PARLIAMENT PROROGUED.

THOUSAND LIVES LOST—THE LONDON STRIKE.

Parliament was prorogued Friday until September 16. The Queen, in her speech of prorogation said:

LONDON: It is with much satisfaction that I have seen from your labors of a past session that the relations with other nations continue most cordial. Since the opening of the session nothing has happened to diminish our confident expectations of unbroken European peace. The only exception to the tranquil course of events has been the very partial renewal of attempts to force the southern frontier of Egypt. An invading force was arrested and dispersed with conspicuous skill and complete success by the Khedive's troops, supported by the British contingent under General Buller. The conference upon the affairs of the Balkans, consisting of representatives of Great Britain, Germany and America, which met at Berlin in the Spring, agreed upon a convention regulating the government of those lands. This instrument has been accepted by me and by the Emperor of Germany, and now awaits the assent of the other powers.

The German powder factories are all at night and day, turning out the new kind of powder for the army. They are provided with orders from the Austrian and Italian Governments, both of which have adapted the powder.

News from Yokohama state that disturbances have recently occurred in Wakama. Ten thousand persons perished in floods following the storms, and 20,000 rendered homeless. The loss of property was enormous.

The indications are not very favorable for immediate settlement of the London strike. A meeting of a committee of strikers presided over by John Burns, was held, which important action was taken looking to making the strike general. A manifesto was issued by this committee, solemnly calling to the workers in every branch in London to strike unless demands of the dockmen be conceded, and an hour for a regular day's work and a pension an hour for overtime, counting from 6 p. m. until 8 a. m. as the overtime pay, under the contract system the pay to be eight pence during the regular working hours and shilling for overtime; nobody employed for less than four hours.

A manifesto issued by the strikers is signed by all the labor organizations, including the stevedores, sailors and firemen's unions, numbering 60,000 men.

OLD GOLD.

THE SPANISH DOUBLOONS BURIED BY A PRIEST NEARLY 100 YEARS AGO.

Investigation into the history of the old Coquina House, Jacksonville, Fla., in the cellar of which over $300 in Spanish doubloons were found on Wednesday last, shows that the structure must have been at least 120 years old. The coins were undoubtedly hidden beneath the chimney foundations by Father Miguel Crosby, who had charge of the Catholic Mission in St. Augustine from 1795 to 1815, having been sent thither by the King of Spain.

A correspondent examined the record book of the ancient cathedral and learned that the old house on the corner of Bridge and Marine streets was presented to Father Miguel and occupied by him up to the time of his death about 70 years ago. In 1824 a brick-mason named Bogas found $300 in Spanish coin in a portion of the same chimney. Since that time tradition has associated the house with buried treasure, but none has ever come to light until the earthen oil-pot was found full of gold.

The premises are still surrounded by a cordon of guards, and all earth and debris previously carted to the dumping ground outside of the city limits, are being carefully sifted. Nothing has been found so far. It is firmly believed that much more gold will be eventually dug up, for Miguel received princely advances from the King and Mother Church in Spain, and was known to be miserly in his habit. The oldest coin of the lot was a doubloon bearing date 1755.

FOR AUTOMATIC BRAKES.

A petition signed by 9,082 railroad brakemen has been sent to the inter-State commerce commission. It asks the commission to take such steps as it may deem proper to bring about the adoption of automatic brakes and couplers on freight cars on the railroads in the United States that the terrible slaughter of brakemen may be largely diminished. They say the automatic brakes and couplers are practicable, and many lives and limbs would be saved by their adoption.

DANGER IN THE ELIXIR.—Samuel C. Showalter died at the hospital at Dayton, Ohio. He had been suffering with rheumatism, and was induced to try an injection of the Brown-Sequard elixir. After taking it his case became aggravated. His right leg from the knee down began decaying, great pieces of rotten flesh being cut off.

LIVE-STOCK MARKETS.

CATTLE.

Fair to good shipping cattle weighing 1,200 to 1,400 lbs., of which the supply was light, may be quoted at 46 1/2c; fair to good 1,000 to 1,100 lbs. butcher cattle sold at 35 1/2c to 36c; heavy common stockers were lower, selling at 24 1/2c; but good stockers and feeders ranged from 36 1/2c to 38c; common heifers and dry cows, of which there was an over-supply, were exceedingly dull and sold at 14 1/2c to 15c; with better grades quoted at 24 1/2c; bulls, 14 1/2c; for very common to fair; prime heavy bulls, suitable for export, of which there were none on sale, would have sold readily at full prices, say 3 1/2c to 3 3/4c; possibly 3 1/2c.

SHEEP.

Included in the sales were the following: One deck Western ewes and wethers, mixed, 50 lbs. at 41c; do Ohio lambs, 65 lbs. at 50c; do Western lambs, 68 lbs. at 54c; deck Ohio lambs, 50 lbs. at 41c; do Ohio lambs, 55 lbs. at 41c; deck good Pennsylvania lambs, 70 lbs. at 57c; deck common Ohio sheep, 74 lbs. at 42c; 2 decks Ohio do, 83 to 85 lbs. at 41c; deck fair 50-lb lambs, 5c; do Pennsylvania sheep, 65 lbs. at 41c; deck good Ohio breeding ewes, 75 lbs. at 41c; 3 cars Ohio do, Louis-bought sheep, 65 lbs. at 41c; cars do, about same weight, 41c; car fine-wool sheep, 78 lbs. at 53c. When we left the yards the pens were pretty well cleared. Private dispatches from New York reported lambs better and sheep unchanged.

HOGS.

