There has been a loud demand for mailable money ever since the shimpsters were called in.

There is no longer any question about the removal of the Libby prison to Chicago.

The parties interested declare that it will not be converted into a chamber of horrors.

John L. Sullivan and Charley Mitchell fought thirty-nine rounds in France on Saturday last.

The Republican party has had a long career in the country, and its record has long been a matter of history.

Kaiser Wilhelm, of Prussia, who died Friday of last week, aged ninety, was the oldest ruler in the history of the world.

It is nevertheless well to remind voters occasionally of facts which they may know, but which may have been temporarily laid aside.

In a terse and striking form it presents some of the achievements of the party that saved the Republic and freed 4,000,000 slaves.

Below we give an extract from this partial record of the Republican party: it is commended to men of all parties, and especially to those who think that the interests of the nation can safely be committed to the party that would treason and nurtured dissension.

Snow Bound.

The great and glorious West no longer has a monopoly of the active and enterprising blizzard.

It made liberty universal in the States and the flag honored throughout the world.

It made treason odious and loyalty the badge of respected citizenship.

It raised the nation from bankruptcy and secured for our public credit the faith of the financial world.

It has dignified labor and secured it rightful reward by protective tariff laws.

It has, by a rigid supervision of corporate franchise, made transportation cheap, safe and rapid for persons and property.

Pay For School Holidays.

A question has arisen in several of the school boards throughout the State regarding the pay of teachers and the closing of schools on Monday, when that day is observed as a holiday that properly occurs on the Sunday preceding.

The European War Cloud.

The civilized world is looking to Europe to know what will follow the death of the Crown Prince of Germany.

If any two nations of Europe should come into warlike conflict, it is likely that the whole of Europe will be brought into a scene of carnage such perhaps as the world has never witnessed.

With the present perfection of weapons of war and destruction, Europe would be literally flooded with blood.

There is only one way. Dry up the source—abolish the conditions that make beggars.

It has by wise economies and just laws reduced the public debt and the interest upon it.

It has by generous and yet just appropriations for pensions, illustrated its love and respect for the nation's gallant defenders.

It has made competency a condition for appointment to office and fidelity to duty the tenure for holding it.

It has reduced public expenditure to the lowest consistent with the general welfare and collected the tax from sources best able to pay it.

It has made religious liberty more secure to all forms of faith by an enlightened public opinion and established from schools with no sectarian denomination in them.

It has by its fidelity to public trust, by its constitutional amendments, by its statutory enactments, federal and State, by the life and character of its long line of statesmen, heroes, orators and martyrs, by its sacred traditions and its matchless history of great things accomplished, proven itself competent and worthy to achieve the great things yet to be done for the good and glory of the country.

How to Abolish Beggary.

A correspondent of one of our contemporaries recently asked United States Senator Stanford, of California, what could be done in this country to abolish beggary.

Where new apportionment laws are in operation, and counties have been displaced from former districts, delegates must be selected from the new Congressional district in like manner as candidates for Congress are nominated.

After reading the above rule, for the life of us, we are at a loss to ascertain how the rule has taken from us the present system of nominating Congressmen and electing National delegates.

It is obvious that the gist of the Reformatory's article is the abolition of the present confere system and the adoption of a system in force in a few districts in the State, that of giving to each county confere in proportion to its Republican vote.

Should this plan be adopted the confere would be composed as follows: Franklin 6 conferees; Huntingdon, 4; Juniata, 2; Mifflin, 2; Union 2; Snyder, 2; Fulton, 2. Fulton it will be noticed will have but two votes out of 20, while Franklin and Huntingdon will have one half the conferees.

The Reformatory says, 'the old plan of three from each county is objectionable as trades are frequently effected that cause trouble.'

Now, with all fairness we would ask, how will the above plan obviate trading.

On the contrary, it looks as though that is the sole object of adopting the new plan, and Franklin and Huntingdon will bury their political hatchet and by simply securing one confere from one of the other five counties and they will simply name their men and they will be nominated for Congress and elected as National delegates.

They can make their nominations, but it will be a sorry day for the Republicans of the 18th Congressional district if it is done, for the reason that we will surely be represented in Congress by Democrats.

The old confere system is still in force in our district, and we appeal to the Republicans of Snyder, Juniata, Mifflin and Union to submit to no change; our counties are small, but they have certain rights which Franklin and Huntingdon are bound to respect.—Fulton Republican.
