

Pictures of World Events for News Readers

In This Department Our Readers in Fulton County and Elsewhere May Journey Around the World With the Camera on the Trail of History Making Happenings.

1—American infantry passing through a French village on their way to the front. 2—Some of the four patriotic women of America have saved being unloaded at an American Red Cross warehouse in France. 3—Elsie Janis, popular actress, who canceled all engagements and is entertaining the soldiers behind the lines.

GASSED YANKEES ARRIVE AT THE HOSPITAL

A motorbus with American soldiers who have been injured in a gas attack on the western front arriving at an American Red Cross hospital at Juy, France. Had these same soldiers arrived a day sooner they might have been listed among the victims of the "Huns' latest victory" over another Red Cross hospital. The hospital was deliberately bombed by Boche aviators the day previous to their arrival, the result being that two persons were killed and fourteen injured.

GENERAL GOURAUD ADDRESSES HIS CAVALRY

PRINTING BONDS FOR FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

One entire division of the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington is now engaged solely on the engraving of Liberty Loan bonds. Working day and night, a force of experts turns out millions of dollars' worth of this paper and ink ammunition, which is doing as much for the final defeat of Germany as the steel-tipped shells that are being hurled at the Huns from allied guns. Uncle Sam has in his employ some of the greatest engraving experts in the country, men and women, all of whom are now working overtime to have bonds ready for the next issue. This is a recent photograph of the bureau's largest pressroom working night and day on six billion dollars' worth of bonds.

ENEMY GRAVES ATTENDED BY BRITISH

Even the enemy dead are respected by the British Tommies. The photograph shows a British soldier attending to the grave of an Austrian in Italy.

GLAD THAT HE IS DRAFTED

This is Lieut. Gen. Sir John Cowan, quartermaster general of the British army, who is responsible for the supply of food, materials and ammunition to the British forces on all fronts.

Shot-putting. "What's your boy doing at the cannonment?" "Practicing shot-putting." "I didn't know they were encouraging that form of athletic sport in the army." "Oh, yes. They're all there learning how to put shot into the Germans."

Whoops, My Dear! Little Dorothy and little Mary had visited the park while Dorothy was enjoying symptoms of a certain popular malady. We asked, subsequently, whether they had been to see the animals. "No," said little Mary, "they were afraid Dorothy would give the elf out or the graft the whooping cough."

HE FEEDS BRITAIN'S ARMIES

Every patriotic American loves the jingling tune of "Yankee Doodle," but no one seems to know just how or when it first began to be used.

It is ever so much older than the Declaration of Independence, and is said to have been originally written in Greek. "Iankhe Doule," meaning "Rejoice, O Slave!" or "Let the Slave Rejoice." The Greek words certainly sound, pronounced English fashion, enough like "Yankee Doodle" to make this belief a reasonable one.

At any rate, it is one of the oldest songs in the world, and at different periods of an unparalleled career has belonged to England, to the once vast empire of Holland and to the Roman Catholic church, where it probably originated somewhere about the year 200.

A Legal Discussion. "What do they mean by court calendar?" "I don't understand the term." "Nor do I. I thought courts paid no attention to time."

BEER BREWING STOPS DECEMBER 1

Food Administration Announces Drastic Move.

AFFECTS OTHER BEVERAGES

The Brewers May Be Allowed To Open Between December 1 And The Effective Operation Of Nation-wide Prohibition.

Washington.—Manufacture of beer in the United States will be prohibited after December 1 next as a war measure.

This announcement was made by the Food Administration, which said the decision had been reached at conferences between President Wilson and representatives of Fuel, Food and Railroad administrations and the War Industries Board.

Factors which influenced the decision to prohibit the manufacture of beer after December 1, the food administration announcement said, were "the further necessity of war industries for the whole fuel productive capacity of the country, the considerable amount which has materially affected the supply of feeding-stuff for next year's strain upon transportation to handle necessary industries and the shortage of labor caused by enlargement of the army program."

Warning also was issued to manufacturers of all beverage and mineral waters that for the same reasons there will be "further great curtailment in fuel for the manufacture of glass containers, of tin plate for caps, of transportation and of food products in such beverages."

Action along this line, it was said, had been expected by the brewing interests in view of the Fuel Administration's order of last July 3 reducing coal consumption of breweries 50 per cent, and a warning that they might not be able to continue in business.

Under national prohibition legislation passed by the Senate and sent to the House which enacted similar legislation last May, manufacture of beer and wine would be prohibited after May 1. Today's order will move up six months the time for discontinuance of the manufacture of beer, although the breweries may be allowed to resume operation between that date and the effective operation of the dry legislation, if finally enacted, since today's order was "until further orders."

The manufacturer of whisky was prohibited last year and there have been repeated demands in Congress that the President exercise his war-time power to stop the manufacture of beer as a food conservation measure. The House last May in adopting the Emergency Agricultural Appropriation Bill attached a rider which provided that none of the funds appropriated by the measure should be used until the manufacture of beer was discontinued.

MAY BRING HUNS TO U. S.

Corps Of Interpreters In Army Ordered Increased.

Washington.—Publication of orders providing for a substantial increase in the corps of interpreters of the army revived reports of plans for bringing to America large numbers of Germans captured on the western front.

The new orders provide that in addition to the commissioned personnel of the interpreters' corps already authorized, there will be "one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant and one sergeant for each 500 prisoners of war interned in the United States."

In this connection it is known that the shipment of civilian goods on returning army transports and supply ships recently was sharply curtailed by the military authorities.

HUNS ABANDON PEACE DRIVE.

Teutons Agree Present is No Time For It.

Washington.—Germany and Austria have agreed that the present is no time to start peace offensive, according to a dispatch from Switzerland reporting on the recent conference at Vienna between Admiral Von Hintze and Count Berian.

This message says the Teutonic foreign ministers agreed that the Entente must be made to realize that Marshal Foch cannot break the German front and that years would be required to defeat Germany.

An official French dispatch, commenting on the report, notes that the ministers did not speak as in the past of a victorious Germany dictating peace terms.

SENATOR FIRST TO REGISTER.

Henderson, Of Nevada, Sends Draft Card To Elko.

Washington.—Senator Henderson, of Nevada, has the distinction of being the first member of the United States Senate to register under the new draft law extending age limits to men under 46. He has filed with local draft authorities a registration certificate to be forwarded to his home at Elko, Nev. He is 45 years old.

ALLIES OCCUPY OBOZERSKAYA.

Prisoners Taken In The Region Around Archangel.

London.—A British official communication dealing with the operations of the Allied forces in the region around Archangel Russia says:

"After further severe hand to hand fighting with an enemy force led by the Germans, the Allied troops have occupied Obozerskaya. The Allied casualties were slight."

THEY ARE NOT ALWAYS FIGHTING

American soldiers in France not only enjoy their smokes, but cards as well. The game is probably "strip poker," as two of the men have already discarded their shirts. One has a large safety pin, ready for instant use in case of further losses, but then—note the horseshoe on his shoe.
