A Lot of Lawyer's Don'ts.

BY INGERSOLL LOCKWOOD.

EVIDENCE.

Don't think that all attesting witness' signature is lost if he becomes blind; it may be proved as if he were dead.

Don't look to the judge as to decide to the credibility of a witness; that is for the jury.

Don't ask for any better evidence of death, birth or marriage than the family Bible; if thirty years old.

Don't forget that a dying man's declaration is presumed to be as true as if sworn to.

Don't forget, however, that it must appear that he felt the approach of death.

Don't act in such a manner as to allow the law to imply an admission on your part.

Don't hold a paper or account an unreasonable time, or you will be presumed to admit its correctness.

Don't return a paper, account or instrument, unless you endorse your objections thereupon and sign it.

Don't suppose that you may not explain a verbal or even a written admission.

Don't hesitate to explain verbally a receipt for money, no matter how absolute on its face.

Don't forget that in an instrument partly written and partly printed the written words are given the most effect.

Don't try to change the terms of a written instrument by oval evidence.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

Don't rent property except on witness lease.

Don't depend upon the verbal promises of a landlord.

Don't look to a landlord for general repairs, unless specially provided for in the lease.

Don't remove a fixture (mantle, tile floor, stationary tubs, etc.,) unless you expect to restore the premises as you found them.

Don't fail to record a lease when drawn for three years or more.

Don't take a married women for a tenant unless the laws of the state permit her to make an executory contract.

Don't accept any shorter notice than thirty days when holding by the month.

Don't let premises for illegal use, or arrears of rent upon ejectment will not be collectable.

Don't leave to your landlord trade fixtures erected by you on the premises.

Don't erect a building upon foundations sunken into the ground or it will become part of the reality.

Don't turn the premises over to the landlord until all questions of ownership of fixtures, additions, etc., have been settled in writing.

Don't try to hold back rent for repairs made by you.

Don't move into premises until you get your written lease or agreement.

Don't allow a provision not to sublet deter you from putting in a tenant of same standing as yourself.

A Lady's Perfect Companion

Painless Childbirth, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childbirth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness, swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out; it will save you great pain, and possibly your life.
