Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous break-down and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had head aches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a phy-sician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I able to do most any

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result ber nervousness disappeared.

WHAT SOME BUSINESS MEN SAY ABOUT DRINK.

American Rolling Mill Co., Middletown, Ohio: We see no reason for lessening the opposition of industry to the use of alcohol as a beverage on the part of employees. As far as our experience goes, sobriety is absolutely essential to efficiency and to the progress of the individual workman.-George M. Verity, president.

Jackson (O.) Iron and Steel Company: We prohibit the use of alcohol by our employees while on duty and do all within our power to discourage the use while off duty. We favor the nondrinking men in the matter of promotion, and advance only those who are strictly sober in their habits to positions of responsibility. We are opposed to alcohol as a beverage not only for the sake of our own business, but for the sake of our employees themselves .- J. F. Morgan, secretary.

Crane Company, Chicago: We believe that drinking intoxicating liquor lessens a man's efficiency, and in considering men for promotion we lay particular stress upon sobriety.-John B. Berryman, first vice president.

Duquesne Steel Foundry Company, Coraopolis, Pa.: It has long been a policy of our company to give preference in promotion to men who are not consumers of alcoholic drinks-L. A. Way, superintendent.

The Buckeye Rolling Mill Co., Steubenville, Ohio: You can't be a boozer and deliver the goods.-J. T. Sarratt, secretary and treasurer.

Illinois Steel Company, Joliet, Ill.: In making promotions or in determining the merits of an employee, the fact that he does not use intoxicating ilquors at all will be considered in his favor, and if he does use intoxicants, it will count against him.-E. J. Buffington, president.

WHEN THE SALOON IS A BARRIER TO LABOR.

Because Bill Jones "boozes" he's worth $2.50 a day. Because Jim Smith is sober and clear-headed he's worth $3.50 a day. But the boss must strike a fair average, so he pays each $3.00

If there are two men like drinking Bill Jones in the shop, and one like sober Jim Smith, the average wage will probably be $2.75 a day. But if there are two men like sober Jim Smith and only one like drinking Bill Jones, their wage will likely be $3.25 a day.

The more men like drunken Bili Jones there are in a shop, the lower will be the average wage. The more men like sober Jim Smith, the higher Anyway, that's the way the ordinary boss figures it. He must strike a fair average, because he has all kinds of men in the shop.

In such a situation there can be no such thing as "personal liberty." No man has the right to degrade his fellow-workers through his personal habits,-Charles Stelzle.

ONE REASON WHY.

Alexander Koski of Marquette was found dead in front of his home Sunday morning. There was a round hole at the base of his skull about the size of an ordinary revolver bullet. The deceased conducted a candy store and came home Saturday night intoxicated, and it wasn't through eating candy that he was in this condition. The man stumbled about the house, tried to get into his wife's bedroom, but she, knowing his condition, had locked the door. There was a man with him. The man's son, returning from work at about eleven that night found his father sitting in one of the downstairs rooms and afterward he heard him go out of the house at about one o'clock in the morning. Whisky was fell while in his drunken condition, fracturing his skull.

It is one of a thousand reasons why, the people voted dry.-Ishpeming (Mich.) Record.

HIS PREFERENCE.

"It is the drug effect of alcohol for which beer and wine are drunk. There are palatable non-alcoholic drinks not produce the harmful results of althe drug effect, he will use such drinks. If he prefers beer and wines, he prefers them for the drug effect of alcohols to the danger of the temporary or permanent injury which this drug inflicts .- Stoddard.

What the saloon is, the brewery has made it. A legislative commission appointed by the State of Minnesota, found that 712 of the 814 saloons in St. Paul and Minneapolis were owned or controlled by brewers. Forty per cent of the licenses in Minneapolis and 78 per cent in St. Paul were paid for by brewery checks. Four hundred and twenty-eight saloon buildings were owned by them.

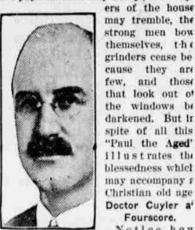

The French army authorities have forbidden the sale or consumption of alcoholic drinks in the war zone.