The supply was considerably larger than that of last Monday, but there was an increased demand, and for good light corned full prices were realized. The demand, both for shipment to New York and Philadelphia, continues good for light weights, which command considerable more than heavy. The latter are not wanted now, but they may do better with the advent of cooler weather. Light corn-fed Yorkers at 4 7/8 to 5 1/4c; medium weight Philadelphia hogs, 4 1/2 to 5 1/4c; heavy hogs, 4 1/4 to 5 1/4c.

THE POET

Enchanting visions on our sight.

The poet's magic hand hath wrought; Charmed words are his, with rhythmic pulse, That set the pace for highest thought. —B. M. Lawis.

Artistic Indifference.

I must mention a melancholy fact which shows how factitious is the taste of the public for art, says a Paris correspondent. People go in shoals to an art exhibition when it is a "fashionable" one; it is the proper thing then. It seems that the exhibition of Barry's works is not fashionable, for no one goes to it; the entrance fees scarcely amount to more than a guinea a day. Although the hall has been let by the Beaux Arts school, the expenses will not be covered; and yet some of the bronzes exposed are perfect masterpieces, worthy of Grecian art. Barry is the first sculptor who ever modeled animals as they really are. Before his time people were satisfied with the wiggled lions, such as those that decorate Trafalgar square; triumphs of conventionality, negations of truth. He took the trouble to go to Jardin des Plantes and study the living model; and although the king of the desert does not come out to his full advantage in a cage, still Barry modeled marvelous things. He loved all wild animals—even elephants, buffaloes, and rhinoceroses, dogs, stags, roes, goats, or even rabbits, serpents, lizards—in fact, all animals. But it is the custom to consider as secondary the art of an animal painter or animal sculptor, and poor Barry died in distress beside his masterpieces. It is, however, some consolation for his ghost to know that Americans are covering his bronzes with gold; although it is shameful that in his own land such indifference is shown to his memory. It is said that America will erect the statue of which France does not deem him worthy.

A few days ago Amos Carpenter, who resides near the line between Clay and Clinton counties, Mo., was out in the woods two miles from home, when he was bitten by a timber rattlesnake on the leg near the ankle. He at once wiped the blood off with a leaf, and took a big chew of tobacco from his mouth and bound it on the bitten place with a strip of bark. After reaching home he bathed it in hartshorn, and has suffered no ill effects other than slight rising at the bitten place. The snake was killed, and was nearly 4 feet long with 11 rattles.

"Mamma's Golden Bitter."

There is gladness in the household; The sunshine fades away; That dawnsed all the sunshine Of May a summer day. "O, mamma's getting better," The happy children cry, And the light of hope shines bright again In the loving husband's eye. In thousands of homes women are "sick unto death" with the terrible disease so common to their sex, and it would seem as if all the happiness had gone out of their household in a single sentence. For when the wife and mother suffers all the family suffers with her. This ought not to be, and it need not be, for the happy children cry, "Mamma's getting better." Many a home has been made happy because the shadow of disease has been banished from it, and because of Dr. Perry's Favorite Prescription—the unfailing remedy for all weaknesses and diseases peculiar to women.

ENDERS, PA., Feb. 18, 1889.

Consumption, the great scourge of the race, checked the night-sweats and emaciation—in short, gave a new lease of life to a patient in whose life was rapidly and surely approaching the final stage of this dreaded disease. To-day she is in the enjoyment of fair health, and the result is due to the beneficial effects of only a few bottles of Pils's Cure for Consumption. If we take into consideration the DURATION of this patient's sickness, the SEVERITY of the symptoms, the SMALL quantity of the remedial agent and the RARE PHASE of TIME within which a CURATIVE effect was effected, we cannot fail to acknowledge the truly wonderful effects of Pils's Cure for Consumption.

ENDERS, M.D.

In every community there are living witnesses to testify that in naming our medicine Pils's Cure for Consumption we have not claimed more than it can do. Its standing in the market also proves its merit. We have not published sensational notices; our advertisements have been moderate and the existence of Pils's Cure for Consumption. Instead of endeavoring to excite fear our purpose has been to educate the people.

Yet Pils's Cure for Consumption stands today at the head of all medicines of its class, requiring for its manufacture a factory full of skilled workers and improved machinery, whereas about twenty years ago all the work was done in one little room by one man.

LITERARY NOTES.

Not the least of Edgar Allen Poe's sins was the invention of the detective story. The September Century contains a paper on Napoleon Bonaparte of unusual interest and importance, being contemporary accounts, by British officers, of the ex-Emperor's exile to Elba; his voyage to St. Helena, and life on that island. Not the least valuable part of this record consists of the conversations here preserved with Napoleon on some of the most prominent passages of his career.

Perhaps this patient, plodding teacher, has no voice of genius with which to tell of his work; but it lives and thrives and grows, and ripens into power, character and safety for the State and the nation. His light shines on when that of the politician flickers and dies out. The one is all-important and immortal—the other a rush-light that emits nothing for the morrow.—American Journal of Education.

Took Off His Under Lip.

Eight years ago a cancer came on my lower lip. I had it cut out while it was yet small, and it healed up apparently, but soon broke out again, and commenced eating very rapidly. It took off my under lip from one side to the other, and got so weak that I had it treated by burning, and down to my chin. I did not think that I could stand it much longer. After much suffering I discarded all other treatment, and began taking Swift's Specific, and the cancer soon began to heal, and in a short time it was completely healed and I was entirely well. It is now over three years since I got well, and there has been no sign of any return of the disease. I know it was cured, and I know it was cured along by S. S. S. E. V. FERRIS, Boston, Mass.
