

Boys Prefer to Come Home.

That most of the men in the army, at least, men who have not been in the service very long, would rather be at home than in the army, was shown at Admiral, Md., last Friday when out of 95 men, members of the 11th Trench Mortar Battery, who were offered the choice to remain in the military service by transfer before their unit was demobilized, not one asked for that opportunity. That no man wanted to stay is not regarded as indicating any hostile attitude toward military life, but rather that the men wanted to get home without delay because Christmas is so near. This organization contained only men recently inducted, and few had had a chance to acquire love for the life such as old regular army men display.

Many men have said that they might get back in the army after enjoying the liberties of civil life for a while. Some admit that they are thirsty for other drinks than those available for men in the service. Others are anxious to make a little more than $30 a month. Some want to get night jobs so they can sleep late in the morning. Hundreds are anxious to get in the shipbuilding industry or the merchant marine service if they can get in touch with the agents who came to camp and said they might pay as much as $350 a month.

While nearly every man is going back to civil life, all are anxious to have the best-looking uniforms to wear at home during the period after discharge that they are permitted to do so. The camp quartermaster, having shoes and trousers in abundance, put them on sale to men in the service, and no less than 300 lined up in front of the warehouse to get the bargains. Army shoes have become popular and men bought them for use in the months to come. Unless there is a change in the army regulations men must return their issued uniforms after four months, and any clothing they wish for display they must buy. The prices are very low and some are getting extra garments because civilian clothing is comparatively expensive and by no means durable.

The Nation needs strong men and the right time to begin to build up strong manhood is during the growing period of childhood. Many mothers remember, with keen satisfaction, the days when was one of the determining factors in building up the strength of their children. Scott's is a source of nourishment and strength that ought never be overlooked by the mother of a growing boy or girl.

Have You a Blind Baby?

If so do you realize that the present law of Pennsylvania provides for its blind by sending a child from the day of its blindness, for special care, maintenance and education to this Arthur Home for Blind Babies, Summit, N. J. There are 8 Pennsylvania blind children there now.

This institution which is Home Nursery, Hospital and Kindergarten combined for the blind, take blind babies and children too young and too backward to enter the schools already established for the older blind. A mother has no longer reason to hide away her blind baby because it is helpless, or acts queerly when compared with a seeing boy or girl of the same age. The state will give it a chance at the Arthur home and according to the records of the institution, the baby that does not prove that a chance was all it needed, is exceptional.

The Pennsylvania law provides $1.50 a day tuition. The institution has opened its doors for any blind child from any state, private pupils paying $550.00 a year. Thirteen states are already represented.

One can send his blind child to school now just the same as he can send a seeing child, and it is advisable to get the baby there as soon as possible after becoming blind, for the hospital care is as essential to keep the baby normal, as is the mental training given.

The Arthur Home has the highest rating possible, A in plant, A. administration and A in ideals.

It would seem in this day of civilization to discover a new charity yet this care for the baby blind is surely the sweetest and most pathetic for all good works. Guests are always welcome and there is no prettier sight imaginable than witnessing these little folks in the Kindergarten session, in the Arthur Home for Blind Babies, Pine Grove avenue, Summit, New Jersey. Phone 182 J Summit.

Lloyd George's Tribute To Women.

I am anxious to bear testimony to the tremendous part played by the women of England in this vital epoch of human history. If it had not been for the splendid manner in which the women came forward to work in the hospitals and munition factories, in administrative offices of all kinds and in war work behind the lines, often in daily danger of their lives, Great Britain and I believe, all the allies, would have been unable to withstand the enemy attacks of the last few months. For this service to our common cause humanity owes them unbounded gratitude.

Woman's Suffrage.

At a great meeting in Albert Hall, London, December 9th, attended only by women, Premier Lloyd George made a strong appeal for votes for women. During his address, he called attention to the fact that the manner in which the 6,000,000 or more women of Great Britain vote will determine the course of her future legislation. He also declared himself in favor of placing women on an equality with men in the matter of work, wages and marriage laws, as well as suffrage.
