HOW CELLULOID IS MADE.

A roll of paper is slowly unwound, and at the same time saturated with a mixture of five parts of sulphuric acid and two of nitric, which falls on the paper in a nice spray. This changes the cellulose of the paper into a fine pyroxyline (gun cotton). The excess of acid having been expelled by pressure, the paper is washed with plenty of water, until all traces of acid have been removed; it is then reduced to pulp, and passed on to the bleaching trough. Most of the water having been got rid of by means of a stranger, the pulp is mixed with from 20 to 40 per cent. of camphor, and the mixture thoroughly triturated under millstones. The necessary coloring matter having been added in the form of powder, a second mixture and grinding follows. The finely divided pulp is then spread out in thin layers, on slabs, and from twenty to twenty-five of these layers are placed in a hydraulic press, separated from one another by sheets of blotting paper, and are subjected to a pressure of 140 atmospheres, until all traces of moisture have been got rid of. The plates thus obtained are broken up and soaked for twenty-four hours in alcohol. The matter is then passed between rollers heated 110 deg. to 150 deg. Fahrenheit, whence it issues in the form of elastic sheets.—Boston Journal.

A PICTURE OF THE PLAINS.

One of the most startling and romantic features of border life occurred recently on the Wild horse prairie, thirty miles north of Los Angles when a band of wild horses, under the lead of a noble sorrel stallion, came galloping over the plains to reconnoitre a company of surveyors engaged in making a survey of the tract. The band dashed toward Capt. Keller and his party of surveyors till within about 500 feet, when the leader halted in a grandly proud and defiant manner, with neck curved, nostrils distended, erect, and tail on dress parade, and all the band ranged themselves on each side of him like a squad of cavalry in battle charge. After surveying the scene for a few moments, the leader galloped away, followed by the band in the most graceful and dignified manner. The scene was most romantic, and the picture of the lordly leader, with his most obedient servants, in their fleet and graceful motions, was worthy of an artist's pencil. There was another band of wild horses on the same prairie, under the leadership of a dark mahogany bay stallion with black mane, tail and knees. In this band there are two white horses, and the rest are bay and sorrel mainly.—Los Angles Express.

HAPPY HOME.

It is not always the costliest home that is the happiest. Now take the Indian wigwam. It doesn't contain the luxuries of the lack president's home. All the carpet is an old robe or two: the luxurious arm chair is the ground, and there is no bric-a-brac except a scalp or two. Yet the Indian is happy. There is not a shadow to dim the pure old gold sunshine of his wild life. He sees the smoke curl softly upward from under the kettle that contains his meal, and float away through the rustling needle of the pine.

This picture makes his happiness complete, as he lies on the ground calmly smoking and watching his wife do all the work. It is no wonder the Indian likes home, because that is the place where he never has anything to do but sit around and sleep. When he comes in from the hunt he is never sent off to the village to have some cretonne matched, or told to sit and hold three or four hanks of yarn that are to be wound, he doesn't have to take care of the papoose while his squaw goes out shopping; he doesn't have to stand on a barrel and hold up the obstinate stove pipe section by section, with the soot pouring down in his eyes. He isn't asked what every woman he met had on, and is consequently not blown up for not having noticed.

Think what a happy home the Indian has, when you come to consider that his wife doesn't wear silk dresses, or twenty dollar bonnets, or care anything about operas, or horses and carriages. Why the squaw is perfectly happy in a blouse and a pair of army trousers. The noble woman makes every sacrifice to render her husband happy. He never knows what it is to be kept awake half the night to be talked into making some frivolous and unnecessary purchase, or to learn that the squaw in the next wigwam possesses something that his does not.

THE PRESS
For 1885.

Devoted to Protection and Earnestly Republican.

THE CHEAPEST AND BEST NEWSPAPER.

THE PRESS comes to the new year with the largest circulation, the best equipment, and the fullest requirements of the complete newspaper which it has ever enjoyed. The past year has been one of great growth. These increased facilities and resources give it the means of being even a better newspaper than ever before.

The political change lends added interest and obligation to the future. The Press faces new duties with undaunted spirit. It is Republican in principle, untrammeled in expression with faith in the intelligent masses and fealty to purer politics. It is especially devoted to the national policy of Protection as the bulwark of American interests and industries.

Above all, it will maintain its preeminence as a complete General and Family Newspaper.

The Weekly Press excells in all the elements of a first class General and Family weekly newspaper. It is especially adapted to the wants of all who desire a concise and comprehensive presentation of the news of the day with interesting and instructive reading for the home and the fireside. Its Agricultural and Household departments are among the best anywhere printed, and good stories, graphic correspondence and choice miscellany complete a paper which is unsurpassed. Illustrated special articles on live topics will be a prominent feature of the coming year. Send for a specimen copy containing large and attractive list of books offered as premiums to to subscribers and club raisers.

THE PHILADELPHIA TIMES

Aims to cover the whole field of progressive journalism. No subject is too great for it to discuss intelligently and without bias, and none so insignificant as to escape its notice. It lays the world tributary to its wants and everywhere its agents may be found, alert to gather the particulars of all passing events and send them by telegraph to the last moment of going to press. It is a brief and abstract chronicle of the time and contains all that is worth knowing in the history of the world for the past twenty four hours.

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

$1.00 A YEAR.

The Largest, the Brightest and the Best. A Newspaper for Everybody.

"THE WEEKLY TIMES" is foremost among the largest and best of the Family and General Weekly newspapers published in the country and it is now offered to single subscribers at One Dollar a year and an extra copy given with every club of 20. It is the most progressive journal of its class. Its aim is to be the newspaper of the people of the whole country; to meet every intelligent want in journalism and to make so cheap that all can afford to enjoy its weekly visits.

"THE ANNALS OF THE WAR" have been one of the distinguished features of "THE WEEKLY TIMES" and it is now imitated in that feature by many of the leading journals and periodicals of the country. The best writers from the active participants of the great struggle on both sides will contribute their contributions to the unwritten history of the war in every number, and make the paper specially entertaining and instructive to the veterans of both the Blue and the Gray.
