A REVOLTING CASE.

[Lewistown Dem. & Sen. of 13th inst.]

About two weeks ago a daughter of A. W. Briggs, of Walker township, Juniata county, a young girl not out of her teens, ran away from home, not "with a handsomer man," but with a burley negro farm hand, named Aaron Carter. Searching parties scoured the woods and mountains in that vicinity but failed to find the guilty pair. On Saturday or Sunday last, Officer Gro received information that the illmated couple were in a woods in Furguson Valley, near Wm G. Roper's, and on Sunday evening he and Officer Briner went after them. Carter had been at Mr. Roper's in quest of something to eat a couple of hours before, but only the girl was found in the woods. She was brought to Lewistown, and placed in jail, and on Monday morning was taken to Mifflintown and then home. The story the girl told officer Gro reflects more seriously on the parents than on the girl herself. She says that some months ago her parents went away to a meeting, remaining over night, leaving her at home with a little sister six or eight years old and the colored man Carter, who was working for them. She says that during the night, under threats of killing her, the negro committed assault upon her. Upon the return of her parents she and her sister told her mother of the occurrence, who, instead of prompt action cautions them against telling the father. As time passed the girl found herself in trouble, and her mother told her that when concealment was no longer possible and her father learned who was the cause, he would kill her. This freightened the girl and she ran away with the darkey. She says they walked to Altoona, and after staying there a short time came back again. Carter left her in the woods Saturday morning, saying he was going for something to eat, and he did not return, she remaining there alone, until Officer Gro took charge of her Sunday evening, just after she had laid herself out on the ground for the night. She said she had eaten no bread, nothing but fruit, from Thursday until she reached the jail Sunday evening. She was willing to go anywhere but home, as she was afraid her father would kill her. She expressed a willingness to take a severe whipping, but she did not want to be killed. The parents of the girl are in poor circumstances.

Carter was captured Wednesday night by Officer Gro, and was taken to Mifflintown Thursday morning.

A Husband Who Was a Brute

"John, do you remember when we used to swing on my father's front gate?"

"Yes, Maria, I do."

"And the moon used to look so beautiful, John."

"It did, Maria."

"And the stars were so bright."

"They were."

"I wonder if the moon is so beautiful and the stars just as bright now as they were then, John?"

"I presume they are, Maria."

"Then why can't we swing on the front gate now and look at the moon and the stars and the blue night skies, with their fleecy clouds, as we used to do then?"

"We can, Maria, if we want to."

"Then, John, let us go out to the front gate for awhile and see if it will seem anything like it used to."

"All right, Maria. You go out and try it awhile, and if you like it maybe I'll take a turn at it."

But Maria thought him too much of a brute to do anything of the kind.—Pittsburg Dispatch.
