Oysters at Gutelius'. WANTED.—10,000 pounds of wool at Drefuss Bros., Selinsgrove, Pa.

Chas. Frain and family on Tuesday returned to their Akron, O. home.

Mrs. Theodore A. Walter on Saturday arrived here from Akron, O.

Miss Lillie Spaid, daughter of Phillip Spaid, is suffering from a sore throat.

Miss Nora Gutelius is on the sick list—rheumatic pains in the trouble.

Mrs. Horace Alleman of Selinsgrove visited her many Middleburgh friends last Saturday.

Mrs. John Hoch of Union county is visiting her father, Albright Swineford, of this place.

The Central Dry Goods store, Selinsgrove, will be closed Wednesday, September 28th.

John Stetler and Al. Cleelan took a 24-inch salmon out of the Susquehanna one day last week.

The excursion train coming west on Sunday morning killed a valuable cow belonging to Mr. Fryman, near Kramer.

Last week T. H. Harter sold his remaining lot on the French flats to W. C. Snyder, who intends to build on it this fall.

D. Boiesler is having the Washington House treated to a coat of paint. It will add greatly to its appearance when completed.

Quite a number of our people went to worship at the negro campmeeting at Shindel station on the S. & L. R. R. last Sunday. As yet we have heard of no converts.

Prof. Dawson, principal of the full term of the Middleburgh Academy, has received and accepted a call from Warren county to teach at a salary of $50 per month.

Alexander Baker and Joseph Kerr, Executors of the estate of George Baker, deceased, will sell valuable real estate in Centre township, on Thursday, October 20th. See bills.

The colored campmeeting at Shindel on Sunday was not noted for its religious impartations, but of revelry and fighting there was an abundance—five or six knockdowns and drag-outs are reported.

Rev. J. C. Shindel of Mt. Carmel, his mother Mrs. Judge Shindel of Selinsgrove, and Miss Bessie Camp of Milton, were the guests of Rev. J. P. Shindel's family of this place on Monday.

S. Weis of the Central Dry Goods store, Selinsgrove, has just returned from the eastern cities with a heavy stock of fall goods. Give him a call, take a look at the goods, and learn the prices.

A. K. Gift, Esq., on Saturday left here to pay a visit to his son John R. in Nebraska. It is rumored that the Squire and son will invest in real estate in that State.

Amos Waine of Michigan is visiting the friends and scenes of his boyhood. His father, John Waine, years ago resided on the farm now occupied by Philip Auld in Franklin township.

On Saturday last a 6-year old girl of William Madder, of Franklin, while walking backward fell into a bucket of boiling water, scalding itself in a terrible manner. Dr. Barber was called who soon allayed the pain.

Jacob Denfer of near New Berlin, who was severely kicked by a horse several weeks ago, was reported dead on Friday. We are glad to say that the report is false, and are informed that Mr. B. is slowly improving.

It is estimated that fifteen hundred to two thousand bass have been caught at Shamokin Dam every day this week. They bite like mosquitoes. Rev. and Dr. Orwig and the editor made a trip to it Monday and returned with 134.

During his recent visit to Ohio, the editor of the Post came in possession of a 5 pound stone hatchet, found on Sandusky Plains. It is supposed to be one of the implements of war used by the pre-historic race known as the "Mound builders." It is one of the largest ever found and is therefore quite a relic.

New Goods at Gutelius'. Sweet-potatoes at G. C. Gutelius cheap.

Jeremiah Smith of Lykens, Pa., is visiting his brother James at this place.

On the first page of this issue will be found a result of the editor's investigations of the Ohio "Liquor Tax."

G. C. Gutelius has opened his stock of Fall and Winter goods, consisting of a superior line of stylish and well made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishing Goods. More, and better, and cheaper than ever.

A Republican Mass Meeting will be held at Middleburgh, on Tuesday evening of Court Week. Efforts will be made to secure able speakers.

A. S. Pawling the Secretary of the County Standing Committee is in receipt of a letter from Hon. W. W. Williams our candidate for Supreme Judge, in which he says that if he can possibly do so, he will be pleased to be with our people upon this occasion.

The following law should be read and noted: "It shall be the duty of the Commissioners of the several counties of this Commonwealth to appoint a person, under oath, whose duty it shall be to ferret out and bring to punishment all person who either willfully or otherwise cause the burning of timberlands, and to take measures to have such fires extinguished where it can be done, the expense thereof to be paid out of the county treasury, the unseated land tax to be first applied to such expense."

Druggists and their assistants now in business in Pennsylvania must register themselves within twenty days from the 30th of August, and all who enter the business hereafter, either as principals or assistants, must be examined by the State Board and receive certificates of competency. H. B. Cochran, Lancaster, Pa., is Secretary of the Board, and applications for registry or examination should be made to him. The fee for examination, etc., is about $2; for registry alone, about $1.

The people in this county, particularly of the west end, will remember a wagon agent by the name of E. Bottford, who has been selling goods for Emig & Co., of Emmetsburg, Pa.

The fellow canvassed this portion of the county last week and was selling quite a number of wagons and buggies. On Friday afternoon J. A. Emig, of the above firm accidentally happened along here and stopped off to see the agent. He at once learned that the fellow had been selling goods far under price—some even below cost and where he took notes had them at once discounted for cash.

