Regular Court Terms.—The Courts of Snyder County are held on the fourth Mondays of January, May, and September, and second Monday of December.

Our friends throughout the county will oblige by sending us the news in their respective towns, villages and neighborhoods. Send us the plain facts, and we will dress them up, if need be. Our columns will always be open to those who wish to speak through them on general or local questions of public interest; but we will not hold ourself responsible for the opinions they may express.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Look at the figures on the label of your paper. Those figures tell you THE DATE TO WHICH YOUR SUBSCRIPTION IS PAID. Within 3 weeks after money is sent, see if date is changed. No other receipt is necessary.

"There 's a chile among ye takin' notes, an' faith he'll print 'em."

Old winter still leads the procession.

A new Stave factory was started at McClure last Thursday.

To day is Ascension Day. Everybody has gone fishing but the printers.

Fifty-one inches of snow fell in this portion of the State during the last winter.

Speckled trout may be caught in April, May, June and July, but only with hook and line.

Some of our correspondents must be frost-bitten. Come boys, let's hear from you again.

S. S. Zimmerman of Richfield, boarded the Western-bound train on Monday, bound for Chicago.

C. C. Seebold is weatherboarding his house and building an addition to the same on West Main street.

Dr. Rhoads of Hartleton, was in town last Monday. The doctor contemplates moving to Mifflinburg in the near future.

Glycerine on a cow's teats will do much to remove soreness when they are cracked, and a little attention at several pails of milk.

Tell us not in mournful numbers, that the girls are what they seem: When a girl that weighs one hundred, gets outside a quart of cream.

D. T. Roades has a few more of the Silver Chilled Plows on hand which he will sell very cheap. Call early if you want a bargain. First come, first served.

Henry S. Beaver, administrator of the estate of John S. Beaver, dec'd, will sell personal property of said estate at Kratzerville, on Saturday, June 2. See bills.

On Sunday morning last the Steam Saw Mill in West Beaver twp., at which C. C. Deitrich is sawyer, caught fire and was burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown. It will be re-built at once.

A Bedford county woman has pieced a quilt containing 2,906 pieces. Had she nothing else to do? At her death she will not be so much lamented as was Dorcas who made garments for the poor.—Perry County Freeman.

We are indebted to Hon. Charles Miller for the prompt information of the action of the Pardon Board at their recent meetings. He always informed us by wire from Harrisburg and thus enabled us to give our readers the latest.

You will find, my dear boy, that the dearly prized kiss,
Which with rapture you snatched from the half-willing miss,
Is sweeter by far than the legalized kisses
You give the same girl when you've made her a Mrs.

The Middleburgh Band has been very liberal in its serenades of late, and continue to be the pride of our town. The boys are continually practicing new pieces—not to make money by rendering them in other pieces, but always have their best for their own town.

There were only four bands represented at the advertised meeting of the Snyder county Bands at Middleburgh on the 28th ult., for the purpose of making arrangements to hold a Band Festival in Selinsgrove on Wednesday, June 13th. They report no business done.

There are no less than thirty cases of measles in Middleburgh at this writing, producing an unusual quiet in our streets and creating a boom in saffron. All the little ones are doing well, however, and we hope to see them all out again, enjoying the advent of spring after their seige of temporary confinement.

FESTIVAL.—All lovers of pleasure are respectfully invited to attend a Festival and Glass-walk, at Richfield, on Saturday evening, May 5th. Three bands will be present to enliven the occasion. A general good time is expected. Come one, come all, and enjoy yourselves.

BY ORDER OF THE BAND.

Our regular opening of Spring and Summer Millinery goods will take place on Friday and Saturday, May 4th and 5th. Our stock is an extensive one, comprising all the latest novelties in head-wear.

ERB'S CASE DECIDED!

HIS DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTTED TO IMPRISONMENT FOR LIFE.

Breaking the News to the Prisoner.

The board of pardons held a special meeting in the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs in the afternoon of April 30th. The session lasted four hours and was intended to complete all business possible before the retirement of Col. A. K. Dunkel. Recorder Everett read the testimony in the case of old Israel Erb and it took over three hours in the hearing of it. The paper books are voluminous affairs. The board, after a careful consideration, decided to recommend to the governor a commutation of the death sentence to imprisonment for life. The papers to that effect will be prepared and signed in the next few days.

Erb will probably be conveyed to the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia within 30 days should the governor act upon the recommendation of the board, which he undoubtedly will.

ERB INTERVIEWED.

The news of the action of the Pardon Board reached Middleburgh on Tuesday and was the general topic of conversation all day. On Wednesday morning we called at the jail and the Sheriff kindly permitted us a private interview with the old man. We asked him if he had heard the news from Harrisburg, to which he responded that he had heard some talk but was slow to believe it. Being armed with a daily paper we opened it and read it in German—translating it from the English. He fixed his eyes on a spot on the floor and slowly shook his head as if it were unwelcome news. We asked him what he thought of it. He said it was not what he expected, but, continuing, he said, "what justice could you expect when there was as much false swearing done in a case as there was in mine. You say it is for life. Well I do not expect to live very long at any rate, but do you think there is any hope of pardon?"

