Our Ticket.

The Republicans of Snyder county have selected their standard bearers for the November contest and the list of candidates makes a most worthy showing.

A. W. Potter, Esq., who has secured the endorsement of the county for Congress will make a strong fight for the district nomination. He is competent and deserving. Should he succeed in his endeavor, which we fondly hope he will, Snyder county will have an opportunity to show what it can do when its claims are recognized.

Ed. M. Hummel, who secured the county's endorsement for State Senator is an able business man and an agreeable politition in the sence of party and will make a strong fight for the district nomination. If he should receive the district nomination, and we can't understand why he should not, he will surprise the patry with the energy he will put into the fight, and the popularity with which he will be received all over the district, resulting in his triumphant election over any candidate the Democratic party may be able to pit against him.

Dr. E. W. Tool, needs no recommodation. His record as a repesentative is before the people and the best evidence of their endorsement of his course is his re-nomination by a unanimous vote of his constituents. We doubt if the Democracy can induce any one to take the field against him to spend time and money for the sole satisfaction of being knocked silly at the general election.

Jere Crouse, the old wheel-horse of the Republican party, after one of the hottest contests on record in this county, secured the nomination for Associate Judge. He is not a stranger to our people, for they have known him in public and private life for three decades, and no man can to-day point to a single instance where he was ever even charged with a betrayal of the public's trust. That he has made enemies goes without saying, and we sometimes admire people the more for the enemies they have made. Some have threatened to oppose him because "he had no right to ask for office." This is a free country and the right of office belongs to him who the people elect. The Republican party of this county has rendered a verdict in his favor, and that majority should rule is the very foundation stone of Republican principles. He was not our choice, but we mean to uphold him for it is our conviction that he who votes at the Republican primary and then refuses to uphold the ticket should hereafter be debarred from the privileges of standing among republicans. He will be elected by a rousing majority—the hopes of the Democratic party to the contrary notwithstanding.

Charles L. Wetzel, the nominee for County Surveyor, is a man peculiarly adapted to the office—having had extensive experience in surveying, is a young and earnest republican, truthful and trusty. He is the only candidate from the west end this year and will poll the largest vote where he is best known.

SELINSGROVE.

A young man by the name of Geo. Snyder who was raised across the river here was killed by falling off a train in the lower yard at Sunbury on Thursday evening of last week. Mr. Snyder was employed by the N. C. R. R. Co., and was but lately married to a young lady by the name of Miss Mary Singer on the Isle of Que.

The corpse of Miss Lydia Couldron, an aged maiden lady was brought here last Saturday evening for burial, from Elkhart, Ind. Miss Couldron was visiting friends in the West where she took sick and died. We are informed that the Sunbury & Lewistown railroad charged $10 to run the shifter across to Selinsgrove Junction to bring the corpse across, on Saturday evening.

Mr. Wm. Schoch, of Nora, Ill., died last week at his home of gripp and was buried on Wednesday. Mr. S. was many years ago a citizen of Selinsgrove and a member of the firm of Schoch & Dean, iron founders.

Rev. Samuel J. Ulrich, Mt. Airy, Theological Seminary of West Philadelphia, is home on a short Easter vacation. The young parson preached a very acceptable sermon on last Sunday evening in the First Lutheran church of this place.

Passion week services are being held in the 1st and 2nd Evangelical Lutheran churches every evening of this week. Holy Communion on Sunday morning.

We are informed that Rev. W. H. Hilbish of the Theological Seminary of this place has accepted a call to the Karthous charge in Clearfield county, Pa. MENTOR.

LOWELL.

Saturday and Sunday snow squalls were plenty and the days cold.

At this writing Isaac W. Mattern is confined to his house from being kicked by a horse. He had two ribs broken and two separated from his vertebræ.

John L. Jr., and S. Slavin, Jr., had a lively "set-to." Slavin was knocked out in the first round.

Town lots are being laid out already in this end of the county along the route of the new railroad.

By next week we expect to hear some big fish stories as the trout seas[illegible] on Friday.

Our road supervisor, W. Heeter, was around inspecting the bad roads the other day and had no trouble in finding out where they were—all bad.

T. F. Swineford made a trip to Mifflin county on last Saturday for the purpose of buying a span of work horses.

At this writing A. A. Romig is on the sick list.

