

ITEMS of LOCAL INTEREST

Buy the Snow-ball flour—the best Aaron Stetler is very seriously ill. The latest out, Deibert's new photos. They are the rage. Deibert's new photos. Daniel Runkle of Centre county is visiting his son J. W. Runkle. Secure your fine Photos at Deibert's gallery. The Snow-ball flour—none other like it. For sale by G. C. Gutelius. C. L. Smith, of the Central Hotel, on his back with a bilious attack. Miss Laura Runkle of Centre county is the guest of J. W. Runkle's family. The trout season opens on the 15th April and not on the 1st as some suppose. Jacob Steinger and wife, of Harmon, spent Sunday in Middleburgh. Mr. Harris, President of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, spent Sunday with relatives in Middleburgh. Mrs. Alfred Steinger, of Union county, spent Sunday with friends in his vicinity. Miss Susie Mensch left on Monday morning for Hagerstown, Md., to attend the Female Seminary. Miss Bessie Loudenslager of Lewistown is visiting Miss Maggie Hartz. John Houtz of Swineford can furnish farmers with South Bend Plows and all the repairs. Grandmother Aurand has been seriously ill for several weeks. Recovery is considered doubtful. Eckner & Finkinbinder will have for sale of Illinois horses at Middleburgh week after next. Look for fine stock. W. Runkle of the firm of Deibert & Walter has returned from East with a large stock of Spring Summer goods. The Crouse moved to Selinsgrove yesterday. His residence in this town will be occupied by the families of his son, William, and Recorder Camp of Patriotic Sons of America is being organized in Middleburgh. The officers have been elected and will be installed on Monday evening. A Gift will sell at public sale residence in Middleburgh on Monday, April 5, a lot of live stock including one horse, fat steers, hogs, &c. Sale at 1 o'clock. P. H. At once, a good cook, chamber maid, and good wash. Good wages paid to good girls. J. C. Swoope, City Hotel, Danville, Pa. Did you see those W. L. $2 dress shoes, and those in shoes for every day wear at 50c? The best in the market price. Call and see them being elsewhere. Our photographer has returned from his extended eastern tour and is now ready to accommodate who wish to get photos. 22 squares north of the Court on Produce.—The underwriter, after April 1, 1890, do a cash business, and will sell cash or produce his stock and merchandise at greatly reduced prices. Buyers will therefore not ask for credit after H. W. Ulsch, McClure, Pa. Miscreant, who is evidently of the penalty attached to names, is making a habit of signs in our town with ink. This will be fun for strikers until they are found and their laughter will be turned into tears. Look out!