Mr. Emig suspected that the fellow wanted to skip with the company's money and at once swore out a warrant before Squire Schoch and proceeded to the Eagle Hotel, at Franklin, accompanied by Constable Renninger, armed with the warrant. Mr. Emig introduced himself to Bottford and stated his suspicions. The soundrol at once struck for the door only to run into the arms of the constable where he struggled like a little fly in a big spider's web. He soon "caved in," acknowledged the corn, and after handing over about $175—the amount due the company, he was released.

He had been selling for other firms not known to us who will be permitted to whistle for their money. Mr. Emig, after the affair was over, alluded to Renninger as a "Good officer, good officer, mighty good officer."

A correspondent to the Williamsport Gazette & Bulletin writes from Sunbury under date of Sept 14:

Some three months ago a couple of sharpers came this way and fleeced old John Hummel, of Shamokin Dam, across the river, out of $3,000 and skipped. Chase was given by detectives, and it was supposed that they had been tracked to Erie where all trace was lost. Hummel offered three hundred dollars for their apprehension. Last week a young man of this place, more than ordinarily familiar with the ways and resorts of crooks of this character, went to Hummel and offered to show him his fleecers upon payment of the reward. Satisfactory arrangements were made between them and they went to New York, and in a few hours the young man was in company with the game. He came back to the hotel and reported to Hummel, who then secreted himself in a drinking place where he was to remain until they were brought in for identification. It was not long before in stepped the young man and the two crooks. They took a drink or two and went out. The young man then returned and Hummel assured him that they were the right party. But to arrest them there would necessitate a requisition from the Governor of this State to bring them to trial, and after a talk over the matter it was finally agreed to come home, Hummel's friend assuring him that he could decoy the rascals into this State by telegram. There may be further developments in a few days.

"E" stands for oysters, and G. C. Gutelius has got them. When you come to town and want a stew of the finest fresh-water oysters in the market, just drop in.

There is quite a difference of opinion among our portmen in regard to the alleged changes made by the recent legislature in the game laws. Small's Legislative Hand-Book limits the time for keeping for sale deer from October 1 to November 30, whereas the Pamphlet Laws make no mention of such an act being passed. The only acts referring to game is the one authorizing the publication of the game laws in circular form and the other limiting the killing of quail from October 15th to December 15th. As Small's Hand-Book fails to notice the change in quail law, it is evidently in error in limiting deer hunting to November 30, instead of December 15, as the law heretofore allowed. It matters very little of late, anyhow, how, when or what you hunt—just so you get it. In Centre county they have been "hunting luekberries" with guns and knapsacks for the last three months, and nobody is the wiser—excepting the tanners who take in some mighty thin-haired deer hides. Some assert—and give good authority for it—that deer are free to January 1. In this they do not err, but they hunt all the same. Let our legislature pass an act making all game free on October 1st, and people will understand and obey the law, but when lawyers and judges disagree, people will interpret the law to suit themselves. The law as it now is allows the killing of Deer from Oct. 1 to Dec. 15. Turkeys from Oct. 15 to Jan. 1. Quail from Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Squirrels from Sept. 1 to Jan. 1. Rabbits from Nov. 1 to Jan. 1. Pheasants from Oct. 1 to Jan. 1. Woodcock from July 4 to Jan. 1.

Perhaps there are few, if any vacations or pursuits in life, attended with more perplexity and embarrassments, than that of publishing a weekly country newspaper. This is owing, principally, to an unjustifiable negligence in many in making reasonable payment for the newspaper, which involves the printer in distressing embarrassments, if it does not prove destructive to his business, even at a time when his subscription list numbers thousands of responsible men. This negligence, in most instances, probably proceeds from inadvertency rather than a dishonest principle, but the effect, in either case, is the same on the printer. Our subscription list is now extensive, and constantly increasing, and consequently, our weekly expenses for paper are great, which cannot be procured without prompt payment in cash, besides other heavy expenses in supporting the necessary labor of a printing establishment. The daily adding of numbers of subscribers to our list, presents, at the first view, an encouraging prospect; but it will prove delusive, unless they are punctual in their remittances.

We have the type paid for an entire new dress for the POST and all we want now is a new press to make the paper what it should be. Had we the two thousand dollars now due us on our books—which is nearly all good, but hard to get—we could at once proceed with our intended improvements, but as it is, we must wait till this man sells his hogs, that one his corn, the next his wheat, and the balance shuck their onions. It is as unpleasant for us to refer to this as it is for the prompt paying subscriber to read it, but we ask no more than would be justly afforded any individuals, engaged in other occupations—that is, a punctual discharge of what is due; it is from the good will of our patrons we expect our demands, and hope that our reasonable and earnest request will not be made in vain. We tender our sincere acknowledgments.

ADAMSBURG.—Adam Specht of this place has a grape vine which has its second crop for this year. When the first crop commenced to ripen the second was in blossom and are now in full cluster and will be ripe in about three weeks if not injured by frost.

John Lepley a former resident of this place but now of Siglerville, spent a few days here.

S. F. DEIBERT, Artist. McClure, Sept. 14th 1887.

IN BRIEF, AND TO THE POINT.—Dyspepsia is deafening. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she used Castoria. When she became a Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
