The women of Kansas will have a vote in municipal affairs hereafter, the State Senate having granted such a privilege by a vote of 25 to 13 and the House endorsed it by 99 to 22.

It will require $18,780,000 to pay the pensions due for the quarter ending March 1st, and this will be the largest payment ever made in any one quarter in the history of the Government.

Robert Bonner has been offered $100,000 for the famous trotting mare Maud S, by an agent of Frank Siddell the soap man, but has refused to sell at any price He says that $100,000 is the highest price ever offered for a horse in this country or Europe.

The genial Sam Jones opened his first sermon in New York with the words: "People say to me, 'Jones, why don't you preach Christ? You only preach law.' To all such I say: 'Do you suppose I'll bring my God down here among you cut throats?'" Sam never dared say that of Chicago people. All that he called them was "skunks."

A bill has been introduced into the State Legislature, making the decision of eight men, or two thirds of a jury, sufficient to acquit or convict in a trial before court. There are some strong arguments in favor of such a change in our jury system, but there are also some grave objections against a departure from the long established usage requiring a unanimous verdict and great deliberation should be exercised before making the change.

The number of people killed by railroads last year was 416. The number of passengers transported last year was over 359,000,000.—From these figures it will be seen that the danger of being killed by travels on railroads is scarcely greater than by staying at home. In proportion to the number of people using cars and private conveyances, we believe more people are killed by run away teams than by the railroads.

The Grand Army of the Republic consists to-day of 4,916 Posts with a membership in good standinding of 238,561. Its charity fund the past year was $301,012,72; expended for charity, $205,573 90. Of that grand aggregate our state had, March 31, 1886, 418 Posts, with 18,979 members, with a relief fund of $8,005.17, of which was expended $7,528,93. The organization is worthy the support of every honorably discharged soldier, who comes within the limit of the rules and regulations governing the society.

Fifty-three years ago Isaac Sinsbaugh and Lydia Colton were ten-year-old school children near Waynesburg, Pa., and very much attached to each other Lydia's parents moved west and the children were separated. In time Isaac marred and reared a large family, and about ten years ago his wife died, He lived then at Pataskala, O. About a year ago he decided that he'd try and find Lydia, of whom he had lost all trace; and after long trying he found that she was a widow in St. Louis He wrote to her and she wrote to him, and the other day he sent her some money and she started for Ohio, where she was met by Isaac who married her then and there.

Serious Fire at Bellefonte

The large brick building on the corner of High and Allegheny Sts., Bellefonte, was completely destroyed by fire on Saturday morning last. The fire was discovered about 3 30 o'clock in one of the rooms on the second story. The first story was occupied by the banking establishment of William F. Reynolds & Co., the book store of H. Y. Stitzer and I. Franks' variety store, all of which were burned out. The occupants of the upper stories barely escaped with their lives. Garman's Hotel, adjoining, was also destoyed. Loss about $50,000, with insurances of [illegible] thousand [illegible] about us, [illegible]

A recent decision of the Supreme Court is likely to take many thousands of dollars out of County Treasuries duing the coming year This decision is that Aldermen and Justices of the Peace are entitled to payment out of the County Treasury of their fees in all cases of felonies and misdemeanors whether the defendants are discharged or held for court Heretofore when a Justice of the Peace found after a hearing that there was no reasonable grounds for holding an accused person for court, and therefore had to dismiss the case, he and his constable had to lose their fees The Supreme Court now holds that in such cases they are entitled to payment just as much for a discharged case as for one in which the conviction takes place.

The conference report on the Mormon bill, which had been fought and delayed in the committee, passed the House of Representatives last Thursday by a vote of 202 to 40 The Democratic leaders who had opposed and delayed the passage of the bill either dodged or were absent when the vote in the House was taken. The bill provides that the Mormon organization or corporation known as the Church shall be disorganized as such, and that it shall be put on the same plane as other religious denominations. It will not be allowed to control the land of the Government in the territory, nor monopolize the irrigation privileges, nor control or limit the immigration to Utah of their own proselytes, who have been brought to the territory every year by Mormon missionaries from all parts of the world.

Hon. James G. Blaine is writing a new book. Whoever has read his magnificent epitome of American History, "Twenty Years in Congress," will heartily welcome a new volume from this brilliant, popular and fascinating author and statesman; espcecially as his new book will present his own views on the great political, diplomatic and popular questions of the present day.

Amongst the topics discussed will be "The Civil Service Reform," "The Great Labor Question," "The Canadian Fisheries' Dispute," "The Tariff," "The Silver Problem," "The Irish Home Rule Struggle," and other vital issues of the day. It will be sold by subscription, by the Pennsylvania Publishing Company, Harrisburg, Pa As Mr Blaine may be our next President, his views on the great issues of the times will be sought after with peculiar interest just now.

