From the 15th of February to the 1st of December, 1893, no cattle are to be transported from said area to any portion of the United States north or west of the described line except by rail for immediate slaughter.

The President approved the quarantine bill, officially known as 'An act granting additional quarantine powers and imposing additional duties upon the Marine Hospital Service.'

The placards bearing the word 'closed' which have been displayed on the front door of the White House since Martha Harrison, the president's granddaughter, was stricken with the scarlet fever, were removed and the public part of the house is now open to visitors. The President has resumed his tri-weekly receptions to the public.

The question of opening the World's Fair on Sundays is still undecided by the House Committee on the Columbian Exposition.

A meeting for the consideration of the matter was called, but the fact that no quorum materialized is taken to indicate that the measure is dead.

The bark Catalina, from Bremen, has been wrecked off Galloxy. The captain and seven of the crew were drowned and four were saved.

SEVERE SNOWSTORMS.—The most violent storm of the winter swept the river valley at this point Sunday night. There is from 12 to 18 inches of snow on the level, and it has been drifting badly. Reports from below are that the snowstorms have been so violent that river travel was impossible, because the pilots were unable to see a boat's light.

PA.—The city was stormy and blizzards from mountain towns tell of a terrible storm of the afternoon and evening. There is more snow in the Alleghenies than for many years past. Many accidents are reported from along the railroad.

MORNINGTONS, W. VA.—The storm here assumed a frightful character and caused the greatest obstruction to travel of any kind that has developed this winter. The snowfall has been very heavy, there being 20 inches of it reported from many sections hereabout, and the smaller mountain towns are fairly shut in by it. There are many roads that accommodate considerable travel ordinarily that will be impassable for at least a week to come. With the enormous snowfall about the headquarters of the Morgantown and its watersheds towards the Ohio a thaw will inevitably bring the biggest river of the winter.

DEATH IN A BLIZZARD.—JERRY CITY, N. J.—Mary A. Whitely, a widow 90 years old, was frozen to death in a blizzard the other night. She was returning home from vespers at St. Bridget's church, this city, when she got lost in a vacant lot and her body was found frozen stiff the following morning.

SPRING WEATHER IN GERMANY.—Mid-winter weather has prevailed in Germany for the past week. Already fields are becoming green and shrubs are budding.

CLEVELAND NAMES FIVE.—The President-Elect Announces That Gresham, Carlisle, Lamont, Bissell and Hoke Smith are Cabinet Candidates.

At Lakewood, N. J., Mr. Cleveland officially announced the names of four members of his Cabinet Wednesday evening. They are:

WALTER Q. GRESHAM, of Illinois, Secretary of State.

JOHN G. CARLISLE, of Kentucky, Secretary of the Treasury.

DANIEL S. LAMONT, of New York, Secretary of War.

WILSON S. BISSELL, of New York, Postmaster General.

HOKÉ SMITH, of Georgia, Secretary of the Interior.

On making the announcements, Mr. Cleveland said:

There is no need of any mystery in regard to the Cabinet, and it is useless to speculate and indulge in guess work. I shall make no secret of the matter, but shall announce the names of gentlemen selected to fill the positions as fast as I receive their acceptance and permission to make the matter public.

Mr. Cleveland would say nothing in regard to the other positions, or the men who have been mentioned in connection with them.

ANOTHER SELECTION MADE.—Cleveland Chose for His Secretary of Agriculture, J. Sterling Morton, of Nebraska, a Free Trader.

Mr. Cleveland announced at Lakewood, N. J., that J. Sterling Morton, of Nebraska, who visited him at his request, was tendered the Secretaryship of Agriculture, and accepted it. Mr. Morton is one of the most prominent Democrats in the State of Nebraska. He has been in the Legislature and was talked of as a candidate for Governor last fall. He owned a proprietary interest in an Omaha newspaper at one time, and is a representative free trader.

THE HAWAIIAN REVOLUTION

ANNEXATION TREATY.

Terms Under Which the Hawaiian Islands Are to Come Into the Union. The President's Recommendations.

The treaty of annexation concluded between Secretary of State Foster and the Commissioners of the Provisional Government of Hawaii was transmitted to the Senate at Washington.

The message of the President states that it was deemed more desirable to fully annex the islands than to establish a protectorate. The President says the overthrow of the monarchy was not in any way prompted by this Government; that the restoration of Queen Liliuokalani is undesirable, if not impossible, and that, unless actively supported by the United States, would be accompanied by serious disaster and the disorganization of all business interests. Continuing, the President says:

It is essential that none of the other great powers shall secure these islands. Such a possession would not be consistent with our safety and with the peace of the world. If this treaty meets the approval of the Senate, and no other government has secured to the islands under existing laws until such time as Congress can provide by legislation a permanent form of government. This legislation should be, and I do not doubt, will be not only just to the natives and all other residents of the island, but should be characterized by great liberality and a high regard to the rights of all the people and of all the foreigners domiciled there.

