WINTER IN THE WILD WEST.

Tower City, Dakota, March 31.—There have doubtless been many exaggerated stories in the papers of the east regarding the weather we have had the past winter. Some have come to my notice. The unusual severity of the winter has been a favorable theme for the rhetorical gymnast and it would be surprising if it had been neglected. Yet, when I say that what in winter is the coldest part of this country has been colder this winter than any winter since '78, you may infer that we have been in no mood to write poetry about "the beautiful snow." The worst blizzard of the season came on November 22, and the snow did not melt in the least from December 1st till February 28th. The temperature was unusually low and the blizzards unusually frequent and violent. The lowest point the mercury reached at this place, to my knowledge, was forty-six degrees below zero. Along the Canadian border it was fifty-five degrees below. The worst feature of our winters is the almost continual winds. The atmosphere is seldom calm and the winds often blow with a fury that is simply terrific. When the mercury is twenty degrees below zero and the winds are doing even fair work, it is dangerous for man and beast alike to be out for any length of time. Parenthetically, it seems that the windmill ought to flourish here and contribute as much to the "onward march" as it does along the shores of the Zuyder Zee. The frail race that dots the landscape of the east could not thrive, however; it would suffer so much from prostration that it would be of little value. I have heard of a number of people losing life or limbs during the winter from cold. A few of these cases are the result of unavoidable exposure, but most are due to a strange carelessness on the part of the poor unfortunates. People who dress as the climate demands suffer little from the cold and always gain in health. The long and severe winter is the greatest objection to living in Dakota. Outside of the towns little can be done during the winter months, and the summer is so short that some crops, such as corn, cannot be raised with any success in this part of the territory. As soon as the frost is out of the ground the farmers begin to work the land and everything is done with a rush. According to the almanac, winter is over, but Boreas is lingering around with a fondness that is not at all appreciated. We have had several "chinook" winds—warm winds from the Pacific—and the snow has rapidly disappeared; but the beauties and pleasures of spring are yet in "the sweet bye-and-bye."

Henry Ward Beecher and President Lincoln used to get together and swap yarns. The last time Mr Beecher ever saw the President alive he poured this story into his willing ears: An aged dominie way back in Illinois, used to look carefully over his congregation every Sunday and note who was absent. Then Monday he would call on the delinquents and find out why they were away. One Sunday he missed old man Cooney, and true to custom called on him the following morning. "Brother Cooney, you were not at church yesterday." "Went fishin'," said the old man, going right on with his hoeing. "Why did you stay away?" "Preachin' too long." "Brother, there will be no preaching in hell—" "Twont be fer want o' parsons." And the dominie gave up calling on delinquents.

President Harrison's Popularity.

General Harrison, during his month's sojourn at the White House, made himself very popular. He arose every morning with the sun, took a long walk, often returning through the market. On one of these occasions he purchased a new milch cow from a neighboring farmer and requested him to drive it to the President's house. The General was there to attend to the animal and invited the farmer in to take some refreshment, procured a bowl of hot coffee, ham and eggs, and continued conversation with him about farming.

The farmer having finished his breakfast remarked to the General: "You have bought my cow and given me $2 more than I asked and a good breakfast besides, but if it wouldn't be too much trouble, I would like to have a look of the President before I go." "I am the President," replied the General. The farmer at first looked incredulous, having taken his hospital friend for the steward, but convinced of his mistake with much frankness observed: "Well, General, I voted against you at the election, but I didn't know you then."—Ben. Perley Poore.

If it takes a boy twenty-five minutes to cut three sticks of wood to get supper by, how long will it take him next morning to walk three miles in the country to meet a circus coming to town?

What a Baby Can Do.

It can wear out a $1 pair of kid shoes in twenty-four hours.

It can keep its father busy advertising in the newspapers for a nurse.

It can make itself look like a fiend just when mamma wants to show "what a pretty baby she has."

It can make an old bachelor in the room adjoining use language that, if uttered on the street, would get him in the penitentiary for two years.

It can go from the furthest end of the room to the foot of the stairs in the hall adjoining quicker than its mother can just step into the closet and out again.

It can go to sleep and "be a little angel," and just as mamma and papa are starting for the theatre it can wake up and stay awake until the last act.

These are some of the things that a baby can do. But there a great many other things as well:

A baby can make the commonest home the brighest spot on earth.

It can lighten the burdens of a loving mother's life by adding to them.

It can flatten its dirty face against the window pane in such a way that the father can see it as a picture before he rounds the corner.

Yes, babies are a great institution, particularly one's own baby.

A Family of Giants.

A whole family of giants live near McConnellsburg, Fulton county. The members of this family investigated their weights and sizes, with the following result: Samuel A. Nesbit, aged 24 years, 6 feet in height, 184 pounds in weight; John A. Nesbit, aged 25 years 6 feet in height, 183 pounds in weight; William H. Nesbit, aged 21 years, 6 feet in height, 182½ pounds in weight; Charles F. Nesbit, aged 19 years, 6 feet 2 inches in height, weight 182 pounds; Albert Nesbit, aged 17 years, 6 feet 3 inches in height, weight 185½ pounds. The father, William Nesbit, is also a man over 6 feet.

A QUESTION ABOUT
Brown's Iron Bitters ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times: "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe Iron. Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will at once prove the assertion that there are more preparations of Iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that Iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact that before the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfectly satisfactory Iron preparation had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other Iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Nervousness and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, however does cure in a manner. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken according to direction a perfect benefit is realized. Step by step the muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the blood is made pure, the skin clears up, healthy color comes to the cheeks, nervousness disappears, functional derangements become regular, and, as a result, a strong, healthy body is established. It is supplied for this trade. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY Iron medicine that is not injurious in its effects. Physicians recommend it.

The Genuine has Trade-mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Sold by druggists.

UTTERLY DISCOURAGED

expresses the feeling of many victims of rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and nervous or sick headache. Having tried numberless so-called remedies, and physicians of all schools, without relief, there seems to be no hope. Many such have as a last resort tried Athlophoros, and to their surprise and joy have found that it was a safe, sure and quick cure. Athlophoros is not an experiment; thousands have been cured by its use and they testify as to its value.

Shokomeko, Dutchess Co. N. Y. Aug. 20, '86.

I took Athlophoros according to directions; it caused a ringing in my ear that was not pleasant, it operated on my heart causing a slower and fainter throb, and constipated my bowels. When the last dose was taken I did not think much of the medicine; the next day my lameness was better, and continued getting less until it left me. My lameness was in my back, shoulders and neck, and had been for eight months. I was advised to try Athlophoros by my neighbor, Wm. Jackson, who had taken a bottle of it for a severe attack of lameness in his shoulder and arm. He said "it drove the lameness right out of me; my head felt strong, and my heart almost stopped beating; I thought I would die, but I came out all right, and have not had any lameness since." AARON PRICE.

Phelps, N. Y., August 13, 1886.

I am a practicing physician; I prescribed Athlophoros in a case of inveterate rheumatism of the right shoulder and arm. This case had been of weeks standing—yes months—and resisted medicine carefully selected, also the use of electric treatment. One bottle removed all the trouble. The case remains well, now over a year since using the medicine.

G. C. PRICHARD, M. D.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

For liver and kidney diseases, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, constipation, headache, impure blood, &c., Athlophoros Pills are unequaled.
