THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS MCCONNELLSBURG, PA.

NORTH OF FIFTY-THREE

(Copyright: Little, Brown & Co.)

By BERTRAND W. SINCLAIR

CHAPTER XVII-Continued. -15-

"Anyway, here it is: You got the essentials, up to a certain point, from the bunch of them if it took ten years They, the four of them, it seems, held selling scheme. That was legitimate. I couldn't restrain them from that, be- they did. ing a hopeless minority of one. Their chief object, however, was to let two of a good thing; also, they wanted the same while we can get full value each a good bundle of that stock while for it. Lorimer and that bunch will it was cheap-figuring that with the prospects I had opened up it would ter how the mine produces. sell high. So they had it on the marframed up to reorganize with a capithousand dollars. This all cut and each have made a small fortune on kind, lives by and for that sort of But with a quarter of a million in outoff with a five-thousand-dollar interest. To be sure, a certain proportion and get down, every one walks on you. of the money derived from the sale of Everything's restricted, priced, tinthis stock should be mine. But it goes kered with. There is no real freedom into the treasury, and they had it ar- of body or spirit. I wouldn't trade a ranged to keep it in the treasury, as a the operating. They had already indicated their bent by voting an annual stipend of ten thousand and six thousand doliars to Lorimer and Brooks as president and secretary respectively. Me, they proposed to quiet with a manager's wage of a mere five thousand a year-after I got on the ground and began to get my back up.

"But they capped the climax with what I must cold-bloodedly characterize as the baldest attempt at a dirty fraud I ever encountered. And they had the gall to try and make me a party to it. To make this clear you the company and acting as the comand four others to go in and stake You loved me and you found content-them in dead earnest next day that view all the activities of her circle Whitey Lewis and his partners must with a critical eye. Certain of her have what was due them, or I'd wreck friends had become tentative enemies. Brooks. But he didn't tell it all-his and every dollar I had to do it. And who were a numerous and influential kind never does, not by a long shot. I could have put them on the tramp. tribe, not only turned silent faces too-they'd already dipped their fin- when they met, but they made war on a meeting as soon as I shipped out gers in where they couldn't stand little her in the peculiar fashion of women. that gold and put through that stock- gation. I'm sure of that-or they A word here, a suggestive phrase would never have come through ; which | there, a shrug of the shoulders. It all with them, I'm going to sell my stock it. But in her own rooms she raged or three friends in on the ground floor and advise Lewis and the others to do unavailingly. manipulate the outfit to death, no mat-

"That's all of that, I don't care two half truth. And any of it was irritatket, and in addition had everything whoops about the money. There is ing-even if few believed-since it still gold in the Klappan Range and made a choice morsel to digest in gostalization of two hundred and fifty other corners of the North, whenever sipy corners, and brought sundry curi-I need it. But it nauseated me. I ous stares on Hazel at certain times. dried before I got there. Now, as it | can't stand that cut-throat game. And | Also Mr. Wagstaff had caused the originally stood, the five of us would Granville, like most other cities of its stockholders of Free Gold a heavy loss these Klappan claims. They're good, thing. The pressure of modern life that the Free Gold properties were makes it inevitable. Anyway, a town producing richly. None of this was standing stock-well, it would be all is no place for me. I can stomach it even openly flung at her. She gathered right for the fellow with a big block. about so long, and no longer. It's too it piecement. And it galled her. She But you can see where I would get cramped, too girded about with petty- could not openly defend either Bill or larceny conventions. If once you slip herself against the shadowy scandalmongers.

comfy log cabin in the woods with a fund for operations, with them doing big fireplace and a shelf of books for circles had accorded her as the wife the finest home on Maple drive-not if of a successful mining man. It made I had to stay there and stifle in the her ponder. Was Bill so far wrong, dust and smoke and smells. That after all, in his estimate of them? It would be a sordid and impoverished was a disheartening conclusion. She existence. I cannot live by the dog- had come of a family that stood well eat-dog code that seems to prevail in Granville; she had grown up there; wherever folk get jammed together in if lifetime friends blew hot and cold an unwieldy social mass. I have said like that, was the game worth playing? the like to you before.

to live in these crowded places. I love as at first she had looked dublously on you, little person, I don't think you spending Bill's money to maintain the realize how much, but I can't make you happy by making myself utterly now welcomed that deposit of five miserable. That would only produce thousand dollars as a means to demmust understand that I, on behalf of the inevitable reaction. But I still onstrate that even in his absence he think you are essentially enough like pany's agent, grubstaked Whitey Lewis me to meet me on common ground. she began to perceive counted more those claims. I was empowered to ment and joy at our little cabin once. Don't you think it might be walting there again?

