Terrible Headaches

Distressed and Discouraged Health all Broken. Thoroughly Butls

Mrs. Eva Covert Of Bath. N. Y.

"I am glad to have my experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla widely known, because the medicine has done me so much good, I think it will benefit others who are out of health. I was in a very distressing and discouraging condition. I had no appetite whatever; could not sleep well; suffered with excruciating head sches. I felt flad no ambition and seemed all broken down. After I had taken medicine prescribed by two of our best physician; a kind neighbor advised me try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I followed her advice, and the result is, I am perfectly well. I do not have the headaches now, sleep well, that tired feeling is vanished, and I am bright and ambitious. I can eat heartily at every meal, and have gained in weight from 95 to 105 pounds. I do not have any distress in

CURES A PHYSICAL WRECK!

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Gentlemen:-I desire to tell you just how was, so that the public may know of your wonderful Swamp-Hoot. Two years ago last October I had spells of vomiting, I could not keep anything in my stomach; the Doctor said I had consumption of the stomach and bowels; continued to run-down in weight; I was reduced to 60 lbs. I would vomit blood, and at one time as much as three pints; we had two of the best Physicians and they said, my case was hopeless. "Oh, my sufferings were terrible." A neighbor told us of your Swamp-Root, and my husband got a bottle; I took it to please him. I used six bottles of Swamp Root and I am now nearly as well as ever. I weigh 108 the, do my own work and take care of my baby. Every one says, I was raised from the dead, and many will not believe that I am still living until they come and see me, and then they can't believe their own eyes, I am looking so well. Very gratefully.

HENRY T. THURBER.

The Man President Cleveland Chose for

His Private Secretary.

Henry T. Thurber, who accepted the place of private secretary to President Cleveland, is the law partner of Don M. Dickinson, a member of Mr. Cleveland's former Cabinet. He was born in Monroe, Mich., about thirty-eight years ago. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan. Immediately after leaving college Mr. Thurber entered Mr. Dickinson's office at Detroit as a law student. That was eighteen years ago. His progress was rapid, and soon after his admission to the bar he became Mr. Dickin-His Private Secretary.

son's partner. Mr. Thurber's present in-come from his practice is said to be between $10,000 and $15,000 a year.

Mr. Thurber has traveled and studied abroad, and is regarded as among the foremost members of the bar in Detroit. His wife, a daughter of the late General. Hugh Brady, is one of the most popular and accomplished women in Detroit society.

Mr. Thurber made the acquaintance of Mr. Cleveland at Washington while Mr. Dickinson was Postmaster General. The President was very favorably impressed with Mr. Thurber's ability, tact and knowledge of public affairs, and the friendship which was then begun has continued up to the present. The newly appointed private secretary has never held any political office.

EXIT EX-PRESIDENT.

He Turns the White House Over to Baby Ruth, Who Was the First of the Cleveland Family to Take Possession.

Ex-President Benjamin Harrison, after four years' residence in the executive mansion at Washington, on Saturday afternoon turned it over to the people's choice as his successor and at once started westward to his old home in Indianapolis. When Mr. Harrison left the white house

When Mr. Harrison left the white house in the morning to go to the capitol, he was president of the greatest country on the globe. When he returned, several hours later, he was simply a private citizen. Mrs. McKee, his daughter, remained at the executive mansion until President and Mrs. Cleveland returned from the capitol with her distinguished father. In the meantime Col. Lamont, with Baby Ruth and his own children, left the Arlington hotel and came over to the white house. Baby Ruth was introduced to the McKee children and for several hours the little folks romped and several hours the little folks romped and played together.

Mrs. McKee gave a gracious soft bihospitable welcome, and during a gwiddler luncheon spread in the private dining rooms the outgoing mistress of the executive massion outgoing mistress of the executive mansion forms by transferred the keys of the household to her beautiful successor. The expresident. Mr. and Mrs. McKee and their children then took their leave of the president and Mrs. Cleveland and unobserved while the crowds of marchers in the great rarade were passing in review before President Cleveland, went quietly to the residence of ex-Postmaster General Wanamaker. Here they were joined by all the members of the late cabinet, with the ladies of their families. After luncheon at the Wanamakers all the members of his late cabinet accompanied Mr. Harrison to the Pennsylvania station and bade him godspeed on his journey home.

