will you come forward to work in some useful capacity that will give the fighting men of your country the support they need to win the war?

That is what is being asked of you and of every other woman of working age in Pennsylvania. Your decision will mean much to your state and to your country. It may mean even more to you.

Remember: The worst trials that defeat brings to a conquered people invariably are the horrors experienced by its women. Keep stricken Belgium and outraged France before you—then decide that you will do your utmost to make defeat impossible for America.

Every Woman Needed.

If you have any doubt about the help of every woman being needed now consider these facts:

One million men in Pennsylvania alone have been holding themselves subject to a call to the colors since Registration day, June 5, last. One hundred thousand recruits—the pick of the state's manhood—have already been taken from productive employment for army and navy service. Additional thousands are being drafted with machine-like precision. Still more thousands have been drafted from ordinary into war employments.

Every man called leaves another gap in the army of production. Every man drawn means, also, that four new workers must be found to produce the things that will give him fighting efficiency.

With industry losing its workmen and, on the other hand, being required to produce a greater output than ever it is apparent that new labor sources must be tapped or disaster may result.

CITIZEN APPLIED THE LAW

In His Own Car Philadelphia Pursued a Reckless Motorist and Had the Man Arrested.

Does a day ever pass that you do not hear someone say, "We ought to have a law to stop that sort of thing?"

We scream for more laws, but when it comes to punishing those who fracture the laws we one and all join in the chorus, "Let George do it!"

And the trouble is, George is quite as careless as we. You see men expectorate upon the sidewalk scores of times every day, but do you report them? Never.

You see drivers threaten the lives of pedestrians with their reckless motoring, but do you take the trouble to have one arrested? Of course you don't.

And just because 999 of us are so perverse and lax in this particular, I lift my hat to Dr. A. C. Morgan. I do not personally know the doctor, but I do know that he saw a man drive in reckless fashion past a school building from which scores of children were issuing.

No, he didn't say, "Let George do it," but he did it himself. What? Why, followed the fellow in his own car and had him arrested and fined.—Girard, in Philadelphia Public Ledger.

You women who have never been required to earn your living—and there are some hundreds of thousands of you—constitute the most important undeveloped labor reserve in Pennsylvania. If you will from patriotic inspiration accept some useful work, even though you do not need to earn money, you will help amazingly to solve a labor crisis which, with the country at war, ranks as a positive menace.

How to Find Work.

To assist you in finding the job you are willing to fill as a patriotic duty—to train you for the job if necessary—a registration of women is now being conducted under State and Federal supervision. The Pennsylvania Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense and the Civilian Service Department of the Pennsylvania Committee of Public Safety have it in charge.

It is a registration that is determining the complete "woman-power" of the state. It is showing with exactness the total number of women, trained and untrained, of working age and it is classifying them according to their capacity for work. The purpose is to inform the government—the United States Department of Labor—of how far it may rely upon women's energy as a productive resource.

Even the women who are unable to take regular positions, but who can accept work at home are being listed. The plan has the support of President Wilson and is commended by Governor Brumbaugh, who, by official proclamation, fixed November 1 and 2 as special registration days.

In conducting the registration, no interference with existing labor situations or with useful industries is permitted. While workers as well as non-workers are being listed, trained workers are not being solicited to change employers or employment. In fact, established industries will be assisted. Part of the plan is to place new workers at jobs in their home sections and thus encourage and speed up useful, established production.

Signing-Up Is Easy.

Registration, too, has been made easy. Every organized group of women in the State is taking names. County Committees of Public Safety, Federated Clubs, Suffrage Associations and Women's Christian Temperance Unions anywhere will sign you up.

And now that you have learned of the dire need of women's service in this world crisis, it is for you—the women of the state—to make your registration a roll of honor for Pennsylvania.

With the future of all civilization, with human liberty itself in imminent peril the call from the "Front" is for "workers, more workers, and still more workers."

Work will win the war. Let the women of Pennsylvania by their actions say, "WE WILL NOT SHIRK."