We replied in the affirmative, but could not give him much encouragement in that line.

"Well," he continued, "then the thing is as good as settled. I would rather have it that way than be hung. Those of my friends (which he emphasized) who were so anxious to see me hanged will not now have the pleasure of attending such a pic-nic."

He asked us why he could not just as well stay here in jail as be sent to the penitentiary. We told him that there he could work at his trade (shoe making) and earn his living. That there he would cost the county only about seventeen cents a day which would only average a little over one-third of a cent a year to every man, woman and child in the county.

"Well," he said, "I have never been to Philadelphia in my life, and I would just as leave not go now, but I hope they will get me a new pair of shoes, and my coat and hat are worn and dusty. My pants look better but they need patching." At this point we chimed in by remarking that his suit would do to go down in and when he got there he would be presented with a brand new suit of the latest cut and striped.

"Do you think the sheriff will put me in irons to take me down?" he inquired. We told him he could rest assured that the sheriff would take every precaution to prevent his escape, but at the same time would not place him into unnecessary discomfort.

O, I'm too old a man to run off. I would not attempt to escape even if I were to be hung. They need not be afraid of that."

As we prepared to leave we asked him if he had anything to say to the public when he responded, "tell them that I realize that justice was not done me," which some may be ready to believe but not in the same sense he meant it.

Roscoe Conkling is a man of some peculiarities, but he is sound on the newspaper question. He once said: "The smallest county newspaper is more to its county subscribers in one month than its price for one year, and does more for its neighborhood for nothing than any high official does for his munificent salary."

A woman in Medina, Ohio, had been coughing more or less for nineteen years, when one day not long ago she fell down stairs. Up to the time of that accident the doctors were persuaded that she had consumption. But when she picked herself up after the fall, she coughed up a shirt button and since then has been a cured woman—cured of consumption.

About the worst enemies of poultry are lice and rats, and the best remedies are probably kerosene and arsenic. For the rats mix an ounce of arsenic with an ounce of lard and corn meal enough to make a stiff dough, and put water where it will be handy. For the lice, dilute the kerosene with melted lard, about half and half, and apply to the chicks' head and neck with a small marking brush. Rats will even carry off eggs sometimes, as well as chickens.

We met Detective Lyons the other day coming up on the train from Selinsgrove, and were introduced to him by our friend Hon. Charles Miller. After exchanging a few words we told him that we had met once before, and that was at Nevada, Ohio, where Ettinger had jumped off the train for him and got away. At this announcement Bully had important business in another car and left impromptu. He probably remembered how he bewailed the loss of his reputation on that particular occasion.

CENTREVILLE ITEMS.

School opened on the 22nd inst. as usual the little student wants a new slate, a new pencil, everything new, as the old and partly used material have gone the way of all rubbish.

The young boy mourns to go it "barfeet."

Straw hats will soon bloom, but the spring bonnet is appearing slowly.

Grain is looking very well.

The time to plant taters, has come.

The fields are again clothed in green.

Soon will we see the jolly fisherman with his hook and line and bottle of—of—well—we might call it fish extract—go merrily forth and see him return with empty bottle, empty basket and empty stomach.

Dr. J. W. Sampsel a prominent and young physician expects to depart for Bellevue O., where he will locate and practice his profession. Sorry to see you go, Doc.

Milton Cornelius has the contract to plaster P. Hartman's new house, Milt., is an expert at spreading mud and fully understands his business.

A. I. W. Markle is tending bar at the National Hotel in Selinsgrove. Al. is an expert at shoving beer mugs

Cap. the egg man is the plague of the household—for the reason that by his gobbling up of the eggs he keeps up the price higher than it should be—he reduces home rations—home comforts in the highest sense. If Cap. don't do better we shall have to napp him.

P. Hartman the boss lumberman spent a day or so in Sunbury last week.

S. F. Sheary and wife spent a few days in Selinsgrove visiting friens, the guests of S. W. Hartman.

Miss Etta Bowersox one of our prettiest young ladies is in Mifflinburg at present. Pat. mourns—"why art thou so far away my love."

If any fine looking young man is in search of a wife let him come to this place we have several beautiful and intelligent marriageable maidens with the word yes, on the end of their tongue. What more can we offer.

JUST SO.

A REVERSED FINGER BOARD.

MIDDLEBURGH, Pa., April 30, '83.

EDITOR POST.—I am a young lady who believes in the advice given to Hamlet, which was to the effect that he gave ear to all advises but should reserve his judgment, and as such have very much appreciated the many wholesome advices you have given the young ladies through the POST.