"If you really care, if I and the old North still mean anything to you, a ew days or weeks, or even months of she remembered Bill saying that was eparation won't matter. An affection their holiest creed. hat can't survive six months is too ragile to go through life on. I don't sk you to jump the next train and out in a letter to him. But she could follow me. I don't ask you to wire me, not quite bring herself to the point. Come back, Bill.' Though I would Always behind Bill loomed the vast come quick enough if you called me. I and dreary Northland, and she shrank want you to think it over sofrom that berly and let your heart decide. You know where I stand, don't you, Hazel, dear? I haven't changed-not a bit- tion. All her life she had been splen-I'm the same old Bill. But I'd rather didly healthy; her body a perfecthit the trail alone than with an unwilling partner. Don't flounder about in any quicksand of duty. There is no 'I ought to' between us. "So it is up to you once more, little person. If my way is not your way I pearing as suddenly, will ablde by your decision without whining. And whenever you want to afternoon wrestling nervously with a reach me, a message to Felix Courvolseur, Fort George, will eventually Lorimer was ushered in. find me. I'll fix it that way.

Kitty Brooks and the Bray womenfolk, bore fruit. Other friends conveyed the "But I'm sorry I ever got mixed up avid gossip. Hazel smiled and ignored

Her husband had left her. There was a man in the case. They had lost everything. The first count was sufficiently maddening because it was a -which was only offset by the fact

Slowly it dawned upon her, with a bitterness born of her former experience with Granville, that she had lost something of the standing that certain In so far as she could she gave the

"By nature and training I'm unfitted lie to some of the petty gossip. Wherestandard of living they had set up, she stood behind her financially-which than anything else. So long as she could dress in the best, while she could ride where others walked, so long as she betraved no limitation of resources, the doors stood wide. Not what you are, but what you've got-

It repelled her. And sometimes she was tempted to sit down and pour it all to hold you so long."

'You're Almost a Stranger," Hazel Remarked, After the First Greetings.

terribly wearisome. I'm always glad

They chatted of sundry matters for

"By the way, is there any truth in a few minutes.

"Warned him? Why?" Hazel neg- | had ever known. For Vesta Lorimer lected the question entirely. The blunt- was beautiful beyond most women; ness of it took her by surprise. Frank, and she had but given ample evidence speech was not a characteristic of of the bigness of her soul. With Vesta Lorimer's set.

The girl shrugged her shoulders. "He is my brother, but that doesn't veil my eyes," she said coolly. "Paul is too crooked to lie straight in bed. I'm glad Mr. Wagstaff brought the lot of them up with a round turn-which he seems to have done. If he had used a club instead of his fists it would have been only their deserts. I suppose the fuss quite upset you?"

"It did," Hazel admitted grudgingly. It did more than upset me."

"I thought as much," Vesta said slowly. "It made you inflict an indeserved hurt on a man who should have had better treatment at your hands; Lorimer was right to term her a stiffnot only because he loves you, but because he is one of the few men who deserve the best that you or any woman can give."

"You've said quite enough," Hazel cried. "If you have any more insults, please get rid of them elsewhere. I think you are-"

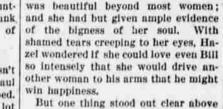

"Oh, I don't care what you think of me," the girl interrupted recklessly, "If I did I wouldn't be here. I'd hide behind the conventional rules of the game and let you blunder along. But I can't. I'm not gifted with your blind egotism. Whatever you are, that Bill of yours loves you, and if you care anything for him, you should be with him. I would, if I were lucky enough to stand in your shoes. I'd go with him down into hell itself gladly if he wanted me to!"

"Oh !" Hazel gasped, "Are you clean mad?"

