Portable poultry Houses.

In this time of scarcity and high prices of feeding stuffs the poultry industry has suffered more than any other branch of agriculture, largely owing to the fact that the food of fowls has been composed more largely of grains than other livestock. So many fowls have been marketed that an egg famine is to be expected in the near future. J. T. Campbell, of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, says: "A small flock of good hens will glean a large part of their living from materials that would otherwise be a total loss, hence the farmer is better able to keep a flock of hens than the poultry specialist who must buy all the fowls eat."

"Forty hens can be kept in a light weight house built on a pair of 4x6 inch runners. This building can be 8x10 feet in size and just high enough to work in with comfort. A poultry house of this kind can be moved about the farm with a two horse team at any time of the year. By the use of such portable houses, the fowls can be moved out in pasture fields where grass and insects will form considerable part of their food. After harvest the house with fowls in it can be drawn to grain fields, where the birds will gather scattered grain and insects and lay a lot of eggs with but little food or attention. The house can again be drawn to a convenient location for winter."

"Fowls kept on clean land and allowed to glean about the farm soon acquire vitality and health which cannot be equaled under any other conditions."

"We have used such portable houses for eighteen years with great success. I have yet to find a farmer who has given these portable poultry houses a trial, returning to the old style permanently located poultry houses."

IT HAPPENED IN McCONNELLSBURG

And Is Happening to McConnellsburg People Every Week.

The case told below is not an uncommon thing. The same occurs frequently and will continue to happen as long as folks have kidneys and overtax the kidneys. Riley Peck, shoemaker, McConnellsburg, says: I was troubled with my kidneys and soreness in my back. I was dizzy at times and my eyes were affected. I had to get up often at night on account of kidney weakness and I was all tired out in the morning. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Trout's Drug Store, gave me great relief and I haven't had any bad symptoms of the trouble since."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Peck had. Foster-Milburn Co, Props, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Hen's Part.

The Farmers' Home Journal rises to speak a good word for the hen and her part in winning the war. "In all this talk about food production the humble hen should not be forgotten, because in a rush job she is in a class by herself. She can produce food in the shape of eggs and meat, and can reproduce herself more quickly than any other sort of livestock, and in doing it can use up more varieties of waste-food products."

LAUREL RIDGE.

No one was sorry to see the snow take its flight down the hollows and milder weather come around.

Some of our boys attended the pie-social at Thomas Truax's last Saturday evening. Pies brought from $1.25 to $3.05 a piece. What would be the value of a bushel of wheat, if used for pies and sold at such prices?

Robert Mellott spent Sunday afternoon at Shade Pittman's, Clark, Georgia, and Fanny Fisher visited Saturday and Sunday at the home of their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Brady.

Lucy Bishop is reported having a very sore arm as a result of having been bitten by their dog.

Garthwaite Mellott spent Saturday at Webster Mills taking the examination of scholars.

Jessie Keefer and little daughter Mary visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mellott one day last week.

Obed Mellott is still employed at George Keefer's.

Mary, Edna, and Ethel Brannon visited Lena Mellott, last Sunday afternoon.

Wm. Eagle and daughter Etta spent Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zach Fisher who bought the farm of John R. Paylor, deceased. They moved there a few days ago from West Virginia.

Garthwaite Mellott spent Sunday with his sister Mrs. Barney Bivens.

Miss Cora Nesbit and Miss Flora Shives spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bivens's.

Quay S. Mellott, in a letter to his mother dated Feb. 17th, says he is getting along alright and tips the scales at 170 pounds.

Mrs. W. O. Peck, of Sharpe, spent Monday night with Rymond Shives. On Tuesday both were visitors at the County Seat.

School Auxiliary.

The McConnellsburg schools have organized the Toujoura Pret (always ready) school auxiliary of the American Red Cross with 83 members. The following are the officers: chairman, George Tritle; vice chairman, Charles Ray; treasurer, Mary Kirk, secretary, Rose Daniels.

LASHLEY.

We were surprised last Friday morning to see another snow storm added to our list of bad days for winter 1917-18.

Edward Olshaskion of Pittsburg, spent a few days recently with his friend Miss Annie Schultz.

The Institute at Center and Barnes Gap were well attended. The Red Cross festival was quite a success. An entertainment will be held in March for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Frank Mann is able to be out again.

Rush Ritz had the misfortune to get one of his legs badly hurt last week by a horse slipping on the ice and falling on him.

Mrs. J. M. McKibbin and son-in-law Clyde Barnhart, of Hagerstown, attended the funeral of the latter's mother, Mrs. C. W. Barnhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stoner are all smiles. It's a Red Cross Nurse!

Roy Hendershot has to report at McConnellsburg this week. Chester Bishop has arrived safe at Camp Lee and thinks he will like the place.

The Thrice-A-Week Edition of the New York World in 1918

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. We have been forced to enter the great world war and a large army of ours is already in France. You will want to have all the news from our troops on European battlefields, and this promises to be the most momentous year in the history of our universe.

No other newspaper at so small a price will furnish such prompt and accurate news of these world shaking events. It is all necessary to you.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 150 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS together for one year for $2.15.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.
