The combination of ingredients found in Ayer's Pills renders them tonic and curative as well as cathartic. For this reason they are the best medicine for people of costive habit, as they restore the natural action of the bowels, without debilitating.

There is no more fruitful source of disease than vitiated blood. It involves every organ and function of the body, and if not immediately corrected by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sooner or later leads to fatal results. Be warned in time.

Wo learn from the Herald that a a letter received from Mountain View, Missouri, states that Geo. W Schwenk, formerly of Adamsburg, had died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Fillman, of chills and fever on Friday, Oct. 26. Mr. Schwenk was a correspondent to the Post for ma

The irrepressible young Americans made things hum in Middleburgh on "Holler-eve," as they called it. They annoyed some of our citizens to such an extent that threats of arrest were heard in many quarters, but, as usual, nothing came of them. There is no use in getting angry with them and the most satisfactory remedy for their deviltry is to watch your ses to all applicants, and will chance and scare them into fits.

We desire to call the attention of certain property owners to the condition of their pavements. In much frequented places we notice the brick lying loose over the good pavement and regular duck ponds filled with water and leaves in their place. Such a condition of things should not be allowed to exist for one day. They are the occasion of remarks and cuss words not a few. Let these holes be repaired in the interest of town pride and good morals.

Grand-pap Albright Swineford is vibrating between life and death and he cannot last over a few days. On Monday he asked to be carried on the back porch of his house, "for," said he, "I want to see once more cal heading of the Post so as how it looks out there." He was taken from his bed, placed in an easy chair and borne out to see this beautiful world once more. Think of it. Nearly ninety-three years old!

Is it a wonder that his thread of life is so nearly unwound, when the machinery will stop. He had hoped to retain sufficient strength to go to the polls and perform his last duty to his country by voting for Gener al Harrison at Tuesday's election, as he had voted for his grand-father in 1840 and for nearly every other President from James Monroe down to Garfield, but his strength would not permit and he is now awaiting a call to appear before a higher tribunal, where, we hope, his election is sure.

Ex-constable John says he doubt ed very much whether 'Squire Jim had a chicken of his own in his house over night, as the don't allow them to scratch about the house during the day. John claims to have owned several roosters that were regular campaign floppers who were like some men-never content with their families at home-and could most always be found in some neighbor's tomato patch. But how he happened to get into that crock seems a mystery to him, and the only salution he has is that 'Squire Jim had mistaken the rooster for a big tomato and tried to pickle him.