THE LAST CABINET MEETING.

President Harrison Takes Farewell of His Trusted Advisers.

last meeting of President Harrison's Cabinet took place at the usual hourFriday. All of the members were present and at the conclusion of a half hour's conference the President arose and in a few words bade them good bye. He thanked them for the loyal support they had always given him, and attributed much of the success of his administration to their wise counsels, faithful service and devotion to the country's highest good.

-Ar the inauguration of Harrison, when the short-lived reign of the Democrats expired and the Republicans once more came in possession of the government, Mr. Cleve-land sat by Harrison's side in an open carland sat by Harrison's side in an open car-riage as they drove to the capitol and as it rained hard he held an umbrella over his successful rival, while Harrison bowed to the crowd and accepted congratulations on either hand. It must have been hard duty to perform, but if Cleveland could have foreseen the 4th of March, 1893, he would have been consoled. The young wife of the incoming President, who was married in its historic parlors, was standing at a window over the great porch watching her husband enter the carriage with his successor and drive away from the presidency. If her eyes were a little dimmed as they followed him till he was lost in the crowds gathered to greet the new chief of the nation, they are dried to-day, and none, even of those who opposed Cleveland hardest, will grudge the lovely lady the satisfaction of her return to the station she adorned.

-The ceremonies at an inauguration are not so magnificent as those that celebrate a royal coronation. In Europe there is a dim cathedral, lined with soldiers, where a thousand or more privileged personages go thousand or more privileged personages go through their paris in glittering garments like actors in a play, with organs and incense, and pontiffs and processions, and crowns and coronels, anomtings and prostrations, paying homage and receiving fealty; at Washington, in the open air, under God's own sky, a mass of 30,000 or 40,000 citizens, who themselves have made their President, fill up the vast area before the front of the capitol, the simply-clad dignitaries of the nation are grouped in the portico, with only the foreign ministers and here and there a military or naval officer in uniform to break the monotony; the chief justice in his plain black gown acministers the customary eath; the new President addresses a short speech to the people from whom he so lately emerged and to whose ranks he will soon return—and the office that rivals in dignity and importance any held by kaiser or czar—has changed hands. The sternness of the Republican simplicity is more impressive than all the pageantry of courts.

-AT Slovx City a man suffering from delirium tremens and another who had received a concussion of the brain by an accident were mixed at the hospital, and each received the other's treatment. Both died. Pess and Beans.

Although peas were known and used as food many centuries before the birth as food many centuries before the birth of Christ, it is singular that green peas came into use in Western Europe only 200 years ago. Mme. de Maintenon wrote in 1696: "All the talk now is about the new dish—green peas. The impatience for them, the pleasure of eating them, the triumph of finding them so enjoyable, and the joy of anticipating the repetition of the treat are animating points of conversation at any animating points of conversation at our court. And many ladies after going home from a royal feast must have a dish ready to cat at home before lying down."

Beans were in use 2000 years before Christ, but in the Egyptian temples they were under ban. Priests must not eat them or look at the growing plants. They were served at funeral feasts only on the dishes placed before the seats of the lately deceased. Thus a prejudice was created which prevented much use of one of the cheapest and best items of food even in Europe until a late day. We have gained nearly as much by the shaking off of such old fetters as by new discoveries .- Now York Tribune.

A Rider's Experiments.

Experiments with cyclers and carrier pigeons for transmitting messages are being made by the Gymnastic Society of Rome, in the interest of the Italian army. The rider carried a small cage attached to his machine, in which are several well-trained pigeons. When important observations have been taken and jotted down, they are placed in envelopes and affixed to the birds, which are liberated. In every instance thus far the birds have flown promptly and in a straight line back to headquarters. - New York Witness.

Denfness Can't be Cured

By ional applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous tining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this time restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases cut of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

COSTS MORE to make Royal Baking Powder than any other, because its ingredients are more highly refined and expensive. But the Royal is correspondingly purer and higher in leavening strength, and of greater money value to the consumer. The difference in cost of Royal over the best of the others does not equal the difference in leavening strength, nor make good the inferior work of the cheaper powders, nor remove the impurities which such powders leave in the food.

Where the best food is required the Royal Baking Powder only can be used.
