Rec'd of Deaths.

WILLIAM E. GRESS.
William E. Gress, 43 years old, after an illness of 10 days, of pleurisy, died at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, August 29, 1918 at his home in York, Pa. He was employed at the plant of the York Manufacturing company prior to his illness, and was a member of Mystic Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and of Court Custer, No. 236, Foresters of America. Besides his wife, Mrs. Lucy Gress, the deceased is survived by four sons, William, Earl, Stewart and Paul, all of York. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Sophia Gress; three brothers, Daniel, Frank W. and Roy W., and three sisters, Mrs. Henry Jones, Mrs. Emory Hess and Mrs. Howard Smith, all of York. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. J. Kern McKee and the Rev. Dr. W. H. Feldmann had charge of the services. Interment was made in Greenmount cemetery. The deceased was a native of this county, and a son of Adam and Sophia Gress.

MRS. MAUDE ALICE NEAL.
The subject of this notice came to her death on Sunday morning, August 18, 1918, in Akron, O., at the age of 30 years, 3 months and 9 days. She was born at New Grenada, Pa., on the 11th of May, 1888, being the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cunningham. She was married to Etter W. Neal, of Altoona, Pa. May 12, 1907. Residing a short time in Orbisonia, they removed to Akron, O. in 1911, where they since resided. To this union were born two children, both of whom are living: Dorothy, aged 6 and George, 9. Surviving are the two children, one brother, Ralph of Altoona, and her father.

Funeral services were conducted at their home, 999 Jefferson Ave., by Rev. McAlpine, of the M. E. Church. Burial in Glendale cemetery.

This is one of the sad and sudden deaths of which no one has control. Mrs. Neal had not been sick—did her Saturday's housework, and was arranging to take her children and some friends in her automobile out pleasure riding in the afternoon, when she suddenly became ill. Her husband was phoned, and the family physician called. All possible efforts were made to relieve her sufferings. Early Sunday morning she was removed to a hospital where she suddenly expired before any help could be given. The death was caused by internal hemorrhages.

Maude, as she was familiarly called, lived an exemplary Christian life since youth, and was at time of death, an active and useful member of Woodland, M. E. church, affiliated with the several branches in the church. Her sudden death is a heavy stroke to her many friends—especially, to her husband and family, and to her father and brothers. As has been stated in the NEWS her father was not present. He had returned as far as Pittsburgh, from a vacation among friends in Fulton County, when he received the sad message. Dark are the clouds that now hang over the once exceedingly happy home of a lone husband and orphan children.

Maude was one of those good natured ones whose life was full of kindness to all, and doing things for others, caused her much pleasure. She carried sunshine in her soul which was visible in her smiles.

In one of Stevenson's Essays, is given this beautiful expression to the abiding things of life, which seems to apply here to the life and history of Maude. It is as follows: It is the history of our kindeeds that alone makes the world tolerable. If it were not for that—for the effect of kind words—kind acts—kind letters, multiplying, spreading, making one happy through another, and bringing both benefits—some fifty, some one-hundred and some one-thousand fold, I should be tempted to think our lives a practical joke in the worst possible spirit. So long as we love, we serve. So long as we are loved by others, I would almost say we are indispensable; and no one is useless while he has a friend. No achievement can make life successful that lacks the memory of kindness; and no life, however barren of material gain, can be a failure, that leaves behind it the fragrance of kindly deeds. Such was the life of Maude. Those who knew her best, loved her most.

What is a Branch House?
The Branch House is the place in the packing organization where what the packing plant does for you is put where you can use it.

Both are the natural result of growth and development in the living thing they belong to.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are located in distributing centers all over the country. They are fitted out with refrigerating equipment to keep meat cool, sweet and fresh.

Each one is in personal charge of a man who believes in what Swift & Company is doing for people and wants to help do it.

They are directed by men who have spent years learning how to get better meat cheaper to the places where it is needed.

Meat is shipped to the branch houses direct from the packing plants in Swift & Company's refrigerator cars, in such quantities that it can be disposed of while fresh and sweet.

Your meat dealer comes here to buy your meat for you—unless someone else can treat him better than we can.

So you need the branch house in order to live well; and the branch house and the packing plant need each other, in order to be useful to you.