"Shocked to death, aren't you?" Vesta fleered. "You can't understand, can you? I love him-yes. I'm not ashamed to own it. I'm no sentimental prude to throw up my hands in horror at a perfectly natural emotion. But he is not for me. I dare say I couldn't give him an added heartbeat if I tried. And I have a little too much pride-strange as it may seem to you -to try, so long as he is chained hand and foot to your charlot. But you're making him suffer. And I care enough to want him to live all his days happlly. He is a man, and there are so few of them, real men. If you can make him happy, I'd compel you to do so, if I had the power. You couldn't understand that kind of a love. Oh, I could choke you for your stupid disloyalty. I could do almost anything that would spur you to action. I can't rid myself of the hopeless, reckless mood he is in. There are so few of his kind, the patient, strong, loyal, squaredealing men, with a woman's tenderness and a lion's courage. Any woman On top of this, she began to suffer should be proud and glad to be his a queer upset of her physical condimate, to mother his children. And you-She threw out her hands with a sudworking machine, afflicted with no den, despairing gesture. The blue weaknesses. Now odd spasmodic pains eyes grew misty, and she hid her face recurred without rhyme or reason in in her palms. Before that passionate her head, her back, her limbs, strikoutburst Hazel sat dumbly amazed, ing her with sudden poignancy, disapstaring, uncertain. In a second Vesta lifted her head definitly. She was stretched on the lounge one "I had no notion of breaking out like this when I came up," she said quietparticularly acute attack, when Vesta ly. "I was going to be very adroit. I intended to give you a friendly boost "You're almost a stranger," Huzel along the right road, if I could. But remarked, after the first greetings. it has all been bubbling inside me for "Your outing must have been pleasant, a long time. You perhaps think it very unwomanly-but I don't care much "It would have held me longer,' what you think. My little heartache Vest returned, "if I didn't have to be is incidental, one of the things life in touch with my market. I coold live deals us whether we will or not. But quite happily on my island eight if you care in the least for your husmonths in the year. But one can't get band, for God's sake make some efpeople to come several hundred miles fort, some sacrifice of your own petty to a sitting. And I feel inclined to aclittle desires, to make his road a little quire a living income while my vogue pleasanter, a little less gray than it that painful meeting. She was done fighting against the blankness that seemed to surround her since Bill went away. Slowly but steadily it had been forced upon her that much which she deemed desirable, even necessary, was of little weight in the balance with him. Day and night she longed for him, for his cheery voice, the whimsical good humor of him, his kiss, and his smile. Indubitably Vesta necked, selfish fool. But if all folk were saturated with the essence of wisdom-well, there was but one thing to be done. Silly pride had to go by the board. If to face gayly a land she dreaded were the price of easing his heartache-and her own-that price she would pay, and pay with a grace but lately learned.

His Round Face Lit Up With a Smile of Recognition.

She lay down on the lounge again. The old pains were back. And as she endured, a sudden startling thought flashed across her mind. A possibility?-yes. She hurrled toodress, wondering why it had not before occurred to her, and, phoning up a taxi, rolled downtown to the office of Doctor Hart. An hour or so later she returned. A picture of her man stood on the man-

Slice Libby's Veal Loaf and garnish with cucumbers, water-cress and salad dressing-very tempting!

"What an extraordinarily long is drink out of his gilded pewter cup?" that bird has!" "Must be dealing arrange with these five men that if the claims made a decent showing each should receive five thousand dollars in stock for assigning their claims to the company, and should have employment nt top wages while the claims were operated.

"That Was When I Smashed Him."

"They surely earned it. You know what the North is in the dead of winter. They bucked their way through a hell of frost and snow and staked the claims. If ever men were entitled to what was due them, they were. And not one of them stuttered over his bargain, even though they were taking out weekly as much gold as they were to get for their full share. They'd given their word, and they were white men. They took me for a white man also. They took my word that they would get what was coming to them, and gave me in the company's name clear title to every claim. I put those titles on record in Hazelton, and came home.

"Lorimer and Brooks deliberately proposed to withhold that stock, to defraud these men, to steal-oh, I can't find words strong enough. Brooks said to me, with a grin: "The property's in the company's name-let the roughnecks sweat a while. They've got no come-back, anyway."

"That was when I smashed him. Do you blame me? I'd taken over those fellows' claims in good faith. Could I go back there and face those men and say: 'Boys, the company's got your claims, and they won't pay for them." Do you think for a minute I'd let a bunch of lily-fingered crooks put anything like that over on simple, squaredealing fellows who were too honest to protect their own interests from sharp practice? A quartette of softbodied mongrels who sat in upholstered office chairs while these others wallowed through six feet of snow for three weeks, living on bacon and beans, to grab a pot of gold for them ! It makes my fist double up when 1 think about It.