COMFORT IN SORROWS

When Job was in great affliction, his wife, who was notably a virago, wanted him to talk, to say something, to curse, to do anything but maintain a submissive silence. But, as we are told in the Bible, Job, the patient sufferer, sat silent amid the sneers of his wife and the jeers of his friends, winning for himself the respect of the devout and the regard of Divinity. There are many people in these days who prefer to sit silent in their sorrow, avoiding even a whisper that might set in motion the waves of sorrow on which the ship of sadness rides. Such people are in the minority. As Mark Twain said, truly if not elegantly, "Misery loves company but it don't like competition," and those who grieve want companionship more than at any other time. The touch of a human hand weighted with feeling, the voice of sympathy, goes far to lessen the woe of him who mourns. Man was not born to live alone, and this is never felt so seriously as when sorrow keeps guard over the threshold of a home where Death has stolen some beloved member. As Miss Mulock says so well in John Halifax, when the little blind girl dies, the sting of death was drawn from the mother's heart by the lips of her nursing baby, but the father's unrelieved breast swelled with bitter anguish.

A Bill has been introduced in the legislature for the erection of new capitol buildings.

COUNTY INSTITUTES.

Among the propositions before the Legislature is one providing that school teachers shall be paid while in attendance at the county institute, and compelling their attendance. As we understand it, this was either the custom or the law until within the last few years, and it was found to be a good thing for the teacher and the school. The criticism that the institute was not always as fruitful of good as it should have been need not be considered, as a similar criticism might be made of every other institution of man. It is certainly not a sufficent reason for its abandonment. We have no doubt that these same critics would admit that much of the success of the system in this State was due to the institute, and that it would not have attained its present excellence if it had not been for the annual gathering of teachers. The earnest, faithful teacher desires their continuance, desires the help they give in overcoming many of the perplexities of the teacher's life, and would and does attend them whether paid or not; but this does not seem fair, as it is unfortunately true that there are many teachers who have adopted the vacation merely as a temporary means of support, and this class will not attend unless they are paid and unless their attendance is under the compulsion of law. The schools ought to be the best that law and money can make them, and the institutes can be made powerful for good if properly conducted, and if put in the hands of practical men, and this it should be the duty of the school superintendents to see is done. It is to be hoped that every true friend of the common school system will see that the county institute is again legally established.

Another Art Craze.

OUR COMMON SCHOOLS.

There are twenty-six counties in the State in which the average school term is less than six months. This is certainly not to the credit of the State. And now that the attempt to increase the school term to at least six month is being made in the Legislature the same opposition that prevailed two years ago again appears.

This State, with its vast material resources, ought to be in the front rank in these things that make a State truly great. But such is, unfortunately, not the fact. Pennsylvania stands fourteenth in the list in the average school term, as compared with other States, and this is the direct result of the low minimum of five months fixed by the act of 1872

This disgraceful condition should no longer continue. Two-thirds of the counties in the State keep the schools open for a greater length of time than six months. Some counties have a school term of ten months, pay high salaries and the good effects are plainly perceptible,

The objection made to an increase of the school term, that in some of the districts the maximum amount of tax allowed by law is insufficient to keep the schools open for a greater length than five months, is provided for in the bill which permits, in such cases, the term to remain as at present. But an examination of the counties and districts will reveal the fact that this is the case in but few instances. The real opposition to the bill grows out of other and different reasons than want of ability to pay. There is considerable of the old leaven of opposition to the whole school system yet remaining in the State, and, while it does not manifest itself in open opposition to the system, it lets no opportunity pass of crippling it where it can do so and not suffer the consequences. It is to be hoped the friends of good schools and schools for all, and of at least six months terms, will rally to the support of this bill

The Invalid Pension Bill which the Republicans tried to pass over the veto of the President was lost last Thursday—the vote falling short of the required two-thirds majority. The Republicans voted solidly for it, and the Democrats as solidly against it.

Candidates' Cards

SHERIFF.

EDITOR OF THE POST:—Many republicans of this staid Republican strong-hold have expressed their opinion in respect to the nomination of a popular and available candidate for one of the most important offices of the county: One which most materially affects all classes of our people, namely, that of the sheriffalty. With due respect to public sentiment, we submit that D. Bolender, of Middleburgh, would make a strong candidate before the people, because of his official integrity and easy conduct in regard to all matters placed in his hands for collection. He has experience which is essential to a proper discharge of the duties of the office. He is well and favorably known throughout the county. That he is a Republican no one doubts, and therefore, we ask for him a hearty support at the coming Primary Election.

CENTRE TOWNSHIP.

ED. POST.—Please announce the name of David Reichly of Franklin as a candidate for the office of Sheriff at the coming Republican Primary Election. Mr. Reichly was an honest, faithful and obliging officer, lenient and accommodating, he endured burdens and difficulties during his term, his word and promises are good.

MANY CITIZENS.

ED. POST.—Permit us to suggest the name of Dr. John W. Orwig of Middleburgh, as a suitable candidate for the office of Sheriff of Snyder county, subject to the decision of the Republican Primary Election. Mr. Orwig is not only a gentleman eminently suited for the office, but is deserving of the highest praise for the services he rendered to his country—having in possession the honorable discharges from five year's services in the Rebellion on the back of which are the sworn testimony of his commanding officers certifying to his having participated in thirty-one regular battles and we can show no better return for his services than his nomination. We recognize him as an honorable gentleman in whom we have the highest confidence and respectfully ask a recognition of his merits—feeling assured that if nominated he will be triumphantly elected.
