JUST DO YOUR BEST.

The signs is bad when men commense
Findin' fault with Providence,
And talkin' 'cause the earth don't shake
At every prancin' step they take.
The man is great till he can see
No one less than little he would be
If cropped to self, and stark and bare,
Not hung his sign out anywhere.

The doctern is to lay aside
Contentions and be satisfied;
Just do your best, and praise or blame
The folders that counts just the same.
He always noticed great success
Met with troubles more or less,
And it's the man who does the best
That gits more kicks than all the rest.

An Ancient Butcher Shop.

The Museum of Antiquities at Dresden has come into possession of an interesting marble relief from Rome, which represents an ancient butcher's shop, of oblong shape, and divided by a pillar into two unequal parts. In the greater stands the butcher, with a high chopping block, standing on three substantial legs, before him, while behind him hangs the steel-yard and a cleaver, he himself being occupied in dividing a rib of meat with a smaller cleaver. On the wall above him, as with us, is a row of hooks near to each other, on which hang pieces of meat ready dressed; a rib and a leg of meat, a pork joint and udders—a tid-bit of the Romans; also lungs and liver, and last of all the favorite boar's head. On the floor, in the smaller division of the shop, the wife of the butcher sits at an easy chair, with an account book on her knees, engaged in assisting the business of her husband by acting as bookkeeper. Her dress points to the time of Antoninus.

CHAPLAINS OF CONGRESS.

The Two Men Who Open the Daily Proceedings With Prayer.

Two ministers open the daily proceedings of Congress with a prayer—Rev. J. C. Butler in the Senate and Rev. William H. Milburn in the House of Representatives. The following sketch of their career is of timely interest.

REV. J. C. BUTLER, SENATE CHAPLAIN.

Mr. Butler was Chaplain of the House of Representatives in the Forty-first, Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses, previous to his appointment to his present office. He is a native of Cumberland, Md., but has been a resident of Washington ever since his appointment to his first pastorate, which was in that city. Mr. Butler is a Lutheran in denomination, and a prominent writer and preacher of that faith. He was in April, 1861, appointed Chaplain of the Fifth Pennsylvania Volunteers. This position he held until the close of the war. He was afterward made Chaplain of Union Hospital. Later he filled the same office in the Children and Lincoln Hospitals. When he resumed the duties of the regular pastorate it was as minister in the Luther Place Memorial Church, at Washington, of which he was the founder. He still continues to preach in that edifice.

W. H. MILBURN, CHAPLAIN OF THE HOUSE.

William Henry Milburn, who is known as "the blind man eloquent," was born in Philadelphia, September 29, 1823. He was five years old when he lost completely the sight of one eye, and partially of the other. Notwithstanding the deprivation under which he suffered he applied himself to study with the intention of obtaining a thorough education. While employed in a store in Illinois he fitted himself for college. He graduated after four years course, and at the age of twenty was received into the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. When Mr. Milburn was twenty-two years of age he was chosen Chaplain to the Congress of the United States. In 1853-55 Mr. Milburn was again made Chaplain to Congress, and the third time at the opening of the Forty-ninth Congress. Two subsequent elections have continued him in the office. He left the ministry of the Methodist denomination for a time, and served as a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church; but he returned to the body in which he had been ordained, and is the second time numbered among the Methodist clergy. Mr. Milburn is an eloquent lecturer, a scholarly and entertaining man, and a successful author.

HIS DOUBLE CRIME.

A Rejected Suitor Shoots a Girl and Attempts Suicide.

At Wausau, Wis., Herman Frederich, a German about 21 years of age, called upon Bertha Erdman, in the town of Stettin, and asked her to marry him. She refused and he drew a revolver and shot her in the left breast, inflicting a fatal wound.

As the girl fell to the ground Friedrich shot himself in the head, making a frightful wound, from which he cannot recover. No one was present at the time of the shooting, but a crowd was quickly attracted by the sound of the shots, and medical aid was at once summoned. The doctors say there is no hope that either of the victims will survive.

Miss Erdman was a pretty girl of 20. Friedrich has been persistent in his attentions to her, and had several times proposed and been refused. In spite of his injuries the feeling against him is bitter.

SEIZED BY COLUMBIANS.

A United States Vessel Taken By a Gun Boat.

Another vessel, owned in the United States, the Frederick L. Schupp, has been seized by the Columbian gunboat La Papa and taken to Cartagena, where she is held. Sec. Tracy has telegraphed Sec. Blaine that three war vessels were at the West Indies, either of which would be ready to proceed to Cartagena upon notification. He did not think any serious complications would arise from the Columbian dispute, but an American man-of-war upon the scene would have a good effect and prevent further trouble.

A New York firm has had several of its merchant vessels armed with ordnance in order to protect themselves from seizure. The Secretary refuses to say whether the owners are justified or not.

Glad Tidings Wrecked.

Intelligence has just been received at Victoria, B. C., from Kitkatlah harbor, in the northern part of the Province, that the little steamer Glad Tidings was cast ashore there during a heavy gale December 15.

Details are meager, and at present it is unknown whether there was any loss of life, but it is thought not. It is believed that the Glad Tidings will be a total loss.

The steamer was lying at anchor when the gale came on. She was not able to get up sufficient steam to hold her own. Her cables parted and she went ashore. The craft had been doing good work civilizing the Indians along the north shore, and was the home of the Rev. Mr. Crosby, who had devoted himself to that work.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

The Senate reassembled Monday, after the holiday recess, with the Vice President in the chair, and with less than a quorum of Senators in the chamber. Among the numerous petitions presented and referred were two from Kansas and Texas, the former urging the selection of Chicago, and the latter St. Louis, as the place for the International Exposition of 1892.

