The Philadelphia Record says that General Pershing is a nephew of Judge Cyrus Pershing who was the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania some 40 years ago. His father, who went out from Westmoreland county before the civil war to seek his fortune in the West, was presumably a Democrat also, and in his Missouri home the General must have been subject to strong Democratic influences during the formative period of his character. So it is probable that, if he has any political leanings at all it is toward Democracy. Those Ohio Republicans who are now booming him for President, apparently in the hope of landing a fat job under him if he should be elected, seem to have overlooked these facts.

Badly Sprained Wrist.

Another accident occurred at the junction of J. K. Johnston's pavement with that of the Fulton County Bank last Sunday evening. The Johnston pavement is lower than the concrete walks on either side, and as Veteran James W. Rummel was going home from church, one of his feet caught on the elevation, with the result that he fell sprawling, with a badly sprained wrist, as a result. The Editor has reason to remember the same place, for he got a fall there last winter with the result that he has been somewhat crackbrained ever since. The Town Council, or somebody else will have a nice bill of damages to pay one of these fine days on account of some one of the many neck-breakers in this town.

Wedded in McConnellsburg.

A quiet little wedding occurred at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage in McConnellsburg Wednesday afternoon when Rev. Edward Jackson performed the ceremony that united in marriage Miss Jane Cromer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Cromer, of Fort Littleton and Mr. C. Russell Gracey, son of Ex-Commissioner, S. C. Gracey, of Mount Union. The bride and groom are excellent young people and have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

The Regies Sentenced.

GOLDEN STARS.

Memorial Services Last Saturday Afternoon in Honor of Our Soldier Dead.

The first memorial service for the soldiers of Fulton County who gave their lives during the World War was held in the Presbyterian Church of McConnellsburg, on Saturday afternoon, November 30th, at 2 o'clock. The service was held under the auspices of the Honor Roll and Memorial Committee of Fulton County Branch, Pennsylvania Council of National Defense and Committee of Public Safety. Rev. Wilson V. Grove had charge of the service and a very fine tribute was rendered the Fulton County heroes in the program rendered. The church was fittingly decorated with a large American flag covering the entire front wall of the building. It is the largest flag in the county and measures thirty by forty feet. This flag was draped about a service flag upon the white field of which was a large blue star bearing the number 219, representing the number of sons and daughters of Fulton County in the service of our country. Grouped about the large star were nine gold stars, representing the nine soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice.

The following is an extract from the Memorial Roll as read by Rev. Grove.

JOHN CALVIN BISHOP a native Ayr Township and the son of William and Mary Harris Bishop was killed in battle on the Western Front in France Sunday, July 21, 1918. He was a Corporal in Co. C. 112 Infantry and entered the service of the U. S. thru the National Guard of Penna.

NORMAN CLEVELAND RAKER of Licking Creek Township, son of John Raker, was killed on the Western Front in France on July 29th, last, by the bursting of a shell. He was a private in Co. C. 167 Infantry.

ALONZO V. FUNK of the southern part of our county was the son of the late Alfred V. and Melvina Brewer Funk. He was a private in Co. C. First Provisional Recruiting Battalion at Camp Merritt, N. J. He died of disease in the U. S. General Hospital in New York, August 3, 1918.

RILEY E. HILES of Bethel Township son of William and Sylvia Hiles died in the Hospital in Charenton, France, September 1, 1918. He was a member of the 32nd. Prov. Co. July Infantry Rep. Draft. Am. Ex. Force. His body lies in the cemetery of Charenton, Depot. of Cheo near the exact center of France.

JOHN LEROY FLEMMING of Clear Ridge was the son of T. Elliott Flemming and Mary E. Flemming. He died of pneumonia in the Base Hospital at Camp Lee, Va. He was a private in Co. K. 18th. Training Battalion, Inf. Replacement Camp at Camp Lee.

HOWARD EARL KIRK of Hiram was the son Elliott H. and Minnie M. Kirk. He died of Spanish Influenza at Camp Lee, Va., October 6, 1918. He was acting Sergeant of Co. F. 14th. Bn. I. R. and T. C. at Camp Lee.

