

Pictures of World Events for News Readers

In This Department Our Readers in Fulton County and Elsewhere May Journey Around the World With the Camera on the Trail of History Making Happenings.

1—American soldiers at the main entrance of the Casino at Aix-les-Bains, the rest center for our forces in France. 2—Scene during the great fire in Jersey City that followed tremendous explosions in the Jarvis warehouse. 3—George C. Russell and his aerial torpedo, which he thought was being used in the bombardment of Paris; the plans of the device were stolen by Roy-Ed and taken to Germany.

AMERICA SEIZES DUTCH VESSELS AT NEW YORK

United States naval officer boarding the Zeeland, one of the 45 Dutch vessels seized by the American government in the port of New York.

LOYAL AMERICANS MUST CONTRIBUTE

CRUSHING OF GERMANY CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED ONLY BY OUR FINANCIAL AID.

RESPOND TO LIBERTY LOAN

Appeal to All True Citizens to Help Eliminate the Diseased Tree Lying Across the Path of True Democracy.

(By WINSTON CHURCHILL, Who Recently Returned From the War Zone.)

Germany may be likened to a great tree that has fallen across the path of democracy. The trunk is being chopped through by two axes, the military ax and the propagandist ax. If the trunk is to be severed and the obstruction removed, neither ax must be spared. Americans must contribute willingly to help their allies, to support their army and navy, which will be the deciding military factor in the struggle.

Our American president was the first world statesman to make clear that while a military victory is essential, it is not in itself adequate. The great significance of this war lies not on the battle lines, but behind them. It is a war for human liberty, and that which restricts human liberty, not only in the German empire, but also in America and England and France and Italy and Russia must be abolished. We are beginning to perceive that the future progress of democracy depends on national unselfishness and international co-operation scientifically conceived.

Issued World Proclamation.

In a series of masterly state papers Mr. Wilson has announced to the world that America enters the war unselfishly, and has defined the true issue for all the peoples of the earth—even for those deluded portions of the German population which, because of a false system of education, have hitherto upheld the hands of the worst enemies of liberty, the Junkers. Until quite recently, one of the most disquieting symptoms from the point of view of the allies was a discontent with, if not an actual opposition to, the war of large elements among the working classes of the allied peoples. In Russia, where democracy was most cruelly suppressed, where conditions for the peasant and the workingman were hardest, a revolution actually took place—a revolution that has sounded the keynote of our times. The world service which our president is doing is that of enlisting the allegiance of those masses for the war. He is convincing them that it is their war. And these are they upon whom the evils of an outward economic system have pressed hardest, and who hitherto have seen little hope that victory over the Germans meant their own deliverance. Mr. Wilson has issued a world proclamation of emancipation from economic slavery.

Make Their Own Treaties.

He not only declares that powerful nations shall cease to exploit little nations, but that powerful individuals shall cease to exploit their fellow men. He declares that henceforth no wars shall be fought for domination, and that to this end secret treaties shall be abolished. The peoples through their representatives shall make their own treaties. And just as national democracy insures to the individual the greatest amount of self-determination, of self-realization, world democracy shall insure self-determination to the individual nations of the earth, in order that each may be free to make its own contribution to world democracy.

Fighting for Oppressed.

This is the spirit in which America has entered the war. We are fighting for the oppressed everywhere. And we are equally determined that the injustice and inequalities that exist in our own government, the false standards of worth, the materialism, the luxury and waste shall be purged from our midst. We shall seize this opportunity to finish up the cleaning of our own household. To sustain our army and navy in the struggle for such a cause, to uphold our president, to aid our allies who have fought so long and so bravely, these are worthy of our sacrifices. I am confident that the response of the American people to the third Liberty loan will be generous.

Bonds Feed the Boys.

Every farmer knows how his boys like to eat. Mother's fried chicken and apple dumplings and pumpkin pies haven't a chance in the world when the boys sit down at table. Lots of farmers' boys are in France and the farmer doesn't want them to go hungry over there. Liberty Bonds buy food for them.

Don't Bury Your Bond.

When you and your neighbor have bought your Liberty Bonds, don't take them home and hide them in the cupboard. Take them to your country banker and have him give you certificates of deposit for the bonds. Your banker can take these bonds to a Federal Reserve bank and borrow money for your use in case you suddenly find yourself in need of funds. Hiding a bond is as bad as hoarding money. Keep the bonds and the money in circulation and the country will pull through this crisis all right.

The Safest Guide.