"And I wouldn't be put off or placat ed by a chance to fatten my own bank roll. I didn't care if I broke the Syst Gold Mining company and myself likewise. A dollar doesn't terrify nor yet would call good form for me to lose fists, I was fighting mad when I thorcuff him around with your two hands vagary of self, an obsession of her own he's apt to listen serious to what you | ego. say. And they listened when I told And slowly but surely she began to Mr. Wagstaff against Paul."

"So long, little person, I like you a heap, for all your cantankerous ways. "BILL"

She hald aside the letter, with a lump in her throat. For a brief instant she was minded to telegraph the word that would bring him hurrying back. But-some of the truths he had set down in cold black and white cut her deep. Of a surety she had drawn her weapon on the wrong side in the min-Insts." ing trouble. Overhasty?-yes. And shamefully disloyal. Perhaps there was aren't you?" Hazel commented. something in it, after all; that is to say, it might be they had made a misyou were buried allve in it." take. She saw plainly enough that unless she could get back some of the cumstances," Vesta replied. "One es-old enthusiasm for that wilderness life. capes many disheartening things in a unless the fascination of magnificent country that is still comparatively distances, of silent, breathless forests primitive. The continual grind of of contented, quiet days on trail and keeping one's end up in town gets stream, could lay fast hold of her again, they would only defer the day of reckoning, as Bill had said, No, she would not attempt to call him back. She doubted if he would come. And she would not go-not yet. She must have time to think.

Altogether, as the first impression of Bill's letter grew less vivid to her she considered her grievances more. And she was minded to act as she had set out to do-to live her life as seemed best to her, rather than pocket her pride and rejoin Bill. The feminine instinct to compel the man to capitulate asserted Itself more and more strongly.

A month passed.

During that thirty-day period she received a brief note from Bill. Just a few lines to say:

"Hit the ranch yesterday, little person. Looks good to me. Went fishing last night about sundown. Trout were rising fine. Nalled a ten-pounder, Woke up this morning at daylight and found a buck deer with two lady friends standing in the middle of the clearing. I loafed a few days in Fort have to leave, But I suppose it's large-George, sort of thinking I might hear from you. Am sending this out by ly in one's point of view." Will start for the Klapgen Jake. about day after tomorrow."

Ghe had not answered his first letter. She had tried to. But somehow fascinate me-I hope it never will. And when she tried to set pen to paper the has created trouble between you and en by a superior officer and that no while, perhaps, it was not what they right words would not come. She your husband?" Vesta asked abruptly, orders will be given until Private Billocked his facility of expression. "I dare say it's quite an impertinent my temper and go at them with my There was so much she wanted to say, question, and you'd be well within so little she seemed able to say. As your rights to tell me it's none of my oughly sensed their dirty project. Any- the days passed she felt less sure of business. But I should like to conway, it helped bring them to time. her ground, less sure that she had not found some of these petty tattlers. I When you take a man of that type and sacrificed something precious to a yet I've heard tongues wagging. I must be now. You'll be well repaid-"You're rather a wilderness lover, if you are the kind that must always be paid in full. Don't be a stiff-netked don't think you'd love it as dearly if idiot. That's all I wanted to say. Goodby !" "That would all depend on the cir-

She was at the door when she finished. The click of the closing catch stirred Hazel to speech and action. "Vesta, Vesta !" she cried, and ran out into the corridor.

But Vesta Lorimer neither heeded nor halted. And Hazel went back to her room, guivering. Sometimes the truth is bitter and stirs to wrath. And mingled with other emotions was a dull pang of jealousy-the first she her path.

PUT UNDER WAR DISCIPLINE Mother's Ingenious Scheme to Secure Respectful Attention From Her Small Boy.

There are small boys who are not very prompt to mind their mothers or who do not give their elders a respectful amount of attention when receiving orders. Yet some of them can be disciplined according to the methods used by an alert mother to whom the war gave the idea.

No longer is she simply mother; she is, indeed, a person of far more importance to her militant young son-she's

Captain Mother! Her imaginative boy is Private Billie, and, as he prides himtween two fellows who were talking self upon being a good soldier, you about a third fellow who was by the can guess that few of the captain's orto go to the woods, and sorry when I ders are ignored. Consequently, not

> "Bill lives beyond his income, be proud of, but his comprehendera doesn't he?" and remembrance of orders given are

"Lives beyond his income? Why, Bill greatly improved, for the captain has lives beyond the income he wishes he told him that he must stand at attenhad !"-Exchange. the statement that this Free Gold row tion and salute when his name is spok-

He'd Better Say It.

