A YOUNG MAN'S FIRST THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The first thousand dollars a young man earns and saves will generally settle the question of business life with him. It is the fruit of personal industry. He gives his time and labor for it. While he is thus earning and saving it he must earn two or three or perhaps four times as much to pay current expenses. He is consequently held sternly to the task of industry for a considerable period. The direct consequence to him is a steady, continuous and solid discipline in the habits of industry, in patient, persistent, forecasting and selfdenying efforts, breaking up all the tendencies to frivolity, and making him an earnest economist of time. He not only learns how to work, but he also acquires the love of work; and, moreover, he learns the value of what he has saved out of his earnings. He has toiled for it, he has observed its slow increase from time to time, and in his estimation it represents so many months or years of practical labor.

Picking Out A Wife.

I always was partial to the ladies and did a great deal of gallanting them around and making them have as good a time as myself. But when I came to the age at which most young men fall in love I was very careful to single out a lady of my own age, and one who had an extra amount of common sense and good breeding; one who was always considerate of others, welfare, and was not ashamed that she kept house for three younger children left orphans when quite young.

"Now, after three years of married life, I have never seen my wife untidy. She makes it her business to keep herself looking as neat as her house, and I have yet to see her out of humor, in the least ways cross, and although I do not make anything like big wages, yet she manages to keep the house in all necessaries, and I have more money in my pocker at the end of the month than I ever had, or could manage to save, before I was married.

"I think if more young men would look on the practical side of matrimony there would not be so many disappointing unions."

Common sense is the thing. Never mind the pretty face, bright eyes or small feet. Has she a good supply of common sense? It beats music and drawing far enough.

Wise Words.

He is a great man who can sacrifice everything and say nothing.

Truth is as impossible to be soiled by any outward touch as the sunbeam.

It is much easier for an ill-natured man than a kind one to be smart and witty.

Home is the one thing sweet on earth, but home is built not of stones, but of hearts.

Creed is meant to tell on conduct.—Character is the last outcome and test of doctrine.

Opinion alter, manners change.—Creeds rise and fall, but the moral law is written on tablets of eternity.

Some people think of the petition:—"Thy will be done," as coming into their lives only when they have troubles or losses.

Beautiful souls often get put into plain bodies; but they cannot be hidden, and have a power all their own, the greater for the unconsciousness or the humility that gives it grace.

To act with common sense, according to the moment, is the best wisdom I know, and the best philosophy to one's duties, take the world as it comes, submit respectfully to one's lot, bless the goodness which has given us much happiness with it, whatever it is, and despise affectation.

Errors That Are Human

To yield to immaterial trifles.

To endeavor to mould all dispositions alike

To look for perfection in our own actions.

To look for judgment and experience in youth.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

To expect to be able to understand everything.

To measure the enjoyment of others by your own.

Not to make allowances for the infirmities of others.

To consider everything impossible that we can not perform.

To worry ourselves and others with what can not be remedied.

It is a mistake to set up your own standard of right and wrong and judge people accordingly.

Rezeau Brown says that while Charley Coolman makes the boast that he has used salt in his mortar every time that he has built a chimney and never had but one house (the James Miller residence) burn from a defect in the chimney, that he (Brown) has worked many more years at the same business, built many more chimneys and never had a house built by him burned down because of the fault of the chimneys, and he never put a grain of salt in his mortar either Brown is ahead there.—South Bend Times.

Short Talks with My Boys.

Boys, do not try to learn to use tobacco. Stop a minute and let us consider the matter. Why should you wish to learn? Oh, because Harry uses, that is your reason. Well, does it do Harry any good? You "don't know as it does." Very well then, let's consider the reasons against its use. In the first place, it is injurious to the health; it is also expensive, and moreover, filthy. Now how do the ayes and noes balance? Don't for a moment imagine it is a "smart" thing to do Any fool can learn to use it, but it sometimes takes a smart boy to have manliness to refuse to do as his silly mates are doing. By this I do not mean to be understood as saying only fools use tobacco, but I do say there is nothing smart or manly in learning to use it, nothing smart, but that other thing that people designate with a sneer as "smarty."

