

Pictures of World Events for News Readers

In This Department Our Readers in Fulton County and Elsewhere May Journey Around the World With the Camera on the Trail of History Making Happenings.

PENNSYLVANIA BRIEFS

While William C. Feather, 65-year-old, member of Wolfersberger & Feather, undertakers, at Wernersville, was embalming a body, he touched a drop light, which had evidently been heavily charged from the effects of the preceding storm due to crossed wires and was instantly killed. Three bystanders were shocked.

The state health department inspectors are making careful inquiries into outbreaks of infantile paralysis which have been reported. The cases have been more or less localized. Efforts are being made to prevent the spread of outbreaks which are classed as likely to happen about this time owing to the people traveling more.

Owners of timberland on the South Mountain, near Womelsdorf, who gave permission to coalless householders to cut dead trees on their lands, have found that great damage to live timber has been done. Even the old boundary trees have been destroyed.

I. C. Moore, former secretary and treasurer of the Sharon Savings and Trust company, who is far over the draft age, has been accepted for service for overseas duty by the Red Cross society. He will be connected with the financial end of the humanitarian organization and will give his services for the duration of the war gratis.

George H. Echwan, engineer, says the work on the new government houses in Sharon will be under way within the next six weeks. The construction will start just as soon as the house drawings are approved in Washington. A majority of the houses will be of five and six rooms, with an occasional tenement house.

All consumers of city water in New Castle have been ordered by the city bacteriologist, Dr. W. L. Steen, to boil water to be used for drinking purposes. Contamination has been found in the supply recently, he announces.

Ellwood City raises $250 for the Salvation Army war fund.

Scores of foreigners were arrested for cutting timber on lands of the Prince Metallie Paint Manufacturing company, at Bowmanstown. Every case was settled by the defendants paying fines and costs.

Miss Anna Richmond is the first Lansford woman to volunteer her services as nurse for the government.

Thousands of dollars in back pay due Lehigh Valley railroad employes under award of the federal wage commission were distributed in Hazleton. The company is paying these bonuses in monthly installments, which amount to as high as $50 every thirty days in some cases.

Mrs. Emma Serfass has brought suits against the Lehigh and New England Railroad company in Easton, for $50,000 for the loss of her husband, Lloyd Serfass, who was killed at a grade crossing and for $200 for the loss of his automobile.

Camp Lafayette has received a second contingent of 420 men, who will be given an eight weeks' course in mechanical training.

The formal passing of the Carlisle Indian School on August 27 will probably be marked by a special celebration, headed by Carlisle merchants, who are considering such a plan.

Sam Clark, one of the best known young attorneys in New Castle, has been notified to attend the officers' training camp that will open September 13.

Sixty-eight bushels of oats, the acre is the record made by Morris Kriebel, a Barto farmer.

A line of motor trucks to handle freight between Hazleton and Philadelphia has gone into operation.

It has been discovered that it is lice, not blight, which has damaged the potato crop throughout the state.

M. B. Rich, Clinton county, has filed withdrawal as a candidate for congress on the Roosevelt Progressive ticket.

The annual retreat of priests of the Scranton diocese will begin at Lake Winola, August 26, Bishop Hoban announces.

Three new gushers struck in the Middle Run field near New Bethlehem, are producing fifty to seventy-five barrels of oil each daily.

Seven hundred dollars in war stamps were purchased in one week by an Austrian, classed as an alien enemy, at Altoona.

A grass fire on the outskirts of Pottsville endangered a number of homes and required efforts of the whole fire department to subdue it.

Registered men in Millersburg, Lykens, Halifax, Williamstown, Elizabethtown and Getz are being drilled by members of the Harrisburg reserves.

The Northampton Traction company of Easton, operating lines to Nazareth and Bangor, will increase the fare in each zone from six cents to seven cents.

Four sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bha, of Easton—their only children—have entered the army.

Two "work or fight" prisoners on the Lewisburg chain gang made a break for liberty and were recaptured only after a three-hour chase in the mountains.

The military enrollment for Lehigh county shows a total of 21,461 men liable for service.