Misses Carrie and Bertie Wittenmyer, of the Bucknell Seminary, Lewisburg, spent Sunday with their parents in Middleburgh. Rev. J. M. Stover has resigned the Middlecreek charge, to take effect April 1st. He has received and accepted a call from Fishersville, Dauphin county, Pa. The sale of the personal property of J. G. Smith, of the Franklin House, will take place on Saturday next at ten o'clock, when an extensive line of household furniture will be sold. Merchant H. W. Ulsch, of McClure, has been very seriously ill for a week, but is convalescing and will be able to personally conduct the conversion of his store of general merchandise into a cash establishment on the first of April. Though the strictly cash system will not be adopted in Ulsch's store, McClure, until the 1st of April, the good effects are already visible as fresh lake fish can be purchased at $1.25 a one-fourth barrel—and every barrel warranted. Try them. F. C. Bowersox's select school will open on the 14th of April instead of the 7th as heretofore announced. Mr. Spangler's term will open at the same time. They are both able instructors and deserve a liberal patronage. Any emigrants with families, or other parties, wishing to go West in the spring should apply to Gift & Harter, Real Estate agents, Middleburgh, Pa., for information as to cheap rates of fare, and the most direct and convenient routes to take. Alfred E. Kline, of the firm of Kline & Reigle, of Middlecreek, died March 18. Mr. Kline was a young man of many sterling qualities and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was an only brother of W. H. Kline, the enterprising merchant of Lewistown. Henry E. Heller, of Allentown, Pa., traveling agent for the Burlington Route, recently called on A. K. Gift, of the firm of Harter & Gift, Real Estate agents, and left quotations for rates of travel that will be of interest to parties intending to emigrate west. NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—Subscribers, who desire to have the address of their paper changed on the first of April should notify us at once. State the post office where you have been getting the paper, and name of place where you want it sent. Attend to this promptly and avoid unpleasant delay. How can a man say that a woman has nothing to do? In one year she gets dinner 365 times, washes the dishes 1095 times, gets the children ready for school twice a day, for 180 days, gets baby to sleep 1490 times, makes about 310 calls, and as she wishes for something every minute, she wishes 60 things an hour, or 4380 things in a year. Who says that a woman has nothing to do. It is with regret that we announce the financial failure of Helfrich & Smith of Adamsburg. Judgments amounting to upwards of twenty thousand dollars have been entered against them which will far exceed their assets. The firm has enjoyed the entire confidence of the people of this county, and we fondly hope, that, with a little time, they will be enabled to pay a hundred cents on the dollar. Dr. B. F. Van Buskirk of Selinsgrove died very suddenly of heart-failure at his home on Saturday morning. The Doctor came down stairs and complained of a pain in his breast and went back to bed again. A few minutes after, his wife went up stairs and found him dead. Dr. Van Buskirk was one of the most skillful dentists in Central Pennsylvania and had a large circle of friends. His funeral took place on Monday at 2:30 and was buried with Masonic honors.

GEORGE WALLACE DELAMATER.

WANTED.—In a small family, a good girl for general housework. Good wages given. For particulars address Box 83, Lewisburgh, Union Co., Pa. H. D. Schure, of Selinsgrove, manufacturer of the famous Snow-ball flour was in town last week. He reports big sales by his agent, G. C. Gutelius. The flour is deserving of all the praise it gets. O! the clothes press is a swell affair, for garments nice and neat; the day press is a grand machine and does its work complete; the cedar press is lovely with its juices rich and sweet, but the printing press controls the world and gets there with both feet. Some person or persons stole Sheriff Bolender's wild cat on Friday night of last week. The animal was in a wooden box, covered with strong wire netting. The wire was cut and the cat removed. We have heard of people stealing a red-hot stove, but this is the first instance we have heard of the stealing of a live wild cat. What are we coming to? "Woman is woman's worst enemy," an exchange says. "In a civilized way some of them seem to have declared war against themselves, for every time she strikes a blow at another woman it is done with a moral boomerang that comes back and hits the offender. A man does not, with a cold eye and critical bearing, stare at the made-over dress, or ask personal questions that make the tears come to somebody's eyes and cause a sharp pain in somebody's heart. Women fight each other altogether too much with the needle of envy, hatred, malice and uncharitableness dipped in the poison of scandal." Between 9 and 10 o'clock Thursday morning of last week David Walls, a brakeman on local freight going east, was almost instantly killed at Meiser station, on the Sunbury & Lewistown railroad. He was braking on a car loaded with sawed lumber which was being pulled out of the siding at that place, and in endeavoring to check the speed of the car the brakes failed to hold and it ran against the train on the main track with such force as to shove forward the lumber, his head being caught between the lumber and a box car, crushing his skull. When assistance reached him he apparently breathed a couple of times and then expired. His body was taken to Kreamer and there placed on the S. & L. Express for Lewistown where he resided. He leaves a wife and four children.

