LOWELL.—At this writing sunshine and snow squalls are numerous around the city. Moving day is past. Full proceeds will be given later. J. D. H., of McClure, seems to be very popular with the business men of Lewistown as they all seem to grasp the hand of one that is worthy of the shake. When in Lewistown the Snyder county boys always hunt up the old veteran saloonist, Jim Thomas, as they are always treated with kindness and respect. A young lady, whose name is Collins. She is somewhat of a snob. She buys her clothes for cash From men who advertise in the Post's columns U. No. GLOBE MILLS.—Easter next Sunday. Buds are ready to burst. April jokes are hatched and if the unwary are not cautious they will likely be victimized. Mrs. Lydia Ulrich, who was housed up for some time, is able to be about again. It is rumored that C. A. Moyer and C. A. Meiser leased ground from Mr. Simon Bergie, on which they intend to start a peach orchard this season. Carrie, what were your attractions that morning at your neighbors? A. H. TROXELVILLE.—Daniel Aurand will sell all his personal property at public sale on the 3d of April, having sold his farm to his son-in-law, Wm. B. Woodling of Adamsburg, with whom he will make his future home. The stove-mill mentioned in a former communication is ready to commence work by the time this appears in print. The machines are all in position and the other needful fixings will require only a few days' time. "Trapper Jim" has the contract for cutting the stove-wood, and says that he will beat his own record, which was 19 two-horse loads in one day. Perry Getz of Adamsburg moved on Howard Troxell's farm last week. Perry was born and raised at this place and says there is no place on "this Terrestrial Ball" that he likes better than the spot where Troxellville stands. Considerable moving has already been done and many more have to follow suit. Joseph Dreese and George Wagner are both putting up temporary buildings to move into while sawing staves on the Middleswarth tract. Last week while J. G. Middleswarth crossed the mountain from Little Valley he met a monster black bear and it nearly scared the life out of both of them. The ticket nominated on the 15th gives entire satisfaction, and with Potter for Congress and Delamater for Governor this district will give her full quota of votes to make the majority 1,000. No stabbing this fall. Wilson Bingaman of Salem is hauling the stove-wood for Ner. M. Middleswarth. Wills is one of Penn township's giants and is as strong as an elephant. Heimbach, of Beavertown, was here on a business visit on Monday. R. PAXTONVILLE.—FATHERS are busy plowing. Latest fashion in foot-wear color—mud dye. Our little town has been fitting here and there and everywhere, but is settling down slowly. Mrs. H. H. Attig spent a few days among friends at Raubs Mills. Mrs. Felny sold her home to Charles Boyer last week. Jeckly Ramer visited a week in Union county. He had a good time but was homesick. He says, "Paxtonville is mine gold and mine lava, an ladwarrick-brode mine gawaned." Schools close this week and I venture to say the teachers and most of the scholars are glad for a vacation. Rev. Stover, of the Evangelical church, preached his first sermon for this Conference year on Sunday. We welcome him in our midst and wish him success. Mr. H. B. Custer bought and moved on to the farm formerly owned by A. K. Gift. Hope he will find a pleasant home here. Y. P. Mite Society had election of officers on Saturday evening as follows: Pres. W. D. Bower, teacher of Literature and Rhetoric of C. P. College, gave a reception to the Senior class and the faculty last Saturday evening. A very nice program was carried out to the point. A well spread table excited them all. No doubt the Seniors enjoyed the occasion. The college Y. M. C. A. will hold a reception in the college halls next Thursday evening for the reception of new students. Our merchant tailor, Buck, is at present packing his goods for Montoursville, Columbia county. J. E. Bond gave us some rope swinging on our streets last Saturday. The Central Penn'a Collegian has made its appearance in a new dress. Hope it may continue to exist. Master George Middleswarth accompanied him to the capital city. Rev. J. M. Stover moved to Fishersville, Dauphin county, where he will begin his new field of labor. Joseph Dreese moved to Troxellville, where he will begin the manufacture of staves. W. H. Ush is slowly recovering at this writing. Eaph. Stuck, living on A. J. Middleswarth's farm 1 1/2 miles west of this place, came near having a fire on the 27th. He was pumping water for his stock when he discovered smoke coming from the roof of his house, and in going up stairs he found the ceiling around the stove pipe all on fire, and the blaze almost striking the roof, but by using and ax to cut part of the floor so water could be applied at once the fire was gotten under control. A few minutes and the house would have burned to the ground. It is supposed that it caught fire from the pipe as it fits the collar very tight, and must have set it on fire. Mrs. Dr. Rothrock, of Fremont, is visiting relatives at this place. NELLIE ROE. "All old woman should be an object of reverence above and beyond all other phases of humanity. Her very age should be a passport to respect and courteous consideration. The old woman, the aged mother or grandmother, needs no certificate of worth. She is a monument of excellence, approved and warranted. She has fought the good fight, and come off victorious. Under her venerable face she bears the marks of conflict in all its furrowed lines. The most grievous of all the ills of life have been her's; trials, untold, and known only to God and herself she has borne incessantly, patiently, and uncomplainingly, and now, her duty done, calmly awaiting her appointed time, she stands more beautiful than ever in her youth; more honorable and deserving than he who has slain his thousands or stood triumphant upon the proudest field of victory." Alfred Andrews will be hung at Bellefonte next Wednesday, April 9. For full particulars buy next week's Grit of C. F. Mensch, Agent, Middleburgh. The extension of the mail route from Fremont to Middleburgh will enable us to reach our subscribers in the Perrys on the day the Post is printed. J. N. Brocius of Mt. Is There a Dog Tax For Snyder County? THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS "No." To settle a dispute we wrote to Wm. K. Miller, of the State Library, Harrisburg, on Tuesday, to interview the Attorney General of Pennsylvania on the dog question for the benefit of the readers of the Post. The following is his reply in full: HARRISBURG, PA., APRIL 2, 1890. T. H. HAUTTEL, SIR: In reply to yours of yesterday I have to say that the Attorney General is of the opinion that there is no general State tax upon dogs, but that only local tax laws affecting dogs in certain counties, are in force in the State of Pennsylvania. Under these local statutes, he adds, there is no provision concerning the age of the dog, and literally an animal known as a pup is not subject to taxation. That encumbrance visits him after arriving to the full stature of grown-up dogship. The tax is 25 cents for every dog, $1 for every second, and $2 for every third dog. This applying to certain counties only and there is not, according to the Attorney General, a tax law for Snyder county. Yours very truly, WM. K. MILLER. Kleckner & Finkenbinder of Yellow Creek, Ill., will have their 11th sale of Illinois horses at Middleburgh, on Tuesday, April 15—it having been postponed from the 8th. $1000 Reward Withdrawn.