Accused by his mother of taking a $4 pair of shoes from her home and selling them for thirty-five cents, Michael Wallison, fourteen years old, of Pottstown, was locked up.

Although the average yield of oats per acre is thirty-five bushels, many Lehigh Valley farmers are realizing as high as forty-two bushels.

Russell Leibensperger, nine years old, missed his footing when he tried to jump on a tractor, at Alburis, and was crushed to death.

William Hoffman and his hired man, of Verfield, awakened in the night by squawking chickens, opened fire on the thieves, who escaped in an auto.

Plans for a community memorial for Connelville men, who have fallen in France, will be arranged at a meeting of the Ministerial association.

CLEMENCEAU VISITS YANKS IN BATTLE OF CHATEAU THIERRY

One of the first photographs of the actual battle of Chateau Thierry, in which the gallant American soldiers successfully stopped, defeated and drove back the German hordes, is here presented and shows Premier Clemenceau, in civilian attire, and General Mordacq at his right, surrounded by the American fighters of the battle, viewing the remains of the annihilated German troops.

CHATEAU THIERRY PEOPLE GREET THEIR LIBERATORS

In this, one of the first pictures to reach this country of the battle of Chateau Thierry, are shown some inhabitants of the town who remained during the German occupation walking through the destroyed streets to meet the American soldiers.

GENERAL PERSHING'S FIELD HEADQUARTERS

This is the field headquarters of General Pershing, established since he left the headquarters at Paris.

CAPTURED HUN PLANE WITH DECEPTIVE MARKING

This German plane of the Eiberstadt type shot down by French gunners was found to be marked with a cross closely resembling the emblem of the Red Cross and of the Republic of Switzerland, instead of the usual "Iron Cross" designation. Switzerland has complained to the German government about the use of this cross.

MRS. ROCKEFELLER HIT HARD

Prominent Y. W. C. A. workers who were holding a convention in Portland, Me., visited a shipyard where the traveler Albatross was under construction. Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., tried her hand at driving a loft in the keel, and wielded the hammer with skill and force.

"LICK THE HUN" IS HIS CHANT

The commanding officer of a famous R. A. F. fighting squadron in France with their mascot, a parrot, which finds a very comfortable perch on a propeller blade, are shown in this British official photograph. Besides having a snattering of the "polly-vous" language, the parrot is particularly vigorous in its denunciation of the Hun in virile English.

WOUNDED YANKS IN A LONDON HOSPITAL

These American soldiers are convalescing from wounds in a London hospital. They are receiving the best of treatment and seem quite content with their lot.

BRITISH GIRLS MAKING AIRPLANES

Upholstering department of a great airplane factory in England where girls are putting on the fabric covering for the decks and fuselage.

WHERE THREE YANKS DIED

American and French soldiers searching through the ruins of a French chateau where three American officers were killed and one wounded when it was shelled by the Huns.

MACHINE GUNNERS GALLOPING INTO ACTION

British machine gunners are particularly active in the great Franco-British-American drive in Flanders and Flanders. This British official photograph shows some of them galloping into action.

He Was a Fighter, Too.
"And what do you do for a living?" asked the judge of the man before him.
"I write poetry, your honor."
"What kind of poetry?"
"War poetry, your honor."
"But that seems like a nonessential occupation just now. Why don't you go and fight?"
"Fight? Say, Judge, that's just what I have to do when I try to get money for my poetry."

Apples Cook on Trees.
Apples cooking on the trees in the great orchard region of northern Virginia was one of the freaks of nature caused by the hot spell. State Fuel Administrator Byrd is displacing from his orchard, where the thermometer registered 120 degrees in the sun, fruit which has been thoroughly stizzled, if it actually has not baked, and other growers of fruits are threatened with ruin. Other growing crops withered under the hot wave, and it is said tremendous losses are likely.

Bad Result.
"They tried the new play on the dog."
"What happened?"
"The angel got bitten."

Paradoxical.
Squibbs—Funny, isn't it?
Squibbs—Yes, what?
Squibbs—Why a spotted child is thought to be so sweet by its parents.