Sudden Wooing of a Red Headed Girl.

"Come in."

The invitation was extended in answer to a knock at the front door of the Goat House.

The stranger stepped in, set his carpet sack on the floor, threw the water off his hat with a jerk, and went up to the stove.

"Will you register?"

"What ?"

"Put your name and address on the register of guests here."

The traveler wrote in a scrawling hand on two lines of the book, "Jacob Francis Crumgull, Abaline, Kansas." He ate his dinner, paid $1, and took a stroll about, leaving his grip, and promising to return to supper. He did, and the dining-room girl stood behind his chair ready to attend his want.

Neither spoke for some time, the knife and fork beating a kind of tattoo between the plate and the young man's teeth.

Finally he said, looking over his shoulder,

"Nice weather."

"Looks like rain," replied the girl.

"Married ?"

"No, sir," returned the girl, blushing.

"Want to be, I s'pose?"

"Te he!" she giggled.

"Got any sweethearts?"

"No, sir."

"Want one?"

"Te he! Oh, git out!"

"How'd you like me for one?"

"I don't know you."

"Don't take no time to get acquainted," said the boarder laying down his knife and fork and wiping his mouth with the table-cloth. "I live in Kansas, got a little farm, own some cows and pigs, drink liquor three times a day when I can get it, and have an aunt what belongs to the Babtist church.

"But you ain't been here long enough for me to find out much about you yet."

"Ain't I good-looking enough?"

"Yes, kinder spruey like."

"Don't I wear good enough clothes?"

"Clothes all right."

"About the right weight, ain't I ?"

"Don't object to your heft."

"Then what do you object to?"

"Nothing."

"Then why don't you say yes?"

"Hain't been asked."

"Then will you?"

"Will I what?"

"Have me."

"Te he! Te he!"

"Say yes."

"Yes!"

There was a sound of some sort of a scuffle.

The old man poked his head in at the door just in time to see the young man's arms go around the red-headed girl's waist like a rubber band on a bundle of old letters.

"Here!" he yelled, "What is all that?"

"It means," said the Kansan between kisses, "that me and this young lady has struck up a dead mash, an' that she's going to be second boss on a forty acre farm out at Abaline."

"Is that so, Mariah?"

"Bet yer life, old man," replied the girl; "I'm done waitin' on your table and pokin' vitals at your gang of boarders. Only I'm going to be chief engineer of that there Kansas ranch.

It was finally arranged that they should get married in a few days. Jacob in the meantime arranged to pay his board, while Mariah should wait on the table until the land-lord could secure the services of another dining room girl.

The following advertisement was handed the bazoo:

WANTED—A black-haired or light haired girl to shovel biscuits. Old maids or wives whose husbands have run off preferred. Apply at Goat House. N. B.—Women with young children don't apply.—Sedalia Bazoo.

Value of Cheerfulness.

I hold the deepest and most unqualified respect for any person who is habitually cheerful.

Though he be plain to ugliness and ignorant to boorishness, or though he be as poverty-stricken as the proverbial "Jobe's turkey," if he is naturally and thoroughly and heartily cheerful, he has more of the true principle of earthly happiness than was ever extracted from the mines of Ophir.

Under Dicken's pen the irrepressible Micawber became a hero and a philosopher, not from any marked achievement of talent, but purely from the man's supreme ability to face the most humiliating reverses with the same serene, unruffled exterior.

What sugar is to coffee, is a cheerful man to the neighborhood in which he lives. While the society of which he is a single member is self-sustaining and independent without him, it is much the pleasanter for being generally favored by his influence. And he does not know about the "world of good" it does us, when a score of small annoyonces set in a tide against us, to hear the hearty laugh and look into the wholesome face of one cheerful neighbor.

A talented author once said that "a cheerful disposition" was more essential than talent. A sweeping assertion, but who admires talent in a human porcupine. Soundly sensible people prefer less talent and more geniality.

The man who entertains you for an hour with the statement of his colds, and his headaches, his losses and his crosses, and ends with an exersiating report, from the dyspeptic locality is invariably a sullen, grumbling misanthrope.

Beyond a doubt laughter is healthy. Whenever we are thoroughly pleased we are in a measure nourished. Hence the old maxim, "Laugh and grow fat."

All really healthy people are likely to be good-humored, people are quite as likely to be strong in spirit.