Some of our farmers have finished sowing oats, while others expect to plant corn in a few weeks. U. No.

PAXTONVILLE.

Mrs. Sarah Shaeubacher, of Harvy county, Kansas, is here visiting her father, "Grand-pap" Bowersox. Mrs. Abner Howell, of the same place accompanied her east.

Anderson Ernst and wife, of Clinton county were called home to attend the funeral of his sister.

Mrs. Sarah Bowersox is building new fences and otherwise repairing and rebuilding her home.

Rev. I. E. Spangler preached an excellent sermon here on Sunday. He is a fine Bible student. We predict a prosperous year for him.

The appearance of Austin Gift's house is very much improved by a coat of paint.

Howard Schambach's moved here again from Middleswarth, into his father's house. Glad to have them back. CLAIRE.

SPANISH JACK.

SPANISH JACK will stand for service every two weeks during the season of 1892, as follows:

At the stable of Sarah Dunkleberger, ½ mile South of Artley's church, April 15, 19, 20; May 2, 3, 4, 16, 17, 18, 30, 31.

At the stable of John Renninger, ¾ mile East of Middleburgh, April 21, 22; May 5, 6, 19, 20; June 2, 3, 16, 17, 30.

Consumption Cured

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Powers' Block Rochester, N. Y. 5-1-92 for who cares for for thy shining?" "No," saith the star, "I will not sleep. I guide the sailor on the sea. I cheer the traveler among the mountains. I help tip the dew with light. Through the window of the poor man's cabin I cast a beam of hope, and the child on her mother's lap asks in glee whither I come and what I do and whences I go. To gleam and glitter, God set me here. Away! I have no time to sleep."

The snowflake comes straggling down. "Frail, fickle wanderer, why comest thou here?" "I am no idle wanderer," responds the snowflake. "High up in the air I was born, the child of the rain and the cold, and at the divine behest I come, and I am no straggler, for God tells me where to put my crystal heel. To help cover the roots, the grain and grass, to cleanse the air, to make sportsmen more happy and the ingle fire more bright, I come. Though so light I am that you toss me from your muffler and crush me under your foot, I am doing my best to fulfill what I was made for. Clothed in white I come on a heavenly mission, and, when my work is done and God shall call, in morning vapor I shall go back, drawn by the fiery courses of the sun."

"What doest thou, insignificant grass blade under my feet?" "I am doing a work," says the grass blade, "as best I can. I help to make up the soft beauty of field and lawn. I am satisfied, if, with millions of others no bigger than I, we can give pasture to flocks and herds. I am wonderfully made. He who feeds the ravens gives me substance from the soil and breath from the air, and He who clothes the lilies of the field rewards me with this coat of green."

"For what, lonely cloud, goest thou across the heavens?" Through the bright air a voice drops from afar, saying: "Up and down this sapphire floor I pace to teach men that like me they are passing away. I gather up the waters from lake and sea, and then, when the thunders toll, I refresh the earth, making the dry ground to laugh with harvests of wheat and fields of corn. I catch the frown of the storm and the hues of the rainbow. At evening tide on the western slopes I will pitch my tent, and over me shall deck it in saffron, and the purple, and the fire of the sunset. A pillar of cloud like me led the chosen across the desert, and surrounded by such as I the Judge of Heaven and Earth will at last descend, for "Behold He cometh with clouds."

Oh, my friends, if anything in the inanimate world be useful, let us immortal men and women be useful, and in that respect be like the palm tree. But I must not be tempted by what David says of that green shaft of Palestine, that living and glorious pillar of the eastern gardens, as seen in olden times—the palm tree; I must not be tempted by what the Old Testament says of it, to lessen my emphasis of what John, the evangelist, says of it in my text.

Notice that it was a beautiful and lawful robbery of the palm tree that helped make up Christ's triumph on the road to Jerusalem that Palm Sunday. The long, broad, green leaves that were strewn under the feet of the colt and in the way of Christ were torn off from the trees. What a pity, some one might say, that those stately and graceful trees should be despoiled. The sap oozed out at the places where the branches broke. The glory of the palm tree was appropriately sacrificed for the Saviour's triumphal procession. So it always was, so it always will be in this world—no worthy triumph of any sort without the tearing down of something else.

