Born in the Coffin.

An extraordinary occurrence is reported from Summertown, Clarendon county, South Carolina. A colored girl, 17 years old, who had been ill several days, died last Wednesday. The body was properly prepared and dressed for burial and placed in a coffin, the negroes of the neighborhood holding their customary noisy 'wake' over the corpse all through Wednesday night. The funeral services were held in the colored church on Thursday afternoon and the body was to be interred in a graveyard about two miles distant. When the cortege had reached a point within fifty yards of the cemetary the pall-bearers were startled by a crying noise somewhat resembling the mewing of a cat, apparently emanating from the coffin. The procession was halted and after considerable discussion it was resolved that the coffin should be opened.

Upon removing the lid it was found, to the great consternation of the funeral party, that the girl was alive, but unconscious, and that a new born babe had shared with her the narrow bed. Several of the pall-bearers and mourners were terror-stricken and fled. Those who remained administered to the wants of the woman and her infant and in a short time both were taken to a neighboring house where they received kindly and necessary attention. At last accounts the mother was doing well, there being every indication of her complete recovery whilst the infant is hearty and robust, and is flourishing as well as any pickaninny born under ordinary conditions and circumstances.

A Poor Policy.

The local agent of a fire insurance company went out to Chene Street one day recently to adjust a loss in a dwelling house. There had been only a small blaze with about $25 real damage, but when the man was asked to give in his figures he said:

'I doan take fife hoonered dollar und be so scart again. Put down fife hoonered,'

'Yes.'

'Und my wife goes almost into fits, nud you can put down one tousend.'

'Yes.'

'Und my brudder-law vhas so copsct dot he shakes all, oafer mit a chill.' Put down two hoonered for dot.'

'Anything more?'

'Vhell, my dog goes wildt, der woman's next door faints avhay, und I haf to sit cop all night. Maybe you like to trow me in a hoonered dollar extra.'

When he was informed that the policy only covered actual damages he held up his hands and shouted:

'Only dot! Vhy, den I vhas soom fools to haf a fire in mine house!'

A Woeful History.

Two friends are walking along the street. One of them, pointing to a house, says:

'There's a beautiful place, but it's enough to make a man sad to look at it.'

'Why so?'

'On account of its history; for, despite its calm and serene surroundings, it was built upon the groans, tears, wailings and blood of widows, orphans, old men and struggling women.'

'You don't say so. Was it built by a railroad monopolist?'

'Oh, no; by a dentist.'

Sam Jones says: Next to a pretty woman, I love a fast horse. We don't. When we are next to a pretty woman we want a slow horse—one of the kind you have to build a fire under to start him.

Sunday school scholar to teacher of a colored Sunday school class, who has related the parable of the prodigal son—Well, I don't think he was very smart to eat husks when hungry. Why didn't he kill one ob dem little pigs?

Ingersoll says he was never in a theatre in his life that he didn't meet Sherman.

They Never Stop.

It is this kind of a wife that makes some men old and gray before their time.

"William," she says, after William is curled snugly up under the blankets for the night, "did you lock the front door?"

"Yes," says William briefly.

"You're sure you did?"

"Yes, sure."

"And you slipped the bolt, too?"

"Yes."

"You know you forgot it once, and it gave such a turn when I found it out in the morning. I didn't get over it for a week. We haven't much anybody'd want to steal, I know, but I don't want the little we have taken, for I—"

"I tell you I attended to the doors.'

"Well I hope so for goodness' sake. —You attended to the basment door?"

"Yes, I tell you."

"Because if you hadn't you or I, one or the other, would have to get up and attend to it now. I read to-day of——"

"I don't care what you read."

"It is said that a man down on B street forgot to——"

"I don't care if he did."

"And in the middle of the night a burglar walked right in and——"

"I don't believe it."

"I have a notion to get up and see if you have locked that door. You're sure?"

"How many times have I got to tell you that I did lock it?"

"Well, you thought you'd locked it that time when you left it unlocked."

"Will you be quiet?"

"I don't care, William, you yourself know how careless you are, and——"

See here, Mary Jane, this has got to end right here."