Kind words and smiles and kindly greetings, and good wishes, are seeds that thrive and bear fruit each after its own kind.

Cheerfulness is like the widow's measures of meal; the more spent the more remains, and both the receiver and giver are enriched.

Jovial, sweet-tempered, pure-hearted people are charatable; they are charitable; they are liberal; they are not jealous. They are the sweet, their opposites are the bitter; the two elements, combine and make the social world a bitter sweet : unfortunately, the flavor of the bitter is most powerful.

The mountain is grand, majestic, and sublime, so are great deeds and achievements. But as there are more hills than mountains, so are there more little deeds than great ones in our lives. If the hills vary our landscape, and by culture yield us our daily bread, then are hills better than the snow-capped mountains.

Let our acts of sympathy and love, our words of cheer, and smiles of joy, lighten others' burdens or strengthen faint hearts; it is better for us to be kind and gently considerate, than that we had won a fortune.

A Dutch Passenger.

'I can't take that nick'e,' said a horsecar conductor, to a man who got in at the City Hall.

'Vot vos de matter mit dot goin?' asked the passenger blandly.

'It's no good. It's got a hole in it,' replied the conductor, gruffly.

'Ist dot so ? Off you plase you show me dot holes ?'

'Oxcuse me said the passenger.

And he handed over a dime.

'That's worse yet,' growled the conductor.

'Vot dot dime full of holes, too ?' asked the passenger, looking up innocently.

'Here's a whole side chipped out. We a'n't allowed to take mutilated money.'

And the conductor handed it back.

'So ?' inquired the passenger Haf you changes for helef a tollar?'

And he passed over another coin.

'What's this ?' asked the conductor contemptuously. 'It's as bald as a deacon There a'n't a scratch on it to show whether it's and overcoat button or a skating rink.

Have n't you got any money ?'

'Vell I should make smiles,' said the passenger, good-humordly. 'Here is a fife tollar, and you can baste it together ven you get some leisures, Haf you got changes off dot fife tollars ?'

And he handed over a bill torn in four or eight pieces.

'I don't want no more fooling, said the conductor, 'If you can't pay your fare, get off.'

'Vell, don'd make so many droubles I vill pay you.' And he pulled out a Mexican quarter. 'Gif me bennies,' he suggested.

'Look here, are you going to pay your fare or not ?'

'Off gourse, May be you vas vating for dot moneys.'

And he took back his quarter and substituted an English sixpence.

'Now you get off this car !' roared the conductor.

'Vere has dese cars got by?' asked the passenger, rising to obey.

'Eastern Ferry,' said the conductor.

'Den I may as well got owit. You dell dem gompanies dot some dimes dey make more moneys as oder dimes off dey dook voteffer dey got instead of going midout noding don'd it ?'

And the smiling passenger, having ridden to the end of the line, crossed the ferry, observing to himself :

'Dot vas petter off I safe such moneys, und some dimes I got owit to East Boston und it don'd goat me no more as nodings at all.'

The man who sits in the corner of an old lot and waits for an old cow to back up and be milked will go without milk all his life. The man who prays, "Give us this day our daily bread," and then sits down to his table waiting for the Lord to put bread on his plate, will surely starve to death. And the people who close their doors, as it were; and xepect prosperity to force an entrance futo their house, will croak hard times until the devil claims his dues. You must go after the cow and milk her if you want milk. You must wait for your bread if you wish to eat. And you must open your doors and invite prosperity if you expect she will ever come near you.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this Standard Remedy at G. M. Shindel's Drug Store.

HEARTLESS CRUELTY

it is to delude a poor sufferer into the belief that some worthless liniment will cure rheumatism and neuralgia. Honesty is the best policy in the manufacture of proprietary articles as in all other matters, and the fact that the proprietors of Athlophoros have never claimed for it even all its merit would warrant is not a little to do with its wonderful popularity, and the thousands of grateful testimonials received by them show that their policy has been wise as well as right.

Experience has amply demonstrated that mere outward applications are worthless. The disease has its seat in the blood, and any remedy to be successful must deal with the obstructive acid which poisons and inflames it.

Athlophoros acts on the blood, muscles and joints directly. It takes the poison out of the blood and carries it out of the system; it invigorates the action of the muscles and limbers the stiffness of the joints. It reaches the liver and kidneys, cleansing them from irritating substances, and, if followed up after the rheumatic conditions cease, it will restore these organs to regularity and health.

