Road and Tax Legislation.

A conference of the friends of the road bills introduced in the senate was held at which it was decided to drop all measures but that presented by Senator Brown, of Westmoreland. This bill is regarded as the best solution of the road question yet submitted and it will be endorsed by the framers of the other measures on this subject which have found their way into the senate chamber. It carries with an appropriation that provides for county and township supervisors and district foremen. It places a poll tax on all male residents over twenty-one years of age and makes corporations liable for the tax of alien employees. It also provides for the completion of the improvement of one-half of the width of the entire length of the road first before work is commenced on the other half. The advocates of this measure recognize the fact that the revenues of the state are not sufficient to secure a large appropriation and are content to get a fair sum. A large number of the rural members propose removing their support from the Niles tax bill, which if it should become a law, they claim will derange the present revenue system and decrease the state revenues, and will support the Burdick bill which taxes the bonded indeptedness as well as the capital stock of corporations. The advocates of this measure say it would provide immediate revenues in conformity with the present tax law.
