How About A Little Buckwheat?

In the sections where it can be grown buckwheat holds out more than usual promise this year. There are sure to be many acres here and there which, because of weather or shortage, will be unplanted when it is too late to put in oats or corn. These fields will just suit the buckwheat. Early preparation of the soil and a little available plant food to start growth will practically insure a good crop of buckwheat. If the field is inclined to be weedy, all the more reason for buckwheat. The buckwheat grows so fast that it soon takes the heart out of the hardest ragweed.

Buckwheat has long been the scapegoat of the cereal grains. Just because it is enterprising enough to try to grow on any old soil it has the reputation of being a poor-farm and poor farmer's special crop. That doesn't mean, however, that it will not do proportionally well with good treatment. Successful growers of buckwheat—the men who average 35 to 40 bushels per acre—know that well prepared land and a little available plantfood, such as is supplied by 200 or 300 pounds of a fertilizer carrying 2 per cent. of ammonia and 10 or 12 per cent. of phosphoric acid, are necessary factors to produce this good yield. They also know by some of the "buckwheat farmers," growing buckwheat year after year on the same land, not even taking the trouble of plowing re-seeding—for buckwheat is so good-natured that it will re-seed itself—and almost never contributing anything in the way of manure or fertilizer toward the growing of that crop.

Breezy Letter from Brattan.

James S. Brattan, formerly Assistant Editor of the FULTON COUNTY NEWS, but now Managing Editor of the Mount Union News, under date of May 31st, writes:

FRIEND PECK:—You know there is a place paved with Good Intentions. Well, if I have sent any cobbles from this "brick" town it was un-intentional, notwithstanding the fact that I did intend to write in answer to your of a few weeks ago.

I have a nice room in a big house set back in a great big green yard—nice and cool, bath, electric light, etc. Directly across the street Dr. R. B. Campbell and family reside in a splendid house. Mrs. Campbell's mother, Mrs. E. M. Lodge and the latter's daughter Miss Grace of McConnellsburg, are visiting Mrs. Campbell just now. I had the pleasure of spending Wednesday evening on the Doctor's big porch.

John R. Jackson, Esq., of McConnellsburg, dropped in to see me recently. Dan Cromer, of Fort Littleton, was in this week, and Dr. Campbell said he saw John P. Sipes passing through town this morning in his automobile, not in Mr. Campbell's automobile in John's own car.

Mike Laidig came up to our town to work about two weeks ago. I occasionally see Mr. Laidig on the street. Sam Gracey is one of our reporters, when he takes a notion. Jim Smith was here, but I have not seen anything of him for about a month. It is not an uncommon thing to see Fulton County people in Mount Union.

This "Bricktown" is some place. Minimum wages of unskilled labor is three dollars a day. I pay three dollars a week for my room, and glad to get it at that. Seven dollars a week is the minimum for table board, and seven and three make ten. But why should we worry? Salaries and wages walk arm in arm. You pay what is asked and pass it on to the next fellow. These prices are not excessive for cities, neither for Mount Union; for be it remembered that this town is no longer a "thick place" in the road, but a town rapidly approaching a population equal to that of all Fulton County. The payrolls of the several industries foot up enormous totals. Deposits in one of our banks exceed the million mark.

Taking into consideration the hundreds of "irresponsibles" that are always attracted to live towns like Mt. Union, we have little rowdyism. Over at the Powder Works, and at the several Refractories plants, uniformed police are necessary, of course, same as at all plants of magnitude in these strenuous war times when industries are engaged largely in government work. No one suppose for a moment that all intoxicants can be kept out of a place like this. But there is no doubt, whatever, that a "dry" county contributes is no uncertain degree to the good order that we enjoy.

I doubt if the average unskilled laborer is the gainer, in the long run, if he is making a good living and a little to spare in settled towns like McConnellsburg, if he "break up" his home to locate here. Men without any dependents may succeed, or families in which nearly every member may "take a job" can make the combined earnings average well. But a father with six little mouths gaping like a nest of young robins had better think twice before making the change.

The Retort Courteous.