West Chazy, N. Y., Aug. 19, 1886.

Yours of August 14th, is at hand, and in reply would say that Athlophoros proved the most effectual remedy for neuralgia in the case of my son that I ever tried. After using half a bottle he was not troubled any more for six months.

HENRY HARRIS.

Mt. Pleasant, Pa., Aug. 10, 1886.

I am thankful that I tried Athlophoros. I had rheumatism seven years, part of the time could not move; but to-day I am well and hearty. I write this hoping some other sufferer may try it.

W. S. FLEMING.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

For liver and kidney diseases, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, constipation, headache, impure blood, &c., Athlophoros Pills are unequaled.

Interesting Experiences.

Hiram Cameron, Furniture Dealer of Columbus, Ga., tells his experience, thus: "For three years have tried every remedy on the market for Stomach and Kidney Disorders, but got no relief, until I used Electric Bitters. Took five bottles and am now cured, and think Electric Bitters the best Blood Purifier in the world." Major A. B. Reed of West Liberty, Ky., says: "Nothing has ever done me so much good as Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by G. M. Shindel.

FOR THE BLOOD
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

Combining IRON with PURE VEGETABLE TONICS, quickly and completely CLEANSES and ENRICHES THE BLOOD. Quickens the action of the Liver and Kidneys. Clears the complexion, makes the skin smooth. It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—ALL OTHER IRON MEDICINES DO. Physicians and Druggists everywhere recommend it.

DR. N. S. BROOKS, of Marion, Mass., says: "I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters as a valuable tonic for enriching the blood, and removing all dyspeptic symptoms. It does not hurt the teeth."

DR. R. M. DEJARNETT, Reynolds, Ind., says: "I have prescribed Brown's Iron Bitters in cases of anæmia and blood diseases, also when a tonic was needed, and it has proved thoroughly satisfactory."

MR. WM. EVERS, 2253 Mary St., New Orleans, La., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters relieved me in a case of blood poisoning, and I heartily commend it to any suffering in a like manner."

MR. W. J. JOHNSON, Turrentine, Ala., says: "I have been troubled from childhood with impure blood and scrofula sores, for which I tried many remedies from Brown's Iron Bitters reflected a perfect cure. I cannot speak too highly of this valuable medicine."

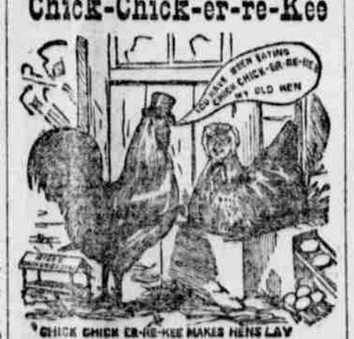
Chick-Chick-er-re-Kee



CHICK CHICK ER-RE-KEE MAKES HENS LAY

MAKES HENS LAY!

PREVENTS GAPES,
PREVENTS ROUP,
PREVENTS CHOLERA,
PREVENTS LAYING SOFT EGGS,
PREVENTS EGG-EATING,
If fed every day.

Chick-chick-er-re-kee (poultry food and preventive of disease for poultry), the great egg food, produces eggs prodigiously and is good for the health of the fowling. It is the first article of its kind ever Patented in the United States, Canada and England. Try it. It costs only six cents per pound. It is no powder. Chickens will eat it. Just ought to convince you that it is good. If your Grocer, Druggist, Hardware or Country Storekeeper will not get it for you, send me one dollar, and I will ship you a twenty-pound box by freight, or one hundred pounds for five dollars. A large box will cost you no more freight than a small box. Attend to your poultry, if you want to make a profit out of them, just the same as you attend to your land. Unless you manure your land it will not pay you. Just so with poultry; you must give them something besides feed. They must have material to answer for grinders, and material for the egg. If you feed Chick-chick-er-re-kee (egg food) every day you will never have any sick chickens, and your hens will lay eggs when otherwise they would not. You will never do without it after a fair trial. Do not pay twenty-five or fifty cents a pound for medicine to feed your poultry when you can get a better article from your storekeeper at six cents a pound. Don't be a clam; try it. Manufactured in the United States only by
