

There are a large number of agencies who claim that disease is always the result of a transgression of Nature's laws. The proprietors of Garfield Tea are both physicians and have devoted years to teaching the people how to avoid sickness by following Nature's laws. They give away with every package of Garfield Tea a little book, which they claim will enable all persons, if directions are followed, to avoid sickness of all kinds and to have no need for Garfield Tea or any other medicine.

Catarrh, Heart Failure, Paralysis of the Throat

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Perfect Health."
"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to state a few facts. For several years I have suffered from catarrh and heart failure, getting so bad I could not work and I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat some time ago. My throat seemed closed and I could not swallow. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave me medicine, which I took according to directions, but it did not seem to do me any good. My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, telling me of Mr. Joseph C. Smith, who had been cured."

At Death's Door
I was entirely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. After talking with Mr. Smith, I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla two bottles I felt very much better. I have continued taking it, and am now feeling excellent. I thank God, and Hood's Sarsaparilla, and my wife for my restoration to perfect health." HARVEY REED, LACEYVILLE, O.

Saves Another Life! INDIGESTION AND HEART TROUBLE CURED:

Suffered for Eight Long Years!
MRS. MILLER SAYS:—"I had been troubled for eight years with stomach and heart difficulties. I lived mostly on milk, as everything hurt me so. My kidneys and liver were in a terrible state. Could neither sleep nor eat. I had been treated by the best Chicago doctors and elsewhere without any benefit whatever. As a last resort I tried your Swamp-Root, and have only used three bottles. Can now eat any thing, no matter what. Nothing hurts me, and can go to bed and get a good night's sleep. Swamp-Root cured me. Anyone doubting this statement can write, and I will gladly answer." THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS

Proceedings of the Senate and the House
Terrell Told.

SENATE—The bill intended to secure the construction of the Nicaragua ship canal occupied the senate to-day. It provides that 5 per cent bonds of the company to an amount not exceeding $100,000,000 shall be guaranteed, principal and interest, by the United States, these bonds to be issued as money is paid out by the company in the construction of the canal. The government is to own the capital stock of the company with the exception of $12,000,000, and the shares to be delivered to the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica. The bill went over until to-morrow and after an executive session in the senate adjourned.

HOUSE—The senate bill was passed authorizing the Union Railroad Company of Pennsylvania to construct a bridge across the Monongahela river in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. The District of Columbia committee on appropriations held the floor the rest of the day. Half a dozen measures of entirely local importance were passed and the house adjourned.

SENATE—The Nicaragua canal bill was before the senate to-day, but no action was had. Mr. Quay offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to whether any part of the appropriation for the world's fair had been paid, and if so, under what modification of the rule as to Sunday closing. He also gave notice of an amendment to an appropriation bill, making appropriations connected with the world's fair conditional on Sunday closing. After a short executive session the senate adjourned.

HOUSE—In the house the debate on the invalid pension bill continued to-day, but it was without special interest. The debate on the bill was prolonged, but uninteresting, and without disposing of the measure the house adjourned.

SENATE—In the senate to-day amendments to the sundry civil bill, including the amendments relating to the widows of Chief Justice Waite and Justice Miller of the supreme court the balance of their husband's salary for the year of their death, $5,745, and $7,419, were agreed to. Mr. Quay raised his objections to the world's fair items, being agreed that the ground had been covered, and they were passed. The Nicaragua canal bill had to give way to-day to the sundry civil appropriation bill, which occupied the time until adjournment.

HOUSE—The pension bill was under discussion, but no final action reached when adjournment was had.

SENATE—The session of the senate to-day was occupied in the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. Mr. Faulkner gave notice that, in consequence of the very serious illness of one of the late Senator Keena's children, the memorial services for Mr. Keena were postponed from next Saturday until Monday, February 27. Adjourned.

HOUSE—The house resumed in committee of the whole the consideration of the pension appropriation bill. The amendment to the pension law providing for the transfer of the pension bureau to the war department was disagreed to by a vote of 53 to 85. The amendments relative to requiring pensioners under the act of 1890 to show that they were disabled for manual labor, and have an annual income of $400, and providing that no widow shall be granted a pension if she was not married within five years after the close of the war in which her husband served, was also defeated without discussion.

SENATE—The question as to the issue of per cent bonds to maintain the gold reserve was precipitated on the Senate to-day. The amendment was offered by Mr. Sherman, and a point of order was raised against it by Mr. Stewart. The point was, after discussion, overruled by the vice president, and an appeal from that decision was laid on the table by a vote of 28 yeas to 18 nays. The merits of the amendment were discussed for the rest of the day, and without disposing of the amendment, the senate adjourned.

HOUSE—The pension appropriation bill was passed and the postoffice appropriation bill was considered without final action. The war couplet bill was postponed until Monday next. The senate bill was passed extending to the North Pacific ocean the provisions of the statutes for the protection of fur seals. The House then, in committee of the whole, considered the postoffice appropriation bill. An amendment was agreed to increase the appropriation for the payment of the salaries of postoffice clerks, and without disposing of the bill the house adjourned.