I have nothing severe to say to those who have become confirmed in the habit of using the weed, for habit is as remorseless as a pair of handcuffs, but I have no patience with the beginner who will nauseate himself and suffer the torture of accustoming himself to the nuisance, when he would be a thousand times better without it. We hear every day of cases of heart disease aggravated by the use of tobacco; of that horror, smoker's cancer, and now comes a report from London of blindness from the same cause Here is what a London paper says on the subject:

"Tobacco blindness is becoming a common affliction. At present there are several persons under treatment for it at one London hospital. It first takes the form of color blindness, the sufferers who have smoked themselves into this condition being quite unable to distinguish the color of a piece of red cloth held up before them. Sometimes the victim loses his sight altogether. Although smoking is to a large extent the cause of the malady, heavy drinking is also partly responsible."

THE SITUATION IN EUROPE

The conviction is gaining ground in Russia that war between France and Germany is inevitable. France is concentrating her troops and building barracks on the frontier Russia is watching and waiting, with the view of keeping clear of entangling alliances with Austria or England when the conflict between France and Germany begins. She will not support France, but may restrain Germany, if France should be defeated, and save the latter country from the full effects of the disaster. This attitude of the Russian Government is inexplicable, except in the light of jealousy of Germany, a motive which doubtless animates every Cabinet in Europe Prince Bismarck has accomplished his object in the unification of Germany, and now finds himself hampered, not only by the jealousies of his neighbors, but by the opposition element in his own country. If war between France and Germany should break out now the struggle will be a desperate one and the resources of each will be sorely tested, unless the contest should be so one sided as to justify the Powers in interfering to prevent the utter humiliation of the beaten people. Such a result would distroy the equilibrium of Europe, and that in the estimation of Statesmen would be a calamity in comparison with which the slaughter consequent on a war would pale into utter insignificance.

G. M. Shindel.

Miraculous Escape.

W. W. Reed, druggist, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "One of my customers, Mrs. Louisa Pike, Bartonia, Randolph Co., Ind., was a long sufferer with Consumption, and was given up to die by her physicians. She heard of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and began buying it of me. In six months' time she walked to this city, a distance of six miles, and is now so much improved she has quit using it. She feels she owes her life to it." Free Trial Bottles at G. M. Shindel's Drug Store.

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisic, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters Sold at fifty cents a bottle by G. M. Shindel.

RUSHING TO DEATH

in the attempt to swim the Niagara Whirlpool Rapids is no more reckless or dangerous than to trifle with disease which each day secures a stronger hold and hastens the end of life. This is specially true of rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, and nervous headache, which though perhaps slight at first are extremely dangerous, and steadily secure a firmer grip until at last the agony is unendurable and sudden death brings relief.

These diseases can be cured by the use of Athlophoros which, in connection with Athlophoros Pills, never fails when properly used. Read the following from those who have tested it.

C. A. Steward, Nelson, Pa., says: "Athlophoros has saved my mother's life. Last spring, two of the best physicians in the county, said she could not live two months. She had been helpless for a year, had to be lifted off and on the bed, limbs all drawn out of shape, cords contracted, flesh sore to the touch, could not be lifted or touched without screaming aloud. The soreness is all gone, the cords relaxed, appetite good, and gaining every day, and I think a few more bottles will cure her."

New Haven, Conn.

I had the neuralgia for three months in my face. Went to the doctor; he gave me some medicine to take internally and a preparation of chloroform to put on the outside, but it did not do any good. Could not sleep night or day. Had suffered so much and so long that I was afraid it would drive me crazy. Was told to try Athlophoros by a party it had cured of the rheumatism. After taking part of a bottle the pain all left as by magic, and now I am well, with not a sign of neuralgia about me.

MAMIE DIETRICH, 13 Hudson St.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they can not be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

For liver and kidney disease, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, ailments of women, constipation, headache, impure blood, &c., Athlophoros Pills are unequaled.