ANDREW LUDWIG FISHER near Hustontown, was the son of Joseph and Catherine Keller Fisher. He was attached to the 20th. Canadian Battery and was wounded in battle in France, October 12, 1918 and died a few hours later.

DAYTON ALBERT LYNCH of Union Township died of pneumonia in the Base Hospital at Camp Humphreys, Va., October 14, 1918.

GEORGE HOBART TRUAX of Belfast Township was the son of Bennett A. and Frances Morton Truax. He died of Pneumonia in the hospital at South Bethlehem, Pa. He entered the service at Camp Lee, Va., but was transferred to Lehigh University where he was taking special training at the time of his death. The Memorial address of the day was delivered by Rev. Edward Jackson who stirred the hearts of the large audience assembled with his patriotic remarks and his words of praise for the dead heroes in whose honor the service was held. The special music by the Male Chorus and the violin selection by Mr. F. E. Goodhart were features of the service.

THE BATTLE CRY OF JUSTICE.

[This song, which made a great hit in the West during the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, was written by Mrs. O. R. Dunlap, of Pittsburg, Kansas. Mrs. Dunlap is better known in this county as Miss Nora Johnston, a native of Ayr township.—Editor.]

I.
 Now the boys who've gone before,
 Want a letter, two or more,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.
 Let us write them each today,
 That we're helping in the fray,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.

CHORUS.
 The Allies forever,
 Hurrah! boys, Hurrah!
 Down with the Kaiser,
 Up with the Stars.
 And we'll rally round the flag, boys,
 Rally once again,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.

II.
 Some Fourth Liberty Bonds we'll buy,
 To help the boys, you and I,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.
 Crawford County'll go over the top
 With two millions on the spot,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.

III.
 When five million men go o'er,
 They will make a mighty score,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.
 And the Allies they will help
 For its die or get Bill's scalp,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.

IV.
 Oh, we're on your trail, old Bill,
 And we'll bomb your Palace Hill,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.
 With the shrapnel and the shell
 We will fill your carcass well,
 Shouting the Battle Cry of Justice.

TUNE:—Battle Cry of Freedom.

ANOTHER SUPREME SACRIFICE.

Dr. James M. McKibbin Died in Hospital in France from Wound Received on Firing Line.

Dr. James M. McKibbin, of Union Township, was one among the first Fulton County men to offer his services to the Government after the United States had decided to take a hand in the World War, and he entered with a Lieutenant's commission. Not long after reaching France his efficiency and faithfulness won for him the rank of Captain. And now, the war being over, and every one in expectancy to see their friends from overseas returning, the word comes that James has given his life for World Democracy. Captain McKibbin, was a son of the late Dr. William and Ella Eddowes McKibbin, and was aged about 46 years. He was, of course, beyond the draft age, and his going into the service was purely voluntary and from the highest motives of patriotism.

The following letter received last Saturday from Mobile Hospital, No. 4, France, says:

DEAR MRS. MCKIBBIN:
 Some days ago Doctor McKibbin was injured through the abdomen while on duty in the fighting lines. He was brought to our hospital and operated on. After a quiet and wonderful fight for his life, he died last night. I presume you have already been notified of his death but thought you would have some satisfaction from knowing that his friends were with him constantly and made every effort to do for him. His suffering was slight.

I had asked the Doctor if he would have me write for him and he told me to say "All O. K. everything fine—write more when can get mail in and out." Even knowing his condition he had not wanted to disturb you about it.

I know you will derive much consolation from knowing that Doctor McKibbin performed his duty courageously and it was with absolute disregard of danger that he went into the area where he received his wound. I am very sincerely yours,
 Linn B. Stewart,
 Capt. M. R. C.

Cumberland Valley Creamery and Dairy Company.

HER FEAR.

Marie—Don't cry, dear. You must be brave while Jack is away with the army. Remember the war won't last forever, and then he will return to you.
 Betty—Yes; but I'm afraid that before he comes back some other hateful man will marry me.

SOME SPEED.

Marx—Are you athletic?
 Lois—Oh, yes, I'm the fastest crocheter on our college team.
 Marx—Zasso? How fast can you go?
 Lois—Oh, about thirty knots an hour.