Growing Old

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL Assistant Dean, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT-Paul the aged.-Philemon 9.

Old age is dreaded by some. True the physical man may decay; the keepers of the house themselves, the grinders cease be cause they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened. But ir spite of all this "Paul the Aged' illustrates the blessedness which may accompany s Christian old nge Doctor Cuyler a' Fourscore. Notice hov cheerful he was. The Epistle to the Philippians was written in his latter years and from prison, yet its watch word is, Rejoice. Dr. Theodore Cuy ler in his autobiography, "Memories of Eighty Years," says: "There are some people who have a pitiful dread of old age. For myself, instead of it being a matter of sorrow or pain, it is rather an occasion of profound joy that God has enabled me to write in my family record, 'Four Score Years'. The October of life may be one of the most fruitful months in all its calendar; and the 'Indian summer' its brightest period when God's sunshine kindles every leaf on the tree with crimson and golden glories."

Notice how sympathetic Paul was when old. Shakespeare declares "Crabbed age and youth canot live together," but Paul managed it. He delighted in young life and had Mark and Titus and Timothy about him What a secret of perpetual youth! Some Accomplishments of the Aged.

Then, too, this aged man was busy We understand the feeling of John Wesley which led him to pray, "Lord let me not live to be useless," We recall that Michael Angelo did his greatest work at sixty-seven and at ninety was an eager student and cried, "O for another hundred years!" "Paradise Lost" was written by Milton a few years before his death in old age.

Paul was busy with his writing. . It was just at this time he wrote to Phile mon, calling himself "Paul the Aged," that he sent forth his most glorious epistles-Ephesians, Philippians, Colos sians. Many aged people by writing letters of Christian counsel or cheer might make their last days wondrously fruitful. If they can no longer write with comfort, they may send forth printed pages like leaves of healing.

Paul was busy with his reading. He bids Timothy bring to him, while im prisoned shortly before his death, his books and parchments (2 Tim. 4:13) What an opportunity age affords to browse at will in our libraries. The books we have longed to read for years may then be enjoyed. And how rich they become in the light of the experience of life! Especially, "What glory gilds the sacred page."

Paul was busy praying. Truly, he prayed without ceasing and especially in old age, spent so largely in prison So long as this ministry is open, ac one need feel he has outlived his usefulness. Indeed, it is the very ministry neglected by those bearing the burden and heat of the day. How the Lord seeks for intercessors!

Paul was busy with his preaching True he was in prison, but he preached to his guards. So that throughout the Praetorian Guard Christ became known (Phil. 1:13 R. V.). We are reminded of such an invalid as Bella Cooke, confined to her room for years; but her bedside became a Bethel to thousands. The aged may be "Christian conversationalists" and may rival clergymen in their usefulness, Finally, Paul was hopeful. "The time of my departure is at hand," he says, and he knows that "to depart is the cause of his death. He evidently to be with Christ." As one has put it. not a space, but only a line, separates between the believer and his Lord, "A Christian old age may be like the polar midsummer days, when the sur shines till midnight, and dips but for an imperceptible interval ere it rises for the unending day of heaven."

May an Old Man Be Saved? Nothing is more pitiable than the case of an old person who is without made from grains and fruits that do hope. But such a person need not so continue. Gypsy Smith loves to tell cohol. If the drinker does not desire how his gypsy uncle was converted at the age of ninety-nine. "As many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name." (John 1:12.) You need not wait for some strange feeling or wonderful experience. If you will humbly receive Jesus Christ as your Saviour, you shall be saved! You may come late into the vineyard and expect but little, but who knows what the Lord of the vineyard may do (cf. Matt. 20:1-16)? We heard of one converted late in life who departed full of joy, exclaiming, "I shall have

CONFESSING CHRIST.

(May be used with missionary applica-LESSON TEXTS-Luke 12:8-12; Acts 1:1-

GOLDEN TEXT-Whosover shall confess me before men, him shall the son of man also confess before the angels of God.-Luke 12:8. DEVOTIONAL READING-James 3:1-

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL-Psalms 145: 20; I Peter 3:15.

