RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.

Seven railroad accidents were reported in one morning last week The great slaying machine of civilization, exclaims the Philadelphia Bulletin, has outdone itself of late. In nearly all of these accidents the great suffering and loss of life may be traced to the inefficiency of railroad management, or to such disregard of public safety as should be declared criminal. The fatal Y track in the Washington yard of the Baltimore and Ohio depot was known to be "risky" among railroad men. The Chatsworth accident has been traced to the carelessness of an employe. The death of two valuable men on the elevated tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad, seems to have been due to the carelessness of the switch operator and the engineer of the shifting engine. It is rare, however, that such carelessness is to be found on the best managed of all railroads. Thursday's accident at Bayard, Ohio, was caused by a spread in the rails. It caused the death of one person and the injury of several. When an overworked or negligent engineer or switch tender can be made responsible there is immediately and properly, an indignant howl raised against him. But when "the management" is to blame, who is responsible? A spread in the rails is not always a final explanation, nor is a broken switch or a broken rail or a bridge destroyed. The personal responsibility of railroad officers is more than that of business men to their patrons; and "the management" should be legally regarded as actual human individuals, personally responsible for unsound rails, worn crank-pins, immovable switches, and poorly secured rails. Our boasted railroad system has become so voracious in its demands for sacrifice that it is with apprehension one trusts himself upon a train. Unfortunately; men will go on taking the risk, and the companies cannot be retaliated upon by the withdrawal of support by patrons. The demands of business will not permit walking and stage coaching again to be adopted, however great the risk that attends travel by rail.

Advantages of Low Ceilings.

The advantages of low ceilings for dwellings, on account of their being more readily and completely ventilated than dwellings that are high ceiled, are now very generally [illegible] ted by builders and sani[illegible]

The view taken of this matter from the standpoint of health is, briefly, that the leakage of air which is always going on keeps all parts of the air in motion in such rooms, whereas, if the ceiling is higher, only the lower part of the air is moved, and an inverted lake of foul and hot air is left floating in the space above the window tops.

To have the currents of fresh air circulating only in the lower part of the room, while the upper portion of the air is left unaffected, is really the worst way of ventilating, for the stagnant atmospheric lake under the ceiling, although motionless, keeps actively at work under the law of the diffusion of gases, fouling the fresh currents circulating beneath it. With low ceilings and high windows no such accumulation of air is possible, for the whole height of the room is swept by the currents as the dust of the floor is swept with a broom. Again it is urged in behalf of low ceilings, that they possess the advantage of enabling rooms to be warmed with less expenditure of heat and less cost of fuel.—Boston Budget.

"NEARLY CRAZED with pain" is the sad cry of many a victim of rheumatism or neuralgia, and frequently other diseases, such as kidney and liver complaints, are directly traceable to rheumatism or neuralgia. These diseases, for some unexplainable reason, are rapidly increasing, and in many instances are the direct cause of much sickness which so hides its real origin as to be mistaken for other diseases. In curing rheumatism, neuralgia, sick headache, and in many cases of kidney and liver troubles, Athlophoros has wrought wonders. Those who have used it are best qualified to speak of its merit.

Rouses Point, New York.

I took Athlophoros and I think it helped me. I had not walked for 8 weeks when I took the Athlophoros and have walked since. I have taken nearly all medicines recommended for rheumatism, and I think that Athlophoros helped me the most of any. I am not entirely cured yet, but am going to take Athlophoros if it comes on bad again. MRS. THOS. HAYES.

Boltenville, Vt., August 15th, 1886.

I can thankfully say I believe I owe my life to Athlophoros as an instrument in the hand of God. I have had no return of those awful spells of neuralgia of the heart since I last wrote you. Hoping this may induce others to try so valuable a medicine, I remain Very respectfully yours, MRS. C. N. PAIGE.

Pawling, N. Y., August 19, 1886.

The bottle of Athlophoros I procured for Jacob Reinner's wife acted like a charm. She had been confined to her bed for three weeks or more. Could hardly help herself any. In one week she was on her feet. She had not long before given birth to a child and had inflammatory rheumatism. A. A. TOFFY.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 25c. for Pills.

For liver and kidney disease, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, constipation, low state, impure blood, &c., Athlophoros Pills are unrivaled.

What Can Be Done.

By trying again and keeping up courage many things seemingly impossible may be attained. Hundreds of hopeless cases of Kidney and Liver Complaint have been cured by Electric Bitters, after everything else had been tried in vain. So, don't think there is no cure for you, but try Electric Bitters. There is no medicine so safe, so pure, and so perfect a Blood Purifier. Electric Bitters will cure Dyspepsia. Diabetes and all Diseases of the Kidneys. Invaluable in affections of Stomach and Liver, and overcomes all Urinary Difficulties.