Brooklyn Bridge, the glory of our continent, must have two architects prostrated, the one slain by his toils and the other for a lifetime invalided. The greatest pictures of the world had, in their richest coloring, the blood of the artists who made them. The mightiest oratorics that ever rolled through the churches had in their pathos, the sighs and groans of the composers, who wore their lives out in writing the harmony. American independence was triumphant, but it moved [illegible] lifeless forms of tens of thou- Hill and.

DR R. A. SIMPSON'S

Office No. 846 E. Market St. York, Pa.

WILL BE AT

Home Office, April 1 to 18
Eagle Hotel, Middleburgh, Pa., from Friday, April 22, at 10 o'clock a. m. to Saturday noon.

Dr. Simpson will examine any one who may call upon him free of charge, knowing that hundreds are living out a miserable existence with, out medical aid, some because they have passed through the "old ordeal" without relief, and some [illegible] perhaps, because they may not know where to apply, he feels justified in making these facts public. Satisfied he will number those who seize upon these plain statements as a drowning man does at a straw, and be benefited in a manner [illegible] ardent expectation. THE [illegible] of practice may [illegible] The remedies are principally vegetable, discarding entirely the use of Calomel or Mercury, Tartar, Emetic, Arsenic and Antimony because they are disease creating agents of the worst description. We are opposed to the use of general bloodletting in any case, believing it to be injurious to the constitution and often dangerous to life.

Dr. Simpson treats successfully chronic or long standing diseases of the Head, Throat and Lungs, Kidney and Heart complaints; Inveterate diseases of the Stomach that have defied all other methods; those fearful diseases of the nervous system arising from whatever cause; Scrofula, Dropsy, Fits, Fever Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Salt Rheum, Ill Conditioned Ulcers, Cancers removed without the use of the knife and cured. Asthma, Hay Fever, Bone Cold, Winter Cough, Chronic Diarrhœa, etc. All may be cured by this wonderful system if not too far advanced. Bone and blood diseases cured when all other methods have failed.

Ladies who are suffering with diseases strictly confined to their sex can consult the Doctor with the assurance of a speedy cure without subjecting themselves to the very often unnecessary examination. The doctor particularly invites all cases that have been given up by other physicians.

TESTIMONIALS.

Mr. Reuben Grubb, of Liverpool, Perry county, Pa., had a cancer on lower lip for several months and was completely cured by the treatment of Dr. R. A. Simpson, of York, Pa.

Miss Annie Koch, of Liverpool, Perry county, Pa., had for may years a malignant ulcer on her limb near the ankle, and although under the treatment of different doctors, the sore grew worse. It was cured by Dr. R. A. Simpson, of York, Pa., in four months. No scraping of the bone or cutting.

For many years Mr. Charles Allison, of Glen Rock, York county, Pa., had a cancer on his face below the eye. Dr. R. A. Simpson, of York, Pa., removed it by his chemical process. He is now well.

☞ Dr. Simpson invites any one who doubts any of these statements to write to the parties and ascertain for themselves. These are only a few of the many testimonials obtained. The Doctor invites correspondence from a distance. If you wite enclose 4 cents in stamps.

Remember the dates and call early.

SHOEMACKER CO.'S

Electro-Gold String Pianos.

AMONG the most important points of superiority of these magnificent Pianos is, that longer than those of other makes they remain in tune and that, while many instruments which at first give satisfaction, become flat and wiry, the Shoemacker Piano is still staunch and true. It is impossible to overestimate the advantages derived from the use of the Electro-Gold Strings. To ordinary iron-wrapped or so-called white metal-plated strings, which all other makers are still compelled to use, are immediately affected by atmospheric action, gradually destroying the power of the string to prolong and sustain the tone, rendering them liable to easily snap and break. The remedy of this has been successfully accomplished by the use of the ELECTRO-GOLD STRINGS, which are proof against rust and emit a superior quality of tone.

I do not present the Shoemacker instrument in competition with the low-priced and absurdly misnamed "cheap" Pianos, this county and its joining ones have been flooded with; but to those who appreciate a Piano insusceptible of further improvement—an instrument to do credit to the taste—I confidently offer the SCHOEMACKER PIANO as unexcelled by any in the world and at the west prices, which will yield me a just profit.
