DEATH RODE ON THE STORM.

ASTONISHING RAINFALL IN CHICAGO AND OTHER WESTERN PORTS.

A storm which swept across the prairie and struck Chicago Saturday night was without a parallel in the history of that section of the country.

While the storm was at its height, an unoccupied three-story house on Leavitt street was blown over on to an adjoining cottage.

Charles Shaffer, a boy six years old, who lived with his parents at 3333 Yorktown street, was killed by lightning during the storm.

Ernest Blocher, the owner of a lumber yard, was instantly killed by an Eastern Illinois engine during the storm.

ANOTHER FLOOD.

TRIBUTARIES OF THE LITTLE KANAWHA DO MORE DAMAGE.

Reports say there was a terrible rain and flood Friday night in the upper waters of the Little Kanawha.

During the storm a few days ago in Wirt county, a circus was destroyed just after the performance began.

Theodore Boyd, Mayor of Parkersburg, has issued an urgent appeal for help for sufferers by the recent flood along the Little Kanawha river.

CYCLONE IN HUNGARY.

A terrible cyclone swept over portions of Hungary, Transylvania and Bukovina, taking in a tract of several thousand square miles in its pathway.

Sunday night a barn belonging to Thomas Kress, the constable who arrested the suspects, was burned.

COLLAPSE OF THE SALT TRUST.

The proposed salt trust has collapsed. The Directors of the North American Salt Company published a statement that while the subscriptions had been numerous, the trustees did not feel justified in making an allotment of shares.

THE DE BRAAK TREASURE.

A BELIEF THAT THE CARGO OF GOLD AND SILVER HAS BEEN FOUND.

The Merritt Wrecking Company's steamer Tuckahoe, of New York, Capt. Demore, which has been at work off the Delaware Breakwater for the past seven or eight weeks searching for the treasure ship De Braak,

The Merritt Wrecking Company's people were sanguine of success upon their arrival at Lewes, Delaware, and the exact location upon which the steamer is now at work is believed to be the same as that upon which the British frigates Assistance and Resolute were working over the year after the De Braak went down.

The place is about seven-eighths of a mile from Cape Henlopen Lighthouse. Bearings were taken at the time by pilots residing in Lewes, some of whom left records which the Merritt Wrecking Company became possessed of, and, supplying themselves with the most expert divers that could be obtained and superior grapping apparatus for penetrating the hull of the sunken vessel, they began operations with determination and superior facilities for success, which there is a reason to believe they have met with.

The supposition that the De Braak, a British sloop-of-war, went down with millions in gold and silver has been verified by the records of the British Admiralty. The money and 70 tons of copper were the proceeds of the capture of two Spanish treasure ships bound from Central America to Spain.

Observers of the operations of the Merritt wreckers have noticed large objects hoisted aboard their vessel within the past few days, and there is apparently great excitement on board.

The following crop estimate is compiled by Col. Rogers, of the Market Record, one of the most reliable crop statisticians of the Northwest:

The maturing grain in the spring wheat sections has progressed enough toward maturity that it is possible to form something like a fair estimate of the yield.

The greatest trouble is in arriving at approximations of acreage that are below average and above average.

The last crop, while called 60,000,000 total, was more than 70,000,000 bushels, or perhaps 75,000,000 bushels of all sorts.

The Chattanooga Tradesman has instituted an inquiry with reference to the value of negro labor in industrial channels in the South.

The inquiries were sent to 300 leading Southern manufacturers, representing blast furnaces, rolling-mills, miscellaneous iron works, mines, lumber-mills, saw-mills, etc.

The average wages paid common negro labor is $1.10 per day, and skilled labor runs from $1.75 to $2.25 per day.

The number and extent of new enterprises being floated in England these days is surprising, but if British syndicates continue to seek control of American industries, we may expect to see the record broken for new capitalizations.

There have been about 1,300 new joint stock companies registered in London alone during the first six months of 1889.

CONTINUES TO IMPROVE.

R. G. DUN & CO.'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The business outlook has on the whole improved during the week, but on Thursday the assignment of an important fry goods commission house, with liabilities over $4,000,000, occasioned some disquietude.

The general tenor of advices is encouraging. Crop prospects improve. The latest accounts indicate decided improvement in the wheat prospect in Dakota and Minnesota, the yield being estimated at 80,000,000 against 60,000,000 last year.

The foreign reports are evidently two-faced, but appear on the whole to promise a larger demand than last year's. The price has advanced only 1-4c, corn and oats 3-8c each, and hog products have declined a fraction.

The signs of improvement in the woolen business are less clear, but manufacturers have been buying more freely and there has been some increase in the orders for goods.

The harvest season for boots and shoes has commenced well. The coal business is dull and weak. The monetary supply is at all reporting points ample, and the complaints of slow collections are fewer than usual.

The business failures number 216, as against a total of 238 last week and 239 the week previous. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 221.