Not long ago a letter came to Division Headquarters from a man who said, "my age is sixty-five, but I am only forty years old." The letter went on to state that the writer had served five years in the United States Army, that he had some knowledge of nursing and would only be too willing, if the Red Cross needed him, to go abroad and nurse without pay.

A courteous, letter of regret was sent him, thanking him for his generous and patriotic offer and explaining that his age debarred him from the opportunity he sought.

Nothing daunted he came back with this retort courteous: "Dear Sir: I thank you for your kind answer to my application as nurse. I have no doubt that Miss Francis knows the kind of persons necessary for overseas; so as I cannot go to the front, I will do my little bit right here by subscribing $1 a month to Over Seas Red Cross during the continuance of the War. I am subscribing $10 a month to Liberty Bonds out of my salary of $75 per month. I was reading of the second coming of our Lord Jesus and I thought 'surely Walker, you would not go out to meet the Master with a pipe or cigar in your mouth; so I have stopped the use of tobacco; hence this subscription.

Mr. Lewis D. McQuade and family of Altoona, accompanied by Mrs. McQuade's father Mr. Jacob Rotz, motored to McConnellsburg last Sunday. On their return home they were accompanied by Mr. McQuade's mother Mrs. Nancy McQuade. Mr. Rotz will spend the summer months in McConnellsburg and the Cove.

Let Uncle Sam have the coal

Thousands of tons of coal will be saved this summer in homes that formerly used a kitchen range all during the hot weather. These homes are going to use oil cook stoves so there will be more coal next winter and therefore more for the government. Will your home be one of them? It should be.

NEW PERFECTION OIL COOK-STOVES

will be in the majority of these homes and there should be one in yours. You will not only save coal—you will save money. Kerosene is far cheaper than coal. And with a New Perfection you can have the same good things to eat and with less work, trouble and time. It doesn't heat up the whole kitchen like a coal fire does, either. You can regulate the heat exactly as you want it. No fire to fix. No ashes to bother with. Many good cooks prefer to use a New Perfection the year 'round.

But they get the best results (and you will too) when they use Atlantic Rayolight Oil instead of ordinary kerosene. The difference is in the quality—the way it is refined and purified. All waste matter is taken out. All the heat-producing elements are left in. Atlantic Rayolight is a superior kerosene yet the price is no more than for the other kinds. There's a dealer near you who sells Atlantic Rayolight Oil. Look for the sign, "Atlantic Rayolight Oil For Sale Here." Decide right now that you will have a New Perfection Oil Cook Stove this summer. Your dealer can show you one now. Go and see it today.

High Crop Yields.

Almost every farmer agrees that he could raise more corn or oats or hay or potatoes on a given acre of land if he set out to do so, and generally concludes his remarks by saying that to do so would cost him more than the increase would bring on the market. In order to throw some light on this subject, Professor Frank App of the New Jersey Experiment Station collected data on 192 farms in Monmouth County, New Jersey. The average crop yield of the county was rated at 100 per cent. The income of the farm was compared with the average acre yield. The results are illuminating. On farms where the yield was 15 per cent. less than the average, the farmer worked for nothing and paid for the privilege in addition, and the lower the yield the greater was the net loss on the farm. On the other hand, the net gain increased steadily with the gain in acre production, even after all expenses of growing the crop were deducted. The man who grew crops one-third larger than the average received three times as much money for his effort after his expenses were deducted. Professor App sums up his findings as follows: "Expenses per crop acre increase with the increased production but not nearly so rapidly as receipts."

Husband and Wife.

1.—Under the Act of 1917, where a husband or wife dies intestate leaving children and a spouse the estate is divided as follows:

(a) If a spouse and one child only or a spouse and no children but descendants of one deceased child, the spouse shall be entitled to one-half of the real and personal estate absolutely.

(b) Where a spouse survives and more than one child, or one child and descendants of another, the surviving spouse shall be entitled to one third of the real and personal estate absolutely.

2.—If there is a will and it is contested a lawyer is necessary and he will advise the proper procedure.