The much-praised optimist, although to be admired, is not a safe guide. He tells us all is well, when it is not. He fails to see the pitfalls and urges us forward and we fall into them. Likewise the pessimist, although shunned and berated, leads us to be over cautious. Under his influence we hopelessly sit down for fear we will fall into the pit, when there is none. The cautious leader who watches, waits, and withal is patient expecting the world to move forward, is always most trustworthy.

STRENUOUS ATHLETICS AT CAMP SHERIDAN

The Ohio and West Virginia troops in training at Camp Sheridan are given all kinds of athletic exercises to put them in good shape. The illustration shows some of the men learning various wrestling holds.

TONS OF CLOTHING FOR VICTIMS OF THE HUNS

Many tons of wearing apparel have been collected in the United States recently for the destitute people in the parts of Belgium and France devastated by the invading Germans. The photograph shows a Red Cross worker sorting the donated garments.

WITH THE BRITISH IN PALESTINE

CAPTAIN KOENIG, INTERNED

British gunners in Palestine making use of a Turkish observation post which they have captured.

Captain Koening, late commander of an interned German merchantman and a reserve officer in the imperial German navy, has been put to work by Uncle Sam. He is one of a gang of prisoners who are "making little ones out of big ones." Under heavy guard the men are busy breaking stones and building drains.

FINGER-PRINT EXPERT

BEYOND BAGDAD WITH THE BRITISH FORCES

Miss Marie Dahm, twenty-two years old, is one of the navy's leading fingerprint experts, the second of her sex to enter this branch of government service and the first in New York state to enter the naval reserve. Miss Dahm had studied for two years prior to taking the civil service examination with an idea of securing a position in the New York police department. Her work for the government is of a particularly intricate character.

Blindfolding a Turkish prisoner before he is taken through the British trenches at Jebel Hamarin, in Mesopotamia.

POILUS HURRYING TO THE FRONT

A French portafect on a narrow gauge railway carrying a load of Poilus to the front lines in the Somme sector.

Has Cork Leg, Fit for War.

A Polish man who has only one leg can do in the army. It does not take a man with two legs to peel potatoes in an army kitchen, and I do not see why such a man should be taken for that work when one who cannot go into the fight can do the work just as well.

"This man is in perfect health," said Dr. A. C. Combs, the physician member of the board, according to the New York Herald, who declined to give the name of the registrant. "We are putting the question of his service up to the medical advisory board. He is well suited for many branches of army work and probably will be classed as a noncombatant."

"There are many lines of work that a man who has only one leg can do in the army. It does not take a man with two legs to peel potatoes in an army kitchen, and I do not see why such a man should be taken for that work when one who cannot go into the fight can do the work just as well."

Hooverizing.

Our friend Williams tells us of a certain young matron of bohemian trend of mind, who accidentally sat in at a knitting bee the other day. As the needles worked rapidly, in rhythm with the tongues, the latter were busy with the vital subject of the day—housekeeping methods. They spoke of waste, of thrift, of leftovers and all that. And finally, the spirit of the occasion moved the young matron to remark:

"I heartily believe in the conservation of effort. I never wash the dishes and make the beds on the same day."

Embarrassing Missive.

"May I ask what is causing you so much perturbation?" "I have just received a questionnaire and must fill it out at once." "But you are too old to be drafted." "Of course. This is from Friend Wife, who is out of town. It concerns my movements for the last week."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Carrot Honey.

Take one pint grated raw carrot, two cups white sirup and two lemons. Mix ingredients and add the grated rind of one lemon. Heat slowly and simmer the mixture until it is thick and clear. Turn into scalded jelly glasses and when cold cover with hot paraffin. Serve with cold meat or as a sauce for puddings.

Beekeepers Help Feed Nation.

Response of beekeepers to appeals to increase honey production, thus helping to meet the food shortage, and especially the sugar shortage, has been strikingly large, according to a report by the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture.

The honey market news service inaugurated by the bureau of markets of the department is expected to curtail speculation and make the market more stable.

Poultry Breeding Associations.

Establishment of community poultry breeding associations illustrates interest by older people as the outgrowth of the girls' and boys' poultry clubs under the supervision of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture. The effect of these associations is to establish in one section an interest in one particular breed or variety of fowl. This work has been taken up in four states, with 42 associations and 885 members.

Epidemics in Teuton Lands.

The Medical Record comments on the multitude of articles printed in the German and Austrian medical papers describing epidemic diseases that have broken out in those countries since the beginning of the war, and says this demonstrates the inferiority of the hygienic measures taken by their medical staffs.