Fragments.

Somebody asked me to take a drink?
What did I tell him? What do you think?
I told him—No.

Somebody asked me one day to play a game of cards: and what did I say?
I told him—No.

Somebody laughs that I will not swear, And lie and steal; but I do not care:
I told him—No.

Somebody asked me to take a snail On the Sabbath day: 'twas of no avail;
I told him—No.

"If sinners entice thee, consent thou not."

My Bible said, and so on the spot
I told him—No.

The Right Sort of a Tenant.

"Oh, yes, I have all kinds of tenants," said a kind faced old gentleman; "but the one that I like best is a child not more than ten years old. A few years ago I got a chance to buy a piece of land over on the west side, and did so. I noticed there was an old coop of a house on it, but I paid no attention to it. After a while a man came to me and wanted to know if I would rent it to him."

"What do you want it for?" says I.

"To live in," he replied.

"Well," I said, "you can have it. Pay me what you think it is worth."

"The first month he brought me $2, and the second month a little boy who said he was the man's son, came with $3. After that I saw the man once in a while, but in the course of time the boy paid the rent regularly. Sometimes with $2 and sometimes with $3. One day I asked the boy what had become of his father.

"He's dead, sir," was the reply.

"Is that so?" said I. How long has it been since he died?"

"More'n a year," he answered.

"I took the money, but I made up my mind that I would go over and investigate, and the next day I drove over there. The old shed looked quite decent. I knocked at the door and a little girl let me in. I asked for her mother. She said she didn't have any.

"Where is she?" said I.

"We don't know, sir. She went away after my father died, and we've never seen her since."

"Just then a little girl about three years old came in, and I learned that these three children had been keeping house together for a year and a half, the boy supporting the two little sisters by blacking boots and selling newspapers, and the elder girl managing the house and taking care of the baby. Well, I just had my daughter call on them, and we kept an eye on them now. I thought I wouldn't disturb them while they are getting along. The next time the boy came with the rent I talked with him a little, and then I said:

"My boy, you keep right on as you have begun and you will never be sorry. Keep your sisters together and never leave them."

"I showed him a ledger in which I had entered up all the money that he had paid me for rent, and I told him it was all his with interest. 'You keep right on,' says I and I'll be your banker, and when this amounts to a little more I'll see that you get a house somewhere of your own."

"That's the kind of a tenant I have,"—Chicago Herald.

EPPS'S GRATEFUL-COMFORTING COCOA

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.

Hardly a week passes without the recall of the alarming frequency of the announcement that death was caused by rheumatism or neuralgia of the heart cannot fail to have been noted. In all probability many deaths attributed to heart disease are caused by these terrible diseases, which are far more dangerous than is generally supposed. Is there any positive cure? The best answer to such a question is given by those who have been cured by the use of Atholophors.

Greenfield, Mass., May 19, 1887.

I have been troubled with rheumatism in one of my knees for years, being times and times up for several days. Atholophors has entirely cured me. It has also cured two friends of mine who were the worst cases I ever saw, one of them a young man only 16 years of age, who was so bad the doctors gave him up. Two bottles of your remedy entirely cured him.

Geo. W. Spurr, Mgr. Diamond Supp. Co.

October 14, 1885.

Two bottles of Atholophors cured me of a very distressing Rheumatism. My family physician advised me to take it, saying he had done all he could, but could not give me any relief; but Atholophors drove it away, and I am happy to say it has never come back. My daughter was also cured by half a bottle after suffering the pangs of rheumatism.

24 Pleasant St., Waterbury, Conn.

Northampton, Mass., May 21, 1886.

For many years I have suffered from Rheumatism. This has been so severe that I was obliged to give up my business. I was induced to try Atholophors, and found it to be all I needed to get a cure for rheumatism.

LEWIS C. GARDNER.

Bevere druggist should keep Atholophors of Atholophors. This has been shown by the fact that it was first made at Bayonne, and its origin illustrates the proverb, 'Necessity is the mother of invention.' A Basque regiment was hard pressed by the enemy on a mountain ridge near Bayonne. One of the soldiers suggested that, as their ammunition was exhausted, they should fix their long knives into the barrels of their muskets. The suggestion was acted upon. The first bayonet charge was made, and the victory of the Basques led to the manufacture of the weapon at Bayonne and its adoption into the armies of Europe.

Kissed His Lifeless Head.

A distressing accident occurred at Pittsburg, recently at the railroad crossing on Eighteenth street. A workman named James Solomon quarreled with his wife and left the house in anger. His wife followed him, carrying her child in her arms, and their little son ran after his father calling him to come home. Just on the railroad crossing Solomon passed back and was knocked down by a passing train and his head was cut entirely off by the car wheels. The woman, crazed with grief and horror, picked up the severed head, kissing it wildly and imploring forgiveness for quarrelling. She was taken home by neighbors.