I. Importance of Confessing Christ (Luke 12:8-12).

To confess Christ is not easy; it has pever been easy. To do so means exposure to ridicule, contempt and persecution. Regardless of its issue, the true disciple will confess his Lord.

1. Christ will confess before the angels of God those who confess him before men (v. 8). The true disciple will not be ashamed to let all men know that he knows, loves, and serves Christ. 2. Christ will deny before the angels of God those who deny him before men (v. 9). To deny Christ before men may get one a little of human applause, but will surely bring one to loss of heaven and to the sufferings of hell forever. 3. A pernicious testimony is unpardonable (v. 10). This testimony is the expression of a heart utterly perverse, attributing the mighty works of the Holy Spirit as wrought by Christ to the devil (Matt. 12-32; Mark 3:29). The unpardonable sin will only be committed by one whose heart is incurably and, one whose moral nature is so vile that he fplis to discern between God and the devil-n reprobate. 4. Divine aid given in testimony

(vv. 11, 12). In the most trying hour the Holy Spirit will teach the disciples what to say, and how to say it. II .- Qualifications for Confessing

Christ (Acts 1:1-11). Christ remained with the disciples forty days after his resurrection to orepare them for the important business of witnessing for him. He had a five-fold object: 1. To convince the disciples of the absolute certainty of his resurrection (vv. 2, 3). Before the disciples could undertake the great work for which they had been preparing, the question of Christ's resurrection must be settled beyond a doubt. No one can preach the gospel who does not have certainty of conviction touching the resurrection. 2. To instruct the disciples in things pertaining to the kingdom of God (vv. 3, 6, 7). Their unwillingness to hear Christ's instruction (John 16: 12, 13) before his passion shut out much valuable information, so the Lord tarries to supply this need. They had a wrong idea as to the kingdom being stored, not as to fact, but as to time, Christ had again and again predicted a coming kingdom in harmony with the united testimony of the prophets of Israel. They understood him aright as to the fact of the kingdom, but the time of its manifestation they failed to grasp. The disciples should be defended against the reproach for having a materialistic conception. The kingdom is still to come; the time of its coming is known only to God.

3. To show the disciples that their business was to witness for Christ to the uttermost parts of the earth (vv. 4, 5, 8.) This witnessing was to be done In the power of the spirit, the result of which would be the formation of a new body, the church, called out from the world in the time of the postponement of the kingdom.

4. To show the disciples the scope of their missionary activity (v. 8). This is shown to be as wide as the world itself. They were to begin at home and carry the good news concerning Christ to the uttermost parts of the earth. Mission work begins at home and ends with the bounds of the earth.

5. To show the disciples that Christ will henceforth operate from heaven. They were to work on the earth, but the source of their power was in heaven. Though he is separated from the disciples it will not be forever, for he will come again. He will come again as the God-man, our mediator. The words of the men in white apparel

(2) To show that in the meantime they should set to work in the dis charge of their commission, and not be gazing up into heaven. The Lord's in till I come" (Luke 19:13). Those who coming of Christ are not sky-gazers,

An Ancient Exemption Formula. Jesus shows how often ritualism actunlly defeats the purposes of religion He uses an example that was familiar to his hearers. If a man pronounced the word "corban," which means "consecrated," over anything, he was free from the obligation to use it for ordinary purposes, even if he changed his mind about giving It to God! So if an ungrateful son sald "corban" over his wages, he was exempted from helping to support his mother, even though he did not give the money to the temple! Of course, originally the practice meant that an offering, once vowed, was sacred and exempt from conflicting claims.-Christian Herald.

Living With Christ.

Where there is the life of Christ there is Christ himself, and where his life is not, Christ is not, and where a man hath his life, he may say with St. Paul: "I live, yet not I, but Christ hveth in me." And this is the noblest and best life, for in him who hath it God himself dwelleth with all goodness. So how could there be a better life?-Theologia Germanica (14th cen-
