

"THE GOOD OLD DAYS"

Men 60 years old remember when there were no steamboats, but all travel on the water was done by the slow, uncertain means of sailing vessels...

Men 50 years old remember when there were no railroads, but all travel on land was done by stages, by wagons, by ox teams, on horseback, and on foot...

Men 45 years old remember when there were no telegraphs, but all messages had to be sent by the slow-going mails.

Men 40 years old remember when there was no electro-plating, but everything in that line was done in the old-fashioned slow way.

Men 35 years old remember when there were no telephones, but all the messages now spoken through them had to be sent by notes or special messengers.

Men 30 years old remember when there were no automobiles, but all the messages now spoken through them had to be sent by notes or special messengers.

Men 25 years old remember when there were no televisions, but all the messages now spoken through them had to be sent by notes or special messengers.

Men 20 years old remember when there were no radios, but all the messages now spoken through them had to be sent by notes or special messengers.

Men 15 years old remember when there were no movies, but all the messages now spoken through them had to be sent by notes or special messengers.

Men 10 years old remember when there were no airplanes, but all the messages now spoken through them had to be sent by notes or special messengers.

Men 5 years old remember when there were no computers, but all the messages now spoken through them had to be sent by notes or special messengers.

Men 1 year old remember when there were no... but all the messages now spoken through them had to be sent by notes or special messengers.

boarded gold and honor bought from those who charge the misery of self-respect or power that only binds a coward's knee and forces from the lips of fear the lies of poison...

And so, looking in marriage veils his children's hands and crossing others on the breasts of peace, with laughter's babes upon his knees, the white hair mingling with the gold, he journeys on from day to day to that horizon where the dusk is waiting for the night...

He is like a broken bank, because he lacks principle.

He is like a pawnbroker, because his industry depends on his interest.

He is like St Paul, because he is all things to all men.

He is like a ball, because he lies on all sides.

He is like a circus performer, because he goes to the ring.

He is like a harp, because he is a modern specimen of a lyre.

He is like the Arctic and the Antarctic circles, because he is to be found about the poles.

He is like the iron man, because he finds profit in steel.

He is like a telegraphic beam, because he manipulates the wires.

He is like the dentist, because he often takes the stump.

He is like a... because he often takes the stump.

He is like a... because he often takes the stump.

He is like a... because he often takes the stump.

He is like a... because he often takes the stump.
