

Honor Roll Committee.

A central honor roll committee for Fulton County has been appointed by The Pennsylvania Council of National Defense and Committee of Public Safety to compile data for the permanent archives of the commonwealth, of this county's participation in the world war; to give generous recognition of all acts of heroism on the part of our men, and to hold memorial services for those who have died in the nation's service.

Six members comprise the committee. These members are Rev. William J. Lowe, Rev. Edward Jackson, Rev. C. F. Jacobs, Rev. Wilson V. Crove, Hon. John P. Sipes and John B. Runyan, all of McConnellsburg. They have accepted their duties and at a meeting on last Thursday evening effected the following organization: President, Rev. William J. Lowe, secretary and treasurer, John B. Runyan. In addition to the central committee there will be a committee, or an individual, in every township in the county who will carry on the work in their district, and submit such data as is requested to the Central Committee in McConnellsburg. This local committee will be named by the County Council and Committee.

The data to be compiled and put in form for permanent preservation is as follows:

Names of officers and enlisted men, together with the units to which they belong, the dates of their entry into, and their discharge from, the service.

List of those who died in the service, together with place and date of death.

List of all those wounded in the service.

List of all those reported missing.

List of those decorated or cited for bravery or special service.

Names of nurses and women in service, together with the dates of their entry into and their discharge therefrom.

It also is the purpose of this committee to erect at the Court House an honor roll marker, on which will be listed the above information with the exception of the military units to which the men belong, which will be held until after the war is over and then placed upon the marker.

At the meeting held Thursday evening the committee decided to hold the first memorial service for those who have died from this county while in the nation's service in the school auditorium in McConnellsburg, Saturday afternoon, October 19th at 2 o'clock. Invitations will be sent to the relatives and friends to those who have died to attend this service.

This is a work that will not only record the achievements of this County in the present conflict, but will be great value to those who are so nobly serving this country in its hour of trial, after the war is over. Every family who has members in service should make it their duty to see that this committee has all pertinent facts about those who are in the service.

Far the present, and pending the announcement of the District Committees, the above information may be sent to John B. Runyan, secretary, McConnellsburg, Pa., who will file same with the records.

Report of Red Cross Garments.

The Fulton County Chapter A. R. C. made for the month of September 108 drawers and 100 undershirts. This allotment of hospital garments was sent to the Pennsylvania Division Headquarters Philadelphia September 28. Forty-five ladies sewed in the Red Cross room, and to their credit, some were present almost every afternoon.

Our Chapter has both the workers and the enthusiasm for doing good work, as September is a fruit month there was sacrifices made.

No matter how many sacrifices we made, no matter how great the cost, this war must be won; and the winning of it will call forth all our energies as a nation.

Men and women, boys and girls, will be required to do their part to the uttermost, if our purpose is to be accomplished.

CHAIRMAN,
Working Committee,

Why No Girl Under Thirty

Should Go To France.

Miss Irene Beadley Armes, who has just returned from Paris where she spent six months as Hostess of the Hotel Petrograd operated by the Young Women's Christian Association, declares that not a single person under thirty years of age should be sent to France.

"I would suggest that not a woman under thirty go abroad unless she can accept responsibility," Miss Armes said. "Life on the other side is entirely different. The first thing an American discovers when she arrives, keen to do her 'bit', is that France is full of hard working people and she does not seem to be needed much."

"After her first three months abroad, whatever is weak inside of you begins to realize that this is a situation stripped of every bit of artifice, camouflage or red tape, and that only the things that count are left."

Miss Armes declares that "over in France these days, nobody preaches religion." "Everything is stripped bare" she said, "and since the war began, English and French women have grown silent. Any one who cannot understand this thing should not go to France!"

American soldiers are consumed with curiosity about French girls when they first arrive, Miss Armes said. "The soldiers are much more interested in them, than in the American girls who are doing war work around them. It is perfectly obvious why this is so. These girls are different. They are more interesting at first than their own women folk are. The soldiers want to play with them and talk to them and find out what manner of girls they are."

"They find willing listeners. First of all, because they are Americans, and then because they are alert, eager young lads, keen for fight."

May be Misunderstanding.

There appears to be a misunderstanding in regard to building operations under the new order of the United States Government. It will be necessary, hereafter, to receive the approval of the Pennsylvania Council of National Defense for every new operation, and it will be necessary to receive the approval of the Building Director for all repairs costing more than $2500.

Heretofore it appeared to be understood that new operations costing less than $2500, might be undertaken without the approval of the Building Director. This is not the case, since there must be approval for every new operation.

"I believe", said State Building Director B. Dawson Coleman, that when prospective builders understand exactly what the Government desires, they will as cheerfully and unanimously respect its wishes as auto owners have observed "gasless Sundays."

Burn Wood.

After many years urging the conservation of timber, the United States Government now feels obliged to face about and ask the public to burn wood instead of coal.

The Council of National Defense has issued instructions throughout the country, advising people everywhere to burn as much as possible in order to save coal.

The State of Pennsylvania owns more than a million acres of land, and nearly all of it is timbered. It is possible that the next Legislature will be asked to take steps which will enable the public to use a judicious amount of the timber for firewood.
