

...I have been using Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla for some time, longer than ever before, and I never feel so well, but I do not think I could do so well as when I first used it.

You find, I think, I am getting better, and I am sure you will find it a good thing to use. You have not even had a headache, for they are not so common as they used to be. Now you must read them, and they will give you all your troubles. Your father and I keep our shoes in the oil or fat to use. I use it about once a month and wash about once a week.

Wolff's ACME Blacking
Is superior to any other blacking and waterproofing. It is made in Philadelphia, Pa. Do not mistake ACME Blacking with any other. Sold by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Old Doctors

Draw blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned."

Recommended
— J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time." — E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier." — W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the standard remedies in spite of all competition." — T. W. Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

Daniel Webster on Murder.

"Ah, Gentlemen! it is a dreadful mistake! Such a secret as murder can be safe nowhere. The whole creation of God has neither nook nor corner where the guilty can bestow it, and say it is safe. Not to speak of the eye which glances through all disguises, and beholds everything as in the splendor of noon, such secrets of guilt are never safe from detection, even by men. True it is, generally speaking, that 'murder will out.' True it is that Providence hath ordained, and doth so govern things, that those who break the great law of heaven, by shedding man's blood, seldom succeed in avoiding discovery. Especially in a case exciting so much attention as this, discovery must come, and will come, sooner or later. A thousand eyes turn at once to explore every man, every thing, every circumstance, connected with the time and place; a thousand ears catch every whisper, a thousand excited minds intensely dwell on the scene, shedding all their light, and ready to kindle the slightest circumstance into a blaze of discovery. Meantime the guilty soul cannot keep its own secret. It is false to itself, or, rather, it feels an irresistible impulse of conscience to be true to itself. It labors under its guilty possession, and knows not what to do with it. The human heart was not made for the residence of such an inhabitant. It finds itself preyed by a torment, which it dares not acknowledge to God nor man. A vulture is devouring it, and it can ask no sympathy or assistance either from heaven or earth. The secret which the murderer possesses soon comes to possess him; and like the evil spirits of which we read, it overcomes him, and leads him whither-soever it will. He feels it beating at his heart, rising to his throat, and demanding disclosure. He thinks the whole world sees it in his face, reads it in his eyes, and almost hears its workings in the very silence of his thoughts. It has become his master. It betrays his discretion, it breaks down his courage, it conquers his prudence. When suspicions from without began to embarrass him, and the net of circumstances to entangle him, the fatal secret struggles with still greater violence to burst forth. It must be confessed; it will be confessed; there is no refuge from confession but suicide,—and suicide is confession."—The murder of Joseph White, of Salem, Mass., Apr. 6, 1880.

MIDDLESWORTH—J. G. Middleswirth and wife are visiting friends in Williamsport.

W. H. Bingham made a business trip to Hartsburg last week.

Last Sunday Edward Boger of Middleburgh visited his brother, T. J. Boger, and when he was on his buggy to leave, his horse began to back and kick, throwing Mr. Boger out of his buggy. He landed on his head and was severely hurt.

Next week our merchant is going to the city to buy his winter stock.

LOWELL.—Some of our farmers are not through sowing yet.

John Howell of McClure met with an accident while out for chestnuts on the 22nd of last month—had two ribs broken in falling from a tree. The party that started in the forenoon on the same day were more lucky in regards to accidents, but they may meet with some accident in the great hereafter, according to what St. Peter says.

Jacob Erb will soon be ready to move into his new shoe factory.

The corn that was mentioned in last week's paper, is called the Egyptian. Matter had it sent to him from a foreign country.

Wm. Herbster has a turnip that measures 10 inches in diameter and is 13 inches long, he expects to have some one to take it to the world's fair in '92.

A. A., you must try and come around with more meat. Some say they will make a raid on the meat-shop when you are asleep.

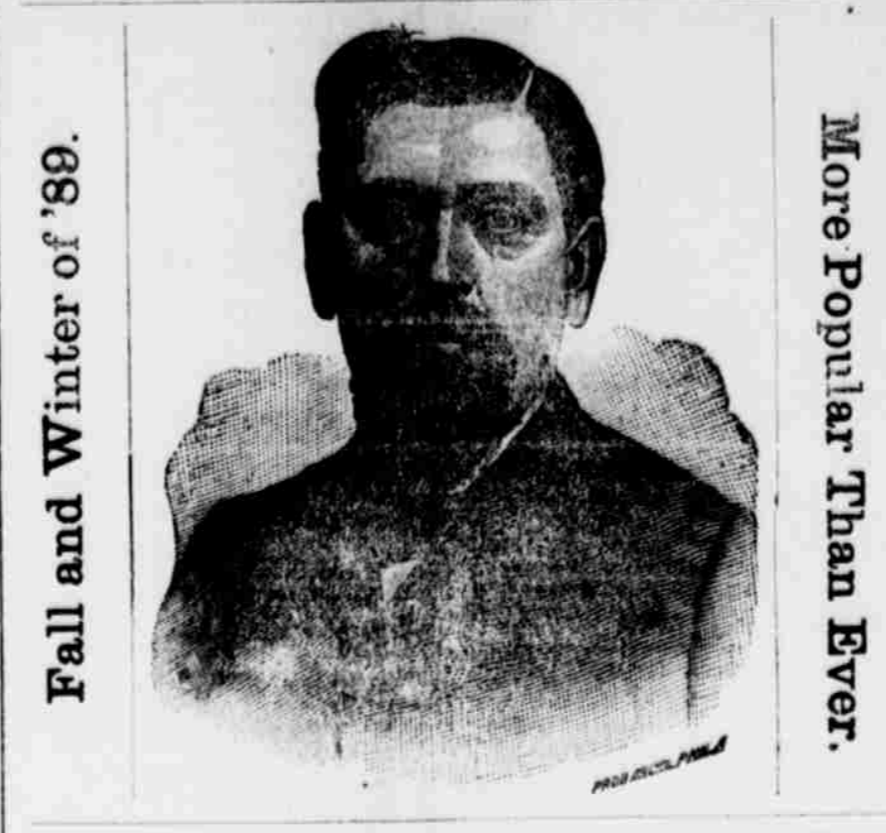

John, you should take a piece of meat along for the dog when you go to see the old maid, then perhaps you will not have to climb the bell-post to keep the seat of your pantaloons safe. It would be a poor dog that would not protect an old maid.

Boys, you should be a little more careful, and not fool too much with an old man, or perhaps you may have to do as Booney had to do with the old bear—take to a tree to be safe from harm.

U. No.

Dr. J. Y. Shindel, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Sallie G. Shindel, dec'd, will expose to public sale the personal effects of said dec'd, on the premises on Saturday, Oct. 19, Among the articles mentioned are 3 shares of stock in the First National Bank of Selingsgrove.

MANHOOD

How Lost, How Restored!
Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure of Syphilis, or its effects induced by excess or early induration. The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of error may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Send under seal, in a plain envelope to any address, post-paid, on receipt of four cents or two postage stamps.

Sample of medicine free.