But it doesn't end there; and it doesnt end for an hour, and William arises in the morning with the lines on his brow a little deeper, and the hopeless, desperate look still in his face.

The modern girl won't give herself when she allows herself to be wooed and won. She compells her adoring swain to surrender himself. Per example the Boston "Transcript" says:

He put on his hat and stasted slowly for the door, hesitated, came back, sighed deeply, and took the lilly white hand in his own and pressed it to his lips:

"Katie," he murmured, "I have waited long!—for this opportunity. Will you, Kate, will you darling, be mine?"

"Henry," she replied, with a look half of sorrow and half of determination, "it can never be."

"Never be! Oh why have you permitted me to hope! Why have you encouraged me, only to stamp upon my bleeding heart at last?"

"I am sorry, Henry, but I can never be yours. I have other objects in view."

"Other objects?"

"Yes, Henry; I can not consent to belong to any man. I intend that that you shall be mine."

A public school teacher is credited with the statement there is no man living who knows every one of the 75,000 words in Websters unabridged dictionary, nor half, nor a third of them. 'Nor is there a man that could define them if he were asked. Shakespeare, who had the richest vocabulary used by any Englishman, employed only 15,000 words. Milton could pick out from 8,000, but the average man, a graduate from one of the great universities, rarely has a vocabulary of more than 3,000 or 4,000 words. There are Americans born and bred who contrive to express all their wants and opinions in 300 words, and in the rural distiricts the knowledge of 150 words is sufficient to carry a man through the world.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

"NEARLY CRAZED

with pain" is the sad cry of many a victim of rheumatism or neuralgia, and frequently other diseases, such as kidney and liver complaints, are directly traceable to rheumatism or neuralgia. These diseases, for some unexplainable reason, are rapidly increasing, and in many instances are the direct cause of such sickness which so hides its real origin as to be mistaken for other diseases. In curing rheumatism, neuralgia, sick headache, and in many cases of kidney and liver troubles, Athlophoros has wrought wonders. Those who have used it are best qualified to speak of its merit.

Rouses Point, New York.

I took Athlophoros and I think it helped me. I had not walked for 8 weeks when I took the Athlophoros and have walked since. I have taken nearly all medicines recommended for rheumatism, and I think that Athlophoros helped me the most of any. I am not entirely cured yet, but am going to take Athlophoros if it comes on bad again. Mrs. Thos. Hayes.

Bolteville, Vt., August 18th, 1886.

I can thankfully say I believe I owe my life to Athlophoros as an instrument in the hand of God. I have had no return of those awful spells of neuralgia of the heart since I last wrote you. Hoping this may induce others to try so valuable a medicine, I remain Very respectfully yours, Mrs. C. N. Paige.

Pawling, N. Y., August 19, 1886.

The battle of Athlophoros I procured for Jacob Reimer's wife acted like a charm. She had been confined to her bed for three weeks or more. Could hardly help herself any. In one week she was on her feet. She had not long before given birth to a child and had inflammatory rheumatism.

A. A. Toffy.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot, Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

For liver and kidney disease, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, rheumatism, headache, in fact blood, etc., Athlophoros is unequaled. 9 tive of disease for poultry), the great egg food, produces eggs prodigiously and is good for the health of the fowling. It is the first article of its kind ever Patented in the United States, Canada and England. Try it. It costs only six cents per pound. It is no powder. Chickens will eat it. That ought to convince you that it is good. If your Grocer, Druggist, Hardware or Country Storekeeper will not get it for you, send me one dollar, and I will ship you a twenty-pound box by freight, or one hundred pounds for five dollars. A large box will cost you no more freight than a small box. Attend to your poultry, if you want to make a profit out of them, just the same as you attend to your land. Unless you manure your land it will not pay you. Just so with poultry; you must give them something besides feed. They must have material to answer for grits, gravel and animal for the egg. If you feed Chick-chick-er-ree egg food every day you will never have any sick chickens, and your hens will lay eggs when otherwise they would not. You will never do without it after a fair trial. Do not pay twenty-five or fifty cents a pound for medicine to feed your poultry when you can get a better article from your storekeeper at six cents a pound. Don't be a clam; try it.
