The Campaign—By Bob Burdett.

At a Republican meeting at Bryn Mawr on Tuesday of last week Robert J. Burdette, the humorist, was asked to speak. He said: "I had forgotten the Republicans of this state were wet weather voters, and I was just going to bed when your chairman came after me. Now that I am here I will be brief and hasten to make way for the speaker of the evening. Some years ago when James G. Blaine was nominated at Chicago, Carl Schurz pulled out his watch and said: "Let us note the time of the Republican party's death." Then he rose and went out and knifed the men at whose table he had sat, whose salt he had eaten and whose bread he had broken. He had his reward. He is drawing his salary, no doubt, for his word as a reformer, but he differs from Judas in not having self respect to go out and hang himself in a thorough manner. I don't know where Mr. Schurz is to-night, but I know where the Republican party is, and it is by no means dead. If Mr. Schurz is earning his salary by holding his watch in his hand and waiting to mark the hour when the Grand Old Party dies, he is working hard for his money. Other men before him have sat down to hold a wake over the Republican party and they have found that it is the liveliest corpse they have ever sat up with and that it is the soul and spirit of its own funeral.

Chairman Hensel was one of these prophets. He sent the following dispatch at the last Presidential election under the date line of Lancaster, Pa., November 4: "I have made a canvass of the State by telegraph"—(Yes, he did, and that canvass was struck by lightning twenty-four hours later)—"and I think the situation hopeful. The Democrats may carry the State by a small majority, but it is doubtful." I believe the small majority was up somewhere near one hundred thousand, but still Hensel was right in thinking his party had a fighting chance. It is not as pleasant a position as that which the upper dog occupies but it has a fighting chance. The Democrats ought to stop prophesying altogether, or else follow the example of the hen and the prophesy after the act. You can't make the Republican party die. If you want to, you must do it oftener than every twenty-four years.

The issues are sharply drawn. There is no half way house, and you have to be square on one side or the other. There can be no Republican Democrats any more than there can be a Baptist Presbyterian or a Bob Ingersoll Methodist. The Democrats tell you that the purchasing power of $1 is greater in Europe than it is here, but that does not make much difference if the people over there haven't the dollar. When people talk to me of the holidays and cheap food and the clothing the workmen in Europe enjoy I am reminded of the slave who was asked why he ran away. "You were not beaten, you had your food, medicine and clothing free. Why did you leave?" All I have to say," he remarked, is that if any of you gentlemen want the position I left it is still vacant."

S. W. Beemer, a merchant of Taylorville, Lackawanna county, and Jennie D. Thomas, a young and handsome girl of Scranton, entered the office of the register of wills at Wilkesbarre and applied for a marriage license. All the necessary questions were answered and the license given them. They then stated their desire to avail themselves of the provisions of the act of June 23, 1885, and marry themselves. They did so then and there the necessary papers being made out and signed by both and the marriage completed without any minister or justice and without any form or ceremony whatever. This is, so far as known, the first case of this kind under that provision of the law.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.—W. C. Suit, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testified: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at G. M. Shindel's Drug Store.

A WOMAN'S DISCOVERY.—"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick and Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at G. M. Shindel's Drug Store.
