The entering wedge of a complaint that may prove fatal is often a slight cold, which a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral might have cured at the commencement. It would be well, therefore, to keep this remedy within reach at all times.

Dyspepsia has driven to an early and even suicidal grave many a man who, if he had tried the virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, would be alive to-day and in the enjoyment of health and competence. Sufferer, be warned in season, and don't allow the system to run down.

Hogs! Hogs!—Thirty-five hogs wanted to feed by the month on still slop at 60 cents per month. Want them all brought on Saturday, May 24th. We will not hold ourselves responsible for deaths.

'Cause It's Gittin' Spring.

The madder lark is pipin' forth a sweeter note to me. And I hear the peewees over yander in the cedar tree. The popple leaves is quiverin' cause the wind is in the west. And the robin's 'round a-hokin' straws to build himself a nest. The blackbird he's a-dashin' up 'er crimson on his wing. What's the reason? Oh, the reason's 'cause it's gittin' spring. The old man's got the rheumatics, an' stiff as he can be. Why it don't git settled weather's more'n he can see. But when it clears off splendid, then he's feared 't the crops is lost. An' he reckons just a little wind 'ud keep away the frost. The kitchen door is open; I can hear Eimery sing. What's the reason? Oh, the reason's 'cause it's gittin' spring. The air is kind o' soft an' you think it's 'gonn to storm. Sometimes it's kind o' chilly, then agin it comes off warm. An' just when it's the stillest you can hear the mill frog's note. An' it peeps as if he wonder'd how the frost got in his throat. The ducks an' geese are riotous and struttin' hard to sing. What's the reason? Oh, the reason's 'cause it's gittin' spring.

Capt. Ryan Post, No. 364, assisted by the P. O. S. of A., Sons of Veterans, and local Sunday Schools will decorate graves as follows: Leave Middleburgh at 12:30 P. M., and decorate at Hassingers at 1 o'clock, at Paxtonville, 2:30 o'clock. Return and decorate at Middleburgh at 5:30 P. M. At Meiser and Salem the local Sunday Schools will decorate in the forenoon—the former under the charge of W. Reed Jones, and the latter under Moses Fry. Music will be furnished by the Middleburgh Band at Middleburgh, and by Drum Corps at Hassingers and Paxtonville. Suitable addresses will be delivered at each place.

BEAVERTOWN.—On Friday afternoon as the mail train was dashing along at the western limits of town it came upon a herd of cattle, and before the iron steed could be brought to a stand-still, four valuable cows belonging to Frank Kern had been thrown off the track, two were instantly killed, the other two died in less than an hour. Mrs. Kern had been in the habit of watching the cattle, while engaged in her household duties, but on Friday P. M. another herd of cattle happened on the common, upon which she kept her eyes, thinking they were her own, while their own went to the railroad with the above unfortunate result.

Rev. I. Irvine of Burwick, Pa., formerly a pastor of the Lutheran church at this place and Middleburgh, recently visited friends in town.

Geo. O. Smith had the misfortune of cutting an ugly gash into his knee while cutting brush.

W. H. Davis and Co's show was well patronized in the evening of the 12th, and as is usually the case on similar occasions a certain quarrelsome character from a neighboring town put in his appearance in his usual style, but unfortunately for himself, the attacked party was too much for him and came out victorious.

All the people said "Amen." Rev. J. N. Wetzler and his congregation will celebrate the Holy communion next Sabbath.

Rev. S. Smith, formerly an Evangelical pastor on McClure circuit, but now at Port Trevorton was in town on Monday.

Mrs. George Mitchel and daughter of Perry county visited her brother W. H. Coleman over Sunday. Critzes.

LOWELL.—The farmer are busy replanting corn from the damages done by the late heavy rains.

James Wagner of Troxelville was visiting Lowell and vicinity on last Saturday and had a general hand shaking with the boys.

The merchants in general can not understand why Chesnut can sell so much lower than they can. Simple enough. He advertises. The valuable hawk is making his grand rounds every day for his mess of spring chicken.

If he only would get the ones that belong to the parties that were not in favor of paying a bounty for the killing of the hawk it would be much more satisfaction to the community.

W. H. K. has been appointed policeman at the Hall while horse-shoe pitching is going on to keep down the riots that so often occur.

John will get even with the crew that stole his little chicken if he has only half a chance. U. No.

Don't forget Davis' Great Western Show at Middleburgh next Monday.

Delegate Election and County Convention.

The Democratic voters of Snyder county are requested to meet at their respective places of holding their delegate election on Saturday, June 14, 1890 between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock P. Live's Mistakes.

Somebody has condensed the mistakes of life, and arrived at the conclusion that there are fourteen of them. Most people would say, if they told the truth, that there is no limit to the mistakes of life; that they are like drops in the ocean, or the sands on the shore in number; but it is as well to be accurate.

Here, then, are fourteen great mistakes: It is a great mistake to set up our own standard of right and wrong, and judge people accordingly; to measure the enjoyment of others by our own; to expect uniformity of opinion in this world; to look for judgment and experience in youth; to endeavor to mold all dispositions alike; not to yield to immaterial trifles; to look for perfection in our own actions; to worry ourselves and others with what cannot be remedied; not to alleviate all that needs alleviation, as far as lies in our power; not to make allowances for the infirmities of others; to consider everything impossible that we cannot perform; to believe only what our finite minds can grasp; to expect to be able to understand everything. The greatest mistake is to live for time alone, when any moment may launch us into eternity.

MARRIED. At New Berlin, Pa., by Rev. A. E. Gobble, Abraham Harbst and Miss Alice Klase, both of Globe Mills, Pa.

May 19, in Centre township, Jesse Fry, aged about 65 years.

Fietta Weaver may be the victim of a conspiracy—she gave a very plausible story upon the witness stand, and another it was proven, had made damaging admissions of having done the stabbing—a movement for the pardon of Fietta, under the doubts that exist as to her guilt would be proper. If she did the stabbing, there could be no clearer case of self-defense. —Centre Reporter.