An instruction has been sent to Minister Stevens commencing action, in so far as it lay within the purview of standing instructions and tended to co-operate with the administration of affairs by the provisional Government, but disavowing any steps in excess of instructions whereby the authority of the United States might appear to have been asserted to the impairment of the independent sovereignty of the Hawaiian Government by the assumption of a formal protectorate.

Secretary Foster says that the provisions of the treaty reserve to Congress the determination of all questions affecting the form of government of the annexed territory, the citizenship and elective franchise of the inhabitants, and all questions relating to the economic and political status of the islands. He says that, pending the negotiations, he received assurances from representatives of the leading powers of the world, and from her own Minister at London, recognizing him as the representative of the Hawaiian Islands into the Union will be regarded by the powers with satisfaction.

PROVISIONS OF THE TREATY.—The treaty itself provides for the cession of all rights of sovereignty over the islands and all public property to the United States. Revenue from public lands, except such as are reserved for government purposes, are to be used solely for the benefit of the people of the islands. A resident commissioner is to be appointed, who shall have power to veto any act of the existing Government.

Until Congress shall otherwise provide, the Hawaiian Islands both with the United States and foreign governments shall continue. Further immigration of Chinese into the islands is prohibited, and the Chinese in the islands shall not be permitted to come into the present territory of the United States. The public debt of the islands is assumed by the United States, to the extent of $1,200,000. The United States agrees to pay Queen Liliuokalani $20,000 a year during life, and to Princess Kaiulani $150,000.

Under the provisions of the treaty the sugar producers of Hawaii will not participate in the bounty provided by the McKinley law unless Congress extends it to the islands.

PEACE REIGNS AT HAWAII.—THE STEAMSHIP BELGIC BRINGS THE LATEST NEWS FROM THE ISLANDS.

The steamship Belgic arrived at San Francisco from Honolulu on Saturday and reported that the American flag was still flying over the Hawaiian Government buildings, February 10, and that there had been no disturbances. Martial law was declared off by the Hawaiian Provisional Government on February 10, and that the United States warship Boston, from the United States warship Boston, and the United States warship Molekai steamed into the harbor as the Belgic sailed out.

Liliuokalani is still in retirement in her private residence. L. M. Damon, Minister of Finance in the Thurston Cabinet, has been appointed Vice President of the Provisional Government by the Executive and Advisory Councils. He is one of the Commissioners now in Washington.

LILIUOKALANI'S LETTER.—She Wrote Her 'Great and Good Friend' That Nothing He Done Until She is Heard.

The documents laid before the senate at Washington on Hawaiian matters contained the hitherto unpublished protest addressed by the ex-queen to the president, which reads as follows:

His Excellency Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States.

MY GREAT AND GOOD FRIEND—It is with deep regret that I address you on this occasion. Some of my subjects, aided by aliens, have renounced their loyalty and revolted against the constitutional government of my kingdom. They have attempted to depose me and to establish a provisional government, in direct conflict with the organic law of this kingdom, which I recognize as the only and legitimate government of these islands. I have no objection to your recognizing the minister plenipotentiary of the United States, and abetted their unlawful movements and caused United States troops to be landed for that purpose. I submitted to force, believing that he would not have acted in that manner unless by the authority of the government with which he represented. This action on my part was prompted by three reasons: The facility of a conflict with the United States; the desire to avoid violence, bloodshed and the destruction of life and property; and the certainty which I felt that you and your government will right whatever wrongs may have been inflicted upon us in the premises.

This appeal is not made for myself personally, but for my people, who have hitherto enjoyed the friendship and protection of the United States.

My opponents have taken the only vessel which could be obtained here and, hearing of their intention of sending a delegation of the number to present their side of this conflict before you, I requested the favor of sending by the same vessel an envoy to you, to lay before you my statement, as the facts appear to myself and my loyal subjects. This request has been refused, and I now ask that in justice to myself and to my people, no steps be taken by the government of the United States until my cause can be heard by you.

I shall be able to dispatch an envoy about the second day of February, as that will be the first available opportunity here, and he will reach you with every possible haste, in order that there may be no delay in the settlement of this matter.

I pray you, therefore, my good friend, that you will not allow any conclusions to be reached by you until my envoy arrives. I beg to assure you of the continuance of my highest consideration.
