ISADORA DUNCAN'S HOME NEAR PARIS NOW A HOSPITAL

The magnificent home of Isadora Duncan, the dancer, at Bellevue, near Paris, was recently taken over by the American Red Cross and converted into a 500-bed hospital for American gas patients. The photograph shows the roof of the building, used for the convalescent soldiers, some of whom are seen.

GERMANY ASKS FOR ARMISTICE TERMS

Says Negotiations Are Being Conducted By People.

LOOKS FOR JUST PEACE

Resignation Of Germany's First Quartermaster General Believed To Indicate Fall Of Military Party.

Copenhagen.—Germany's answer to President Wilson's latest communication says: "The German Government has taken cognizance of the answer of the President of the United States. "The President is aware of the far-reaching changes which have been carried out and are being carried out in the German constitutional structure, and that peace negotiations are being conducted by a people's government, in whose hands rests, both actually and constitutionally, the power to make the deciding conclusions. "AWAITS ARMISTICE TERMS. "The military powers are also subject to it. "The German Government now awaits proposals for an armistice, which shall be the first step toward a just peace, as the President has described it in his proclamation. "SOLE."

Washington.—The German reply is expected to clear the way for a general discussion of the individual views of the Entente Powers on peace terms and an agreement among the nations fighting Germany so that a united front on these questions may be presented to the common enemy. A London dispatch announced that Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Secretary Balfour had gone to Paris with military and naval advisers, indicating that the conferences between the representatives of the Allied powers and the United States soon were to begin. Germany's reply does not change the diplomatic situation. Those in the confidence of President Wilson have said that his dealings with the German Government ended with his note informing it that the request for an armistice and peace had been transmitted to the Allies and that further action rested with those Governments. The German reply may or may not prove that Germany will accept such terms of an armistice as may be presented. In this connection the President in his last note said: "Should such terms of an armistice be suggested their acceptance by Germany would afford the best concrete evidence of her unequivocal acceptance of the terms and principles of peace upon which the whole action proceeds. The German reply takes cognizance of the President's statement in his last note that it is evident that the power of the King of Prussia to control the policy of the Empire is unimpaired by stating that the peace negotiations are being conducted by a people's government in whose hands rests the deciding conclusions and to which the military powers also are subject. This may give added significance to the unofficial report from Berlin via Copenhagen that General Ludendorff, Quartermaster General of the German Army, has resigned. He generally was regarded as the virtual head of the German high command.

LUDENDORFF GETS OUT. London.—Official announcement was made in Berlin that Emperor William had acceded to the request of General Ludendorff, the first Quartermaster General, that he be permitted to resign. General surprise was caused in Berlin by the fact that the daily report from German headquarters was not signed, as usual, with the name of General Ludendorff. Later the following official announcement was issued: "The Emperor, accepting the request to be allowed to retire of Infantry General Ludendorff, the first quartermaster general and commander in time of peace of the Twenty-fifth Infantry Brigade, has placed him on the unattached list. The Emperor decided at the same time that the Lower Rhenish Infantry Regiment No. 39, of which the General has long been chief, shall bear henceforth the name of Ludendorff." His resignation, it is believed in London, will still further shake the faith of the German people in their military machine.

MADE 86 MILES IN 46 MINUTES. Army Plane Carried 7 Men And 5 Guns In N. Y.-Dayton Flight. Cleveland, Ohio.—A big Handley Page army bombing plane on its way from New York to Dayton arrived here shortly before noon. Carrying seven men and five guns the machine left Buffalo in the morning covering the 86 miles between Buffalo and Erie in 46 minutes. U-BOATS UNDER WHITE FLAG. German Submarines Are Reported Homeward Bound. Christiania.—Crews of vessels arriving at Stavanger from Karmo Island report that several German submarines, flying a white flag at their mastheads, passed the island Saturday bound south, according to the Morgenblad. The submarines are believed to have been returning home from their bases.

CLOQUET, MINN., DESTROYED BY GREAT FOREST FIRES

All that was left of the town of Cloquet after it had been swept by the forest fires that devastated a large section of northeastern Minnesota, killing 1,000 persons and doing $100,000,000 damage.

SUFFRAGETTE INVASION OF THE SENATE FOILED

Banner bearers of the National Woman's party, led by Miss Alice Paul, planned to invade the senate, but just as they stepped into the capitol grounds the capitol police took their banners and arrested the bearers. There was a policeman for each marcher, and this picture, with the senate office building in the background, shows the start of the melee. The boys in the foreground are senate pages.

KING GEORGE VISITS FORESTRY WORKERS

In order to see the work done by British forestry workers on the western front King George took a trip through a French forest. He is shown congratulating a lumberman on his expert work in felling a tree.

HERE'S CURE FOR KULTUR

This British official photograph gives an idea of the magnitude of the shells used in the treatment and cure of German militarism and kultur.

DRIVER OF WOMEN'S LEGION

The Women's Legion motor drivers are now attached to the Canadian Forestry corps working in Windsor Park, England, where they have their own log hut quarters built by the forestry men, and each takes care of her car, making necessary repairs in person. They have their own garage, where they take very good care of their cars, cleaning them daily. Photograph above shows one of the drivers carrying a spare tire.

STEADY STREAM OF YANKS GOES OVERSEAS

These American troops have just landed in a British port on their way to the western front. The peace palaver of the Huns has caused no cessation of the stream of Yankee fighters sent across the Atlantic.

Australian Pioneers Honored.

A stately group in the main entrance of Australia house, in London, which was opened by King George recently, is a memorial to the pioneer explorers of the southern continent. It represents Burke and Wills, who, in 1861, with two companions, surveyed the desert from Melbourne to the Gulf of Carpentaria. Only one of the four, King, returned, the others succumbing one after another to the hardships of the journey back. Burke died in the desert, lying with his face to the sky. Wills, the expedition's astronomer, to whose memory an obelisk has been raised in his native town of Totnes, wrote in his diary just before he died: "Though starving on hard-boiled seed is not unpleasant, I would prefer a little sugar mixed with it."

The Word "Nigger."

Irvin Cobb, who is a southerner, has seen the negro troops abroad, and expressed the view that the old offensive designation of "nigger" will disappear from popular use. As a colloquial term "nigger" may not entirely disappear, even though it should cease to imply contempt. And even now "nigger" is not always a contemptuous term, but is frequently used good-humoredly by white people and negroes themselves. Moreover, there is often less significance in the choice of words than in the spirit that is put into them. People who are most sarcastic and lily-colored or ill-natured are often careful to preserve the utmost elegance of language.—Springfield Republican.

WATCHING THEIR GUNS HAMMER THE HUNS

French and Canadian officers, on a tour of inspection at the front, taking cover behind a captured German ammunition wagon as the heavy guns open a bombardment of the enemy lines but a few yards distant.

SHELL FROM HUN NAVAL GUN EXPLODING

Germany, in her dire need for heavy guns, has taken the larger and more powerful guns from her ships and placed them behind the lines. Here is shown a shell from one of the German naval guns exploding behind the French lines.
