The ordinary bar is to be removed in Boston and hereafter liquor cannot be lawfully sold only with food at restaurants and hotels. It will make quite a revolution in the liquor business in that city. The law goes into effect May 15. Since it is now a well-established fact that catarrh is a blood disease, medical men are quite generally prescribing Ayer's Sarsaparilla for that most loathsome complaint, and the result, in nearly every instance, proves the wisdom of their advice. The editress of a monthly fashion magazine, published in Philadelphia, says, "Nine times out of ten, the girl who habitually keeps her hose-ry well darned, will make a good wife." (Gentlemen contemplating matrimony would do well, hereafter, to ask for samples). Never had a preparation a more appropriate name than Ayer's Hair Vigor. When the capillary glands become enfeebled by disease, age, or neglect, this dressing imparts renewed life to the scalp, so that the hair assumes much of its youthful fullness and beauty. J. H. Rhoades is making a specialty of iron roofing and handles all improved and warranted material—including the steel or black iron, plain or corrugated iron, or anything in the metal roofing line. Both the work and material always guaranteed to be what it is represented. Deal with reliable parties and you are sure to always get what you pay for. 5-15-2w. Rev. Eusebius Hershey held religious services in front of the Washington House last Saturday evening and preached to a motley crowd composed of gentlemen in broad-cloth and silk hats to boys in nicker-bocker pants. All gave the old evangelist respectable attention. Some of his hearers had not heard a sermon for twenty years, but we are not going to mention any names as Azeriah Kreeger gave a barrel of Michigan apples last fall and we can't afford to give him away. The Womens' Mite Society of Middleburgh will hold their second annual Fair in Middleburgh on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of May court, when they will exhibit and expose for sale all kinds of fancy needle-work, &c., and serve all kinds of refreshments, including ice-cream, cakes, lemonade &c. All persons who feel an interest in the work are cordially invited to attend and patronize them. Contributions from those not belonging to the association will be thankfully received and duly appreciated. "Muckel" Snyder informs us that a cinnamon bear was seen at Centerville by Mr. Bingham on day last week. He missed his dog after it and the animal took to the creek. The bear had a chain fastened to one of its front legs and is supposed to have escaped from two Italians who passed through here with one some time ago. "Muckel" is willing to be qualified as to the truth of this story and we tell it so that our readers will have an opportunity to accept it—or reject it as we did. Fiatta Weaver, whose trial for the murder of her father-in-law, Andrew Weaver, Sr., took place at Bellefonte week before last, and which resulted in finding her guilty of voluntary man-slaughter, has been sentenced by Judge Furst to 2 years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary and one dollar fine. Total depravity, coupled with blind-folded ignorance, is sometimes a safeguard against punishment. In this instance, however, we do not think that the mantle of mercy was hung on the wrong peg. No, we don't remember the "new lamp act" as the railroad editor of the Weekly Indicator terms it, and we would like to have it sold. We are well aware that no man's character, however pure, is secure under the eye of a constitutional sneak and scandal-monger—no, not even a partner's or his estimable lady friend whom he would feign drag down to the low social strata of his own base self. Tell it all, and tell it plainly, so that all will understand it—for you have been itching for a dressing and you shall have it. Now let the band play while the pimply-headed noodle takes the stand! An exchange gives the following good advice. As the time of the year is at hand when housekeepers fix and clean up their premises, both in and out of doors, we would suggest that each one perform work in the most thorough manner. Filth, as every one knows, generates diseases, and if we would continue in the enjoyment of that exemption from those maladies and epidemics which have visited other localities, we must omit no precaution that may tend to promote the sanitary condition of the community, therefore we urge upon housekeepers and heads of families to see to it that their yards, cellars, outbuildings, etc., are put in the best possible condition and kept so during the spring and summer.

MATRIMONIAL MARKET: Jacob Erb, W. Beaver twp.; Martha J. Ritter; Calvin B. Mitterling, W. Petty twp.; Lizzie R. Shellenberger; Levi Herrold, Kantz; Hettie Bailey, Shamokin Dam. The members of the Snyder county Medical Society are requested to meet at Middleburgh, on Friday, May 23, 1890, at 11 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of transacting important business, such as election of officers and delegates to State Society which meets at Pittsburg, June 10, 1890. Let there be a full turnout. J. S. Y. SHINDLER, Sec. Hon. H. G. Fisher, of Huntingdon, died suddenly at Piquetsawney, Jefferson county, on last Thursday morning. Mr. Fisher was one of the most prominent men in Central Pennsylvania. In 1876 he was elected to the state senate, and in 1878 he was elected to congress over W. S. Stenger (dem.), being the first Republican ever sent from the Huntingdon district. He was re-elected to Congress in 1880. The Kansas City Times says: "Wheat reached $1 in Chicago yesterday. It did not stay there long, but long enough to make many a farmer grind his teeth at the severe necessity that made him sell at 45 cents. Able men say that the world's wheat reserves next July will be lower than in ten years before. Kansas and Missouri will be on hand about that time with a few millions for sale." May the $1 mark be kept until then. Corn is coming up, perhaps the farmers will get a better price than after all to attend a picnic or two this summer. MISS CARIE ESTER BEAVER, daughter of Commissioner Daniel Beaver of near Kratzerville, died at Philadelphia, Pa., May 4. The young lady had moved to Philadelphia with the family of Edward Nichol, about the middle of March, and on April 1, they moved to Dr. Filbert's farm at Fox Chase, Philadelphia. The next day she took sick with bilious fever which turned into typhoid pneumonia. Mr. Beaver went down to bring her home but the doctors would not allow it, whereupon her mother went down and remained with her until her death. She was aged 19 years and 7 months, and was loved and respected by all. Her funeral, which took place at Kratzerville on Thursday, May 8, was one of the largest ever held in that part of the county. MEMORIAL DAY. GENERAL ORDER No. 6. Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 2, 1890. COMRADES: Once again the indices on the dial plate of time admonish us of the approach of our sacred Memorial Day. So paramount is every thought and action of our organization connected with the privilege, the solemn pleasure, and the duty of honoring and perpetuating the memory of our departed comrades in arms, that it seems almost a work of supererogation to call this fact to the attention of any members of the Grand Army of the Republic. But, it is sweet and profitable that we should examine and strengthen one another, in our desire to so guide our actions on this particular occasion of the year, as to again renew our high resolves of love and loyalty to the memory of those who have preceded us to the last muster, and by our proper conduct and example, command the respect and commendation of all our fellow citizens throughout the Nation. Spring welcomes "our day" with her fairest garland her most beautiful offerings. Let us reverently and affectionately gird each patriot's couch in our Department, with the choicest of these, and with fervent, manly love send a benison of reverence to the unknown graves of our patriot brothers, which dot the plains and hill-sides of our sunny southland. If, May 30th, 1890, will be observed by the Posts of this Department as Memorial Day; and it is hoped that every comrade will consider it his bounden duty to side with the performance of the requirements of our association. Discourage levity and merry-making by every means in your power; and by your example during the whole day attest to the young, the giddy and the thoughtless that this day is set apart by the American people as one of holiness and respect to the memory of our soldier dead. Posts will follow the usual custom of dividing the work in localities where this is made necessary; but care should be taken that not one grave be left unmarked. Many new mounds will be found in almost every cemetery, and they, too, should have your tender attention. Other kindred and patriotic associations, such as the "Women's Relief Corps," the "Ladies of the G. A. R.," the "Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States," the "Union Veteran Legion," and the "Sons of Veterans," should be formally invited to participate, under the direction and as the guests of the Grand Army of the Republic. It is recommended that Posts attend Divine Service on the Sabbath preceding Memorial Day. VI. Regular forms for Memorial Day Services, as adopted by the Department of Pennsylvania, can be obtained at these Headquarters by Posts that are not already supplied. By Command of Department Commander J. F. DESSISTOS, JAMES MCCORMICK, Asst. Adjt. Gen. LOWELL.—Some of our farmers have still some ploughing to do for corn planting. John Weiland is on the sick list and has been for some time. Geo. Showers has taken a big job of bark to peel and has contracted the work to John I. Erb. Henry Baumgardner cut his bee tree the other day and got about 25 pounds of honey. Henry is bound to have sweetness reign supreme in his household. Romig & Treaster have finished their contract of painting and lettering the many hand-boards that were so much needed in West Beaver township. The Lowell butcher will make his rounds every Friday with choice beef. U. No. Gathering pawnsies on New Year's day and cutting-ice in May is a record of the year 1890.

Unusual Ignorance. The standard of intelligence of the citizens of Centre county is above the average yet we must admit that in some of the mountain districts there are people who only know enough to go to bed when it grows dark and get up when the roosters crow in the morning. An example of this comes to our notice from some of the parties attending court last week interested in the Weaver murder trial. A short time before the trial occurred Andrew Weaver, Jr., son of the murdered man and husband of Fiatta, who was convicted of manslaughter, came up to see his wife, who was then confined in one jail. While in town he fell in conversation with one of our merchants who spoke Pennsylvania Dutch readily. Mr. Weaver soon told him his "tale of woe" and said in dutch that he was up to see Fiatta. He wanted her to confess to the killing of Andrew Weaver, Sr., if she was guilty, as that would be all of it, and then she could come home at once as he could not get along well without her. He was tired of minding the children and doing his own cooking. Since she has been convicted of manslaughter and will likely spend several years in the Western Penitentiary, he will certainly hold a different view of the matter. Cent. Democrat. Look to your Apple Trees. Many parts of the country, apple trees yield a crop of fruit only every alternate year, the year represented by the word "biennial". In other places orchard bear every year. Some trees will produce a bountiful crop. Two seasons are required to produce a crop of apples; that is during one season the fruit buds are developed, and during the next the fruit. All the vital energies of some trees are employed during one season to develop the fruit buds; then the year following their entire vitality seems to spent in developing the fruit without sufficient force being left to form fruit buds for the crop of the next season. Now in order to induce an apple tree to bear every season, climb up to the top, or go up ladders just as one does when picking the ripe fruit, and with a pair of sharp shears clip off all the young fruit from about half the tree. Then fruit buds will form on that side of the tree from which the young apples were cut off. One half the top then will bear fruit one year while the other half will yield fruit the next season. McCORMACK A. Holshine has gone to Herndon to visit his father who is seriously ill. A. A. Howell took a business trip to Allentown last week. Ladies if you want a good bargain in hats go to Miss Annie Strunk. She has just received a fine lot of all the latest styles from New York and Philadelphia. W. H. Heimbach of Beavertown was seen at this place Monday, looking after his business interests. Ex-Sheriff Middlesworth and wife have gone to visit friends in Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Kansas. They will be gone about two months. Miss Ida Shell of Beavertown is sewing for Mrs. E. C. Manbeck this week. A terrible rain and hail storm visited this place on the 13th at 3:15 p. m., just as Davis' show was performing, and when the storm struck the tent it tore it to the ground with all the people under it. One of the lady performer's was badly hurt, but all the others escaped uninjured. All got a good ducking. There was no performance in the evening. NELLIE ROE. MARRIED. At Sunbury, Pa., on April 3, 1890, by Rev. J. H. Weber, Mr. W. A. Keeler and Miss Alice Rumbaugh, both of Kreamer, Pa. Other county papers please copy.