SENATE—By the expeditious method of Vice President Morton the Senate almost escaped a long debate on the 3 per cent bond issue amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill which subsequently landed for the rest of the day, and without disposing of the bill was taken up by Mr. Morton put the question on Mr. Mills's amendment, to make the bonds redeemable at the pleasure of the United States, and declared it lost. Then he put the question on the Sherman amendment, and it carried. Mr. Stewart realized the situation, and at his suggestion the question was reopened. Some hours later when the vote was about to be taken again an amendment was offered by Mr. Bruce, and the debate on it went on almost up to the point of adjournment, when Mr. Bruce withdrew it. The Sherman amendment was then agreed to by a vote of 30 to 16. The sundry civil bill went over without final action. No further action was taken on the bill, but Mr. Allison gave notice that he would ask the Senate to remain in session on Monday until the bill was passed, and the Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE—Congressman Byrum of Indiana to-day rose to a question of privilege in the house, and read an extract from a St. Louis paper saying that the investigation of the Whisky Trust by the subcommittee of the judiciary committee was a "discreditable farce." He said the press's right of censorship over public officials should not be exceeded. The testimony to be presented to the house would soon show whether the investigation was a farce. Eulogies of the late Congressman Warwick of Ohio were given to-day, after which the House adjourned.

OPPOSED TO CRINOLINE.
Mrs. Cleveland Doesn't Believe in the Revival of the Hoopskirt.
Mrs. Grover Cleveland does not approve of the introduction of crinoline. She told several ladies who called upon her at Lakewood, N. J., that she was satisfied with the present style of dress and saw no reason why there should be a change. None of Mrs. Cleveland's inaugural dresses are to be made to be worn with a crinoline.

Three Killed in a Street Car Accident.
In an accident on the city and suburban electric railway at Portland, Ore., J. O. Dennis, aged 70, Bertram Dennis, his son, aged 8, and J. T. Johnson were killed and James Menefee was probably fatally injured. A dozen other passengers were more or less hurt. The car was going down hill when the motorman lost control. When the car reached the bottom of the hill it left the track and was overturned.

Taste in Animals.

Many experiments have been made in order to find out what and where the organ of taste is in the lower creation; it is easier to say where it is not. Insects and worms seem to have very decided preferences in the matter of food, though no special taste organ has been found. Lobsters like decaying food, the crab is more dainty in its diet. Insects and slugs show a decided preference for certain kinds of food, as garden overs know to their cost; peas and cabbages, dahlias and sunflowers are great favorites; but they will not touch the white mustard. Some prefer animal food, especially if rather high. Spiders have only a slight sense of taste; flies soaked in paraffine seem quite palatable to them; though one species, the diatom, is somewhat more particular, and refuses to touch alcohol in any form whatever.

The antennae of insects do not appear to contain any organ of taste, for wasps and ants quite readily took into their mouths poisonous and unpalatable food, even swallowing enough to make themselves ill, while some bees and cockroaches fell a prey to the temptation of alum, Enson salts, and other nauseous foods placed in their way. Those substances were not, however, swallowed, but were soon spat out, the creatures spluttering angrily, as if disgusted with the taste. The proboscis of the fly and the tongue of bees and ants are furnished with numerous delicate hairs set in minute pits; these are perhaps connected with the organ of taste; but, though the exact locality of this sense in insects is uncertain, we know that groups of cells in the tongue of animals, called taste buds, form, in part, the ends of the organ of taste.

Engulfed in a Glacier.
By the friction of the lowermost portions of the glacier over its rocky bed, together with the rise in temperature in the middle belt below the snow line, vast caverns are melted. These caverns have been explored at the immense risk of the lives of the explorers, because the weight of the superincumbent may cause the collapse of the walls at any moment. In the year 1861 a couple on their bridal tour visited the Mer de Glace, and feeling, no doubt, that nothing in nature could interrupt such happiness as theirs, ventured into one of these caverns. They had barely entered the first arch, the husband supporting the young wife over the slippery surface of the floor, when there was a dull roar, a flash of broken ice-particles in the morning sun, and the poor lovers were entombed. Their bodies, clasped in each other's arms, were found some two years later, at the foot of the glacier, in a perfect state of preservation. The young wife's face was lifted toward the bended face of her husband, with a touching expression of trust in his courage and strength to save her from the impending doom. Even the rough guides shed tears as they beheld this solemnly beautiful picture in death.—Demorest's Magazine.

Bill Bright and Booming.
A publication bristling with sound advice and the raciest bits of fun, original and copyrighted, from the pens of such noted humorists as Bill Nye, Opie P. Read, Danbury News-Man, etc., is the St. Jacobs Oil Family Almanac and Book of Health and Humor, 1893. It is a free gift at the drugstore counter. The work differs somewhat from its former editions, but is none the less attractive and in many of its features is the superior of former numbers. The special feature is the "Offer of One Hundred Dollars," open to all contestants, the details of which a personal copy of the book will fully give. The Almanac is sent forth by The Charles A. Vogler Company, Baltimore, Md., proprietors of some of the best known and most reliable medicinal preparations. A copy will be mailed to any address on receipt of a 2-cent stamp by the above firm.

Few "Kid" Gloves are Made of Kid.
Kid gloves are not made of kid; in fact, few of them are. The cheap ones are not kid and neither are the dearest ones. Ladies' gloves that cost under a dollar and a half or two dollars a pair are all made of lamb skin. It is likely that gloves paid for at a higher price than that will be of kid, but the very best and most expensive kid gloves are made of the skins of young goats.—New York Sun.

An Age Teller.
A Tennessee inventor has patented a page for determining the age of horses. The device consists of a steel plate, having a tapered body portion, one of its longitudinal edges being marked by lines and figures. By applying the scale to the teeth of a horse, its approximate age is said to be determined.—American Farmer.