He's eyes are fastened upon the captain's with undivided interest.

At the end of the week the private's sonally is made of one potato, one record is reviewed, not only by the onion, one pinch of salt and a vast volcaptain but by the family army's ume of water, but under such circum haven't been home forty-eight hours; chief of staff-father. If the record stances a man who tries to be pleasis approved the captain threads a lit- ant and cheerful around the house can hoope there's nothing in it. I warned the metal button upon a ribbon, and, always say: Well, this is good and hot. behold! Private Billie receives a deco- -Ohio State Journal.

tel. She took it down and stared at it with a tremulous smile. "Oh, Billy-boy, Billy-boy, I wish you knew," she whispered. "But I was coming, anyway, Bill !" That evening, stirring about her preparations for the journey, she paused, and wondered why, for the first time since Bill left, she felt so utterly at peace.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Home Again.

Twelve months works many a change on a changing frontier. Hazel found this so. When she came to plan her route she found the G. T. P. bridging the last gap in a transcontinental system, its trains westbound already within striking distance of Fort George. She could board a sleeping car at Granville and detrain within a hundred miles of the ancient trading post-with a fast river boat to carry her the remaining distance.

Fort George loomed up a jumbled area of houses and tents, log buildings, frame structures yellow in their newness, strangers to paint as yet. On every hand others stood in varying stages of erection. Folks hurried about the sturdy beginning of a future greatness. And as she left the boat and followed a new-laid walk of planks toward a hotel, Jake Lauer stepped out of a store, squarely into ration for his loyal service to the household and to his superiors. You can readily see how this war play makes obedience a wonderfully fascinating game and disciplines the ladlie beautifully at the same time.

His round face lit up with a smile of recognition. And Hazel, fresh from the long and lonesome journey, was equally glad to set eyes on a famillar, a genuinely friendly face. (TO BE CONTINUED.) ~~~~~

Going Some. "So you think you love her?" smiled

the cynical friend. "I know I love her !" swore the infatuated youth.

"Are you sure you love her as much as you think you do?" "Say, I'm sure of more than that. I love her as much as she thinks I do!" And, of course, as one thing leads to another, that height of affection story reminds us of the conversation be-way of being a spendthrift One fellow said: only Billie's obedience is a thing to

The latest kind of war soup with which we have had anything to do per-bb of hour day they amount to 5,000,000 han pounds dally. The meat goes to sol-te the diers of the United States and the al-Wa cis to the diers of the civilian population of $24 uget all the countries at war with Ger- the many. cla -Chicago Tribune, June 5, 1918 in the to the allies for some time at the rate

70 of 15,000 pounds a minute. As 'the shipments are kept up during a ten

Abroad.

Shipments of meat have been going R.

acl ers

tor rot

Be .ond

917.

a m

mitte

all

These statements were made by a prominent representative of the United States Food Administration.

No industry in the country has played a more important part in helping to win the war than the American livestock and meat-packing industry.

Swift & Company alone has been forwarding over 500 car loads of meat and meat products per week for overseas shipment.

Swift & Company, U.S. A.

The last straw that put the camel A woman's idea of a congenial husdown and out had a mint julep at the band is one who lets her have her own other end of it. way in everything

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Do you feel tired and "worn-out?"| Don't ignore the "little pains i Are you nervous and irritable? Don't aches," especially backaches. The sleep well at night? Have a "dragged may be little now but there is no tell out," unrested feeling when you get ing how soon a dangerous or fatal dir up in the morning? Dizzy spells? Bil- ease of which they are the forerun lous? Bad taste in the mouth, back- ners may show itself. Go after the ache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease. urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the polsonous microbes, which are always in you with a box of GOLD MEDAL your system, have attacked your kid- Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours neys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL After you have cured yourself. con Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately, tinue to take one or two Capsules The oil sonks gently into the walls each day so as to keep in first-class and lining of the kidneys, and the litthe poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are imme-diately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain. puin.

cause of that backache at once, or y Do not delay a minute. Go to you druggist and insist on his supplying you will feel renewed health and vigor. condition, and ward off the danger genuine.--Adv.