Mr. Chandler offered a bill proposing an amendment to the constitution so that if any State shall fail to enact or effectually to enforce laws against murder and other felonies, congress may provide for punishing those within such State. Mr. Cullom introduced by request a bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to loan money to farmers at 2 per cent. A bill to increase to $72 per month the pensions of certain soldiers and sailors who are totally helpless from injuries received, or from diseases contracted while in the service of the United States, was passed.

The House reassembled Monday at the usual hour.

In his prayer, the Chaplin feelingly alluded to the illness of Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, and invoked the Divine protection for him.

The following bills were introduced and referred, to regulate and limit the charges of express companies; requesting the executive department to change the extradition laws with Great Britain so that persons charged with grand larceny, embezzlement and other crimes may be extradited from Canada. To prevent the contraction of the currency; also, for a graduated income tax; also, to tax trusts; also, to ascertain the amount of the mortgage indebtedness of the farmers of the United States; for the admission of Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico and Wyoming into the Union as States; for the free coinage of gold and silver, also, for the creation of a congressional correspondence and departmental business. This provides for an office, in connection with the house, with clerks whose duty it shall be to attend to the departmental business of the members.

Wanted to Satisfy Him.

Prominent Citizen—Slade of Metropolitan Hotel has just killed another feller—tourist from the East somewhere.

Second Prominent Citizen—What was the feller doin' to Slade?

"Nuthin' only givin' his orders. Wanted a fire in his room, weather strips on the door, soap, towel, hot water, more quilts, and I forgit what else. An' Slade shot him."

"Oh, I s'pose Slade reckoned it was a pity that a feller who wanted heaven so bad shouldn't have it."—Munsey's Weekly.

LIVE-STOCK MARKETS.

Movements and Prices at the Central Live-Stock Yards.

CATTLE.

Good 1,100 to 1,300-lb butcherings sold readily at the advance and may be quoted at 3.85@4.10, and the commoner grades at 3.40@3.65. There was also some inquiry for stockers and feeders, with but few on sale, and these, too, were higher, especially for the better grades. The former may be quoted at 2.50@3.00 and the latter at 3.10@3.40. The improvement in the market of late for stockers and feeders has not been without its effect in stimulating the demand for stockers and feeders, and the outlook for the week is more encouraging. Common dry cows and bulls were no better, but the better qualities, of which the supply was light, sold more readily at an advance. We quote the former at 1½@2 cents and the latter at 2½@3c; veal calves were again in small supply and sold away up to 7@7½c.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

Some salesmen were inclined to report a slight decline. Included in those on sale were several carloads from Chicago, but none from St. Louis. Included in the sales were the following: 1 deck good Ohio lambs, 95 lbs, at 6.80c; 2 cars prime Ohio sheep, 107 lbs, at 3½c; 1 car prime Ohio lambs, 83 lbs, 6.75c; 1 car do do, 80 lbs, 8c; deck fair 85-lb Ohio sheep at 4½c; deck fair 57-lb Ohio lambs at 5½c; bunch 72-lb Ohio lambs, 6½c; bunch 80-lb Ohio sheep at 4½c. There were still several lots remaining unsold when we left the yards, but it was expected that they would be sold before the close of the day. Salesmen all conceded a very good market, particularly for the better grades.

HOGS.

The market was slow and prices were off from 5 to 10c on those of last week. Sales were made at 3½ to 3.80c for Philadelphia hogs and good Yorkers and 3.65 to 3.70c for common to fair Yorkers. Some few lots were sold to country buyers early in the day at 3.85 to 3.90c, but as already intimated none of the regular Eastern buyers paid over 3.80.

LITERARY NOTES.

The tail-piece that follows the "Literary Chats" in "St. Louis' Magazine" represents a train of cars coming down a steep grade. Very appropriate is it, meaning "clear the track." Woe to the one who contests the right of way.

The "Angelus."

"Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper" offers as a premium to all new subscribers a most perfect and magnificent reproduction of the "Angelus," the famous picture which has excited so much attention. The best art critics have examined this copy and have pronounced it to be, in many respects almost the equal of Millet's great painting. It is a perfect copy in size and identical in color.

Good Advice in a Nutshell.

There are four organs in the human body which are vitalin their functions and delicate in their structure, and which gives us an immense amount of trouble. These are the Heart, Stomach, Kidneys and Liver. If they give us trouble it is because we neglect or abuse them, and of course we must take the consequences. The diseases of these organs are very numerous and often dangerous. Luckily we have now a remedy which has proved just the thing for this class of diseases. It is Peruna, a purely vegetable compound, that strikes right at the root of the whole trouble. This preparation was used by Dr. Hartman most successfully in his general practice for years before it was placed before the general public, and it was its remarkable success in his private practice that led him to place it before the public for the benefit of mankind everywhere. As a Tonic it is unexcelled, building up the system weakened by constant toil, either mental or physical. As a remedy for Lung Troubles, such as Consumption, it has accomplished wonders. Its action on the Kidneys is quick and effective. Its use will keep the blood pure. Regulate the Bowels, if necessary, with Manalin. Price $1 per bottle; 6 for $5.

A pocket pin-cushion free to smokers of "Tansill's Punch" 5c. Cigar.

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.