In your issue of last week, however, I noticed an article purported to have been written by one "Sphinx" under the caption "To Young Women." This article is worthy the attention of every reader, but the writer's guilt of plagarism is so flagrant that it would be a flaming insult to our sex to allow such a bold literary theft pass by unnoticed, and as such I haste to announce that we accept the long-ago written advice, copied by him but denounce "Sphinx" as a most stupid, brassy, unsophisticated literary pirate—one who has not even the wit about him to change the heading of his stolen article, but only changes certain words to suit his particular ludicrous position, which is not only self-inflicted but most deserving.

Now, Mr. Editor, I do not believe that you published the article without knowing that it was not original with "Sphinx." But the code of journalism justifies you in publishing articles for their merits only, if another party assumes the responsibility of copying over his own signature, and as such we take pleasure in vindicating you, but all join in most heartily denouncing all manner of deception, and especially plagarism, which is heaping insult on injury—counterfeiting a coin and then presisting in believing yourself too stupid to decern the difference between the false and the real. It is spurious. Stamp it!

ONE OF THE OFFENDED.

Furniture the largest and best stock in the county at Reller's, Selinsgrove, Pa.

Mr. George Gross, of New Berlin uncle of our townsman I. B. Wunderly, paid the POST printing office a pleasant visit on Saturday last. He had with him a most valuable relic—the Inaugural address of Thomas Jefferson, printed on Satin, which was recently found among some old papers on his garret. The relic bears the date 1801, and besides the address it bears a picture of Jefferson. It is a sample of typographical beauty, and though time-stained and shelf-worn it is nevertheless a most valuable relic.

Emigration to the United States has been more extensive this year than it has ever been before, and still there is room. Think of it reader. We could place the population of the United States into the State of Texas alone, and there would not be as many people to the square mile as Massachusetts has to-day, or pour the entire population of the world into the United States and there would not be as many people to the squre mile as England has now. The Chinese Empire with a population of 600,000,000 has an area not exceeding that of the State of Texas.

Whitmer & Foster offer extraordinary bargains in their new advertisment. Wonderful as their statements are, they are never the less true, which they will convince every one who will favor them with a call. It is worth the price of a trip to Sunbury just to see their magnificent stock and it will require but a small purchase to make up the amount of your fare. A large stock, good goods, low prices and accommodating salesmen are the main springs of their success.

FRANKLIN PICKINGS.

Cool nights.

The agricultural impliment men are all busy.

The nicest plot of grass in town can be seen at the residence of A. Kreeger. Its a beauty.

Milton Comfort of Lewistown, Pa. is the guest of his uncle, Reed Jones.

Mrs. Z. P. Krise, and her son Charley of New Berlin, paid Franklin friends a pop visit, Tuesday last.

J. C. Swineford has gone to Shamokin where he is employed as sawyer on one of the large mills of Kulp, McWilliams & Co. Jim is an energetic man and understands this business.

Joe Sigler has been appointed Passenger and Second class Freight Agent at Painter, S. & I. R. R. rice. E. C. Hamilton resigned.

Henry Stetler was performing on the Bicycle the other day in the bridge near the Planing Mill. We were not far off when the cicle threw him about fifteen feet down the hill while he was in the act of coming out of the bridge. He picked nearly two-thirds of himself up, saying, "boys this is not a to-be-laughed at, act." We know that only those who have straidden the steed and felt its charm can have any conception of the enhanced beauties with which every passing scene is imbued. Henry just keep in the saddle—you will make a good rider by and by. B.

Bagage Smashers.

One hundred and fifty-three Trunks from S. Oppenheimer's Selinsgrove Store went west this spring; some to Kansas, Nebraska, Idaho and Colorado and every trunk withstood the Baggage Smashers. At a late convention of the smashers, at Omaha, Neb., it was unanimously resolved that Sol. Oppenheimer's trunks would neither bend nor break and that they were neat, durable and easy to handle and requested him, the said Oppenheimer, to order 200 for those ready to go west, and they are now on hand at bottom prices. Come and see.

Western bound traveler you will save money by buying your trunks, valices and traveling equipments from S. Oppenheimer Selinsgrove, Pa.

Time and change—Are surely best;
Brow may wrinkle, hair grow gray,
Friendship never knows decay.
For 'mid old friends, tried and true,
Once more we our youth renew,
But old friends, alas! may die,
New friends must their place supply,

LIGHT DRAFT COMBINATION PENN HARROW.

Best In The World. Stretcher sent with Harrow.

Wheel Revolves and gives the ground Two Harrowings in passing over it once, therefore will do double the work of any other Harrow and save the farmer half his labor. Another great advantage the Penn Harrow has over any other, it can be so easily changed into Five Different Harrows, a Corn Marker and a Complete Sled for each Harrow, without adding an extra piece or bolt. Thus the farmer has all the Harrows in the one required on his place, and they are adapted to any soil.

Penn Harrow is made of the Best White Oak, with Steel Teeth, Well Painted and in every way first class. Formerly a Harrow was the most unhandy impliment on the farm, with our improvements it is the most convenient, and a great saving of time and labor, look to your interest and buy the Penn Harrow. Manufactured only by the Penn Harrow Manufacturing Co.