FREMONT.—Rev. Smith, who has recently taken charge of the Port Trevorton circuit, preached his first sermon in the Fremont Evangelical church on Sunday evening last. The congregation was delighted with his sermon. Prof. D. S. Boyer, of Freeburg, and P. M. Teats, of —, were noticed in town on Sunday evening last. Dr. C. L. Mohn will leave this place in the near future and locate at Jersey Shore, Pa. Mr. Ezra Minium, of near Meiser, died of scrofula, and was interred on Monday at the St. John's church at this place. Subscription lists are in circulation to collect money to repair the St. John's church. We hope it will be a success. D. C. Kepler has accepted a clerkship in a drug store in the city of Philadelphia. Mr. Wm. R. Boyer, of Lewisburg, is visiting friends and relatives in this community. NEMBO. BEAVERTOWN.—Mr. Daniel M. Snook, who has been unwell for a long time, has been examined by Dr. B. F. Wagonseller, of Selinsgrove, who says he has a stone in his bladder. Mr. Snook will go to Philadelphia on Thursday to have a surgical operation performed. Aaron Hassinger is preparing lumber, &c., to build a new barn, a summer house, and a wood house. J. H. Bingham will build a new barn, and Daniel Kern an addition to his dwelling house. Mr. and Mrs. Rev. O. E. Pfeuger, of Elizabethtown, Dauphin county, visited friends at this place last week. Christian Weademan, who had a paralytic stroke several months ago from which he never recovered, but his mind had become so deranged as to make it almost impossible for his friends to keep him, was taken to the Asylum at Danville on the 13th, inst., where he died on Wednesday, the 19th, and was buried at this place on Saturday afternoon. Mr. W. was born at Bern, Germany, Aug. 17th, 1816. He came to this country about 46 years ago, and married Catherine Etzler of this place in 1850, with whom he had four children, three are living and attended the funeral. He was a member of the Reformed church. His pastor, Rev. W. M. Landis, preached from Psalm 39th chapter, 24 verse. Mrs. M. S. Fees sold her flour, feed, and confectionery store to Josiah Nerhood, who takes possession to-day. Charles Gilbert bought a house and lot from Isaac Manbeck on the corner of market and centre streets for $800. Rev. J. M. Renrick and bride spent several days in town with his parents. CITIZEN.

George Wallace Delamater of Crawford county, was born at Meadville, Crawford county, Pa., March 31, 1849; at the age of twenty years he graduated from Allegheny College; after study at Harvard Law School, and in the office of H. L. Richmond & Sons, Meadville, Pa., he was admitted to practice law in the courts of Crawford county; after about three years of active practice in his profession, he engaged in various business enterprises; to these he has since mainly devoted his time and energy, and has been reasonably successful. He is a member of the banking house of Delamater & Co., director of the Merchant's National Bank, president and owner of the controlling interest in the Meadville and Linesville Railway Company, president of the Meadville Fuel Gas Company, and connected with many other local enterprises. He has always been a Republican, and active in promoting his party's interest; he was mayor of Meadville in 1876; senatorial delegate to State convention in 1878; and chairman of Republican county committee during campaign of 1878 and 1879; in 1880 he was chosen a Garfield presidential elector for Pennsylvania; elected to Senate, 1886. Mr. Delamater will be the Republican nominee for Governor of this State and he will sweep the country like a cyclone. His high personal character, his affable courtesy, his familiarity with legislation, his dignified bearing, his vigorous young manhood and his business training all combined to make him an ideal candidate and a model Governor. CENTREVILLE.—Spring commenced last Friday—March is marching down hill—The days and nights are nearly equal—the candidate is no more—fitting time is here and the roads are in a fearful condition. Samuel Bolig was to Sunbury last Wednesday. Aaron Walter of this place will move on a farm, about two miles east of Sunbury. J. M. Hartman, handsome and smiling, came down from Williamsport last week to attend the wedding of his brother, Schuyler. He prolonged his stay over Sunday and smiled bewitchingly on our fair sex. J. H. Hartman who carried on the mercantile business for the last 12 years will discontinue April 1st, having sold his stock and rented his building to H. C. Sampsel and E. S. Straub, the former having been in his employ as clerk for the past five years. We trust these men will meet the success their efforts merit. Mrs. Ephraim Walter has been under the doctor's care for the last few weeks. May she quickly improve is the wish of her many friends. Centreville has some attraction for Adamsburg boys. Dr. B. F. Wagonseller, of Selinsgrove paid us a professional visit on Saturday. Miss Mary Showers of Lewisburg visited relatives here recently. Prof. C. A. Walter of New Berlin was home with his parents over Sunday. A few Night-cap notices appeared a few days ago. They no doubt mean business. Rev. D. A. Artman, the new Evangelical preacher on this charge, preached to a large congregation in the Ev. church, Sunday evening. R. SELINSGROVE.—The community was very much shocked to learn of the death of Dr. Van Buskirk. He was seen on the streets during Thursday and in the evening and gave no other indications but that he was a healthy, robust man, with many years of active life upon the stage of human activity. He rose up on the succeeding morning but complained of being slightly unwell and again retired to his room, and before a doctor, who was immediately sent for, could arrive, he was near his end and died a few moments after the doctor's arrival. The remains were interred in the cemetery.

after impressive services were held at the house of the deceased. Owing to the inclement weather on Saturday, the P. O. S. of A. parade failed to materialize. Representatives of twelve different camps were on hand to engage in the convention in the afternoon. In the evening a large assembly of people was addressed by J. K. Kinney, mayor of Reading, and S. Wiand of Philadelphia. These gentlemen proved themselves to be orators of the highest type. Miss Kempher and Miss Lambert added to their high reputation as elocutionists by recitations which held the audience captivated throughout their entire length. And Selinsgrove is to have a lock-up. Be ware, would-be evil doer and corner lounge! The metropolis of Snyder county is bound to meet the requirements of the times, in every particular. It is, already, great in every sense, even great in its lack to make a flourishing town. But then the citizens are self-sacrificing and watchful. Why, in the long-ago, it was necessary to give a small apportionment to the boys to look after the fire apparatus, to see that every thing was in readiness and in its place, to become soaked and brave danger, and to dry and properly replace the hose; now, the town can't afford to give them this pittance—so the citizens will see after these things. And today, the Susquehanna Fire Company No. 1, the pride of the town and the envy of surrounding towns, ceased to exist as an organization and will do nothing with fires save when their own property is in danger, and their furniture which has been donated and gotten through the patronage of the public, will be offered at public sale, each boy reserving a shirt, hat and belt for himself. The boys feel hurt about their treatment, and how should Selinsgrove feel when it is known that it can't even support a fire company! We believe this false economy. We want to see what unorganized and unsystematic effort will do in a moment of great peril to the property of the town. McClure.—Tom, we did not mean to let the old man stick, but we saw our shadow on ground hog day and had to keep ourselves hidden. Mrs. Dr. Rothrock is slowly recovering. D. M. Baker has sold his house and lot to Jacob Miller. S. V. Ulsch, a former student in the telegraph office at this place, has gone to West Virginia where he has charge of an office. We wish Sammie success. W. H. Hoffman, who has charge of a telegraph office in West Virginia, is home on a visit. W. H. Krick is making preparations to put up a new house on railroad street. Tom Nipple moved to Lewistown last week. Our quiet little city is now mourning its loss. Miss Lottie Wagner and Miss Emma Greighton, of Yeagerstown, spent Sunday with friends at this place. Calvin Wagner, of Lewistown, Sundayed with his many friends at this place. Charlie Stimeley became tired of single life and took unto himself, as a life partner, Miss Mary E. Baker. We wish the newly married couple a happy future. George looks a little lonesome since Mary is gone. Charles Middlewarth has gone to Virginia, where he expects to stay this summer. The editor of the Post was seen on our streets on Monday. The people say that he does not look like Boonstiel. Look out for a new reporter from this place next week. Now Nellie be careful, remember you are the youngest reporter in the county. LEUCUS LIGANUS. It is claimed that the weight of the world has been found to be 5, 875,000,000,000,000,000,000 tons. And still some people will continue to "want the earth